7 Cosmonauts Eying Space Platform Work

Everything Normal Aboard Three Ships

MOSCOW (AP) — Two veteran Soviet cosmonauts blasted into space today to chase five of their orbiting comrades in what may turn out to be the most complex earth-orbit mission yet.

Tass news agency said all seven cosmonauts feel fine and that equipment aboard the three Soyuz-Union-spacecraft is working normally.

Soyuz 7 and Soyuz 8 were expected to dock soon while Soyuz 6 maneuvers around them. The mission is a step toward construction of an orbital space station or platform.

Cosmonauts Vladimir Shatalov and Alexei Yeliseyev, veteran of a Soviet manned space shot nine months ago, rode Soyuz 8 from the central Asian Baikonur launchpad into orbit today.

Aloft, waiting for them, were Georgy Shonin and Valery Kubasov in Soyuz 6, launched Saturday; and Anatoly Filipchenko, Vladislav Volkov and Viktor Gorbatko, put into orbit Sunday.

Official announcements indicated today's launching was the last planned experiment. How much of the equipment will be left behind in space after the tour is completed remains a mystery.

Each Soyuz spacecraft is believed capable of carrying four men, allowing for the possibility that one ship could be left in orbit while four men return to earth in one craft and three in the other.

The Soviet Union has not produced a major first in manned space flight since Alexei Leonov took the first space walk in March 1965. The United States does not plan to put up an orbiting platform until mid-1972.

Shatalov and Yeliseyev took part in the Soviet Union's last manned space mission nine months ago in which a crew transferred from one ship to another for the first time.

Despite the widespread expectation of space platform activity, Tass, the Soviet news agency, made no mention of this today in describing the mission of the group flight.

Technical Tasks

It said a "number of important scientific-technical tasks will be carried out," including "comprehensive simultaneous scientific students in near-terrestrial space in accordance with an extensive program; testing of the complex system of controlling a simultaneous group flight of three space ships; mutual maneuvering of ships on orbits with the aim of solving a number of problems of developing the piloted space system.

"The planned program of scientific-technical experiments and studies will produce new information about near-terrestrial space and will facilitate the perfection of space technique and its utilization for scientific and economic purposes."

An official report today said all systems were normal aboard Soyuz 8, which was entering its third day in orbit and aboard Soyuz 7, entering its second day.

Stars Used As Guide

Tass said the men on Soyuz 6 today practiced "visual astro-orientation by stars of the fourth and fifth magnitude, which makes it possible to determine the exact position of the ship during space flight without the use of ground equipment."

It said the Soyuz 7 crew "observed and photographed the surface of the earth, the day and twilight horizons and also practiced methods of autonomous navigation."

Tass also announced that by 3:30 a.m. EDT Soyuz 6 had completed 30 orbits and Soyuz 7 had made 14.

State Moratorium Rites Vary In Type

By The Associated Press

Michigan observances of Wednesday's Vietnam War Moratorium will feature such diverse advocates as Dearborn's conservative Mayor Orville Hubbard to University of Michigan hippies.

In between will be young and old persons representing all shades of opinion on many subjects, but generally united on Vietnam: they want to end the war.

Dearborn's Mayor Hubbard will speak at a special afternoon rally on the steps of City Hall. He has been an outspoken critic of the war and has led the residents in mourning each of the 52 young Dearborn men who have died in Vietnam.

All flags in the city will be lowered to half-staff and members of the Rouge Valley branch of the Women's International League for Peace will read the names of Dearborn's war dead during a memorial service.

In Ann Arbor, sponsors of the state's most spectacular antiwar effort are expecting a large crowd at the University of Michigan stadium — some say 25,000 and others up to 50,000.

The rally at the stadium will follow picketing at Ann Arbor draft boards, recruiting offices and Reserve Officers Training Corps (ROTC) facilities.

U—M will not close for the moratorium, but officials have encouraged participation.

Eastern Michigan University at Ypsilanti apparently will be the only college ceasing operations for the moratorium. Advocates have proposed that classes between 2 and 4 p.m. Wednesday be called off, and the administration is expected to approve the plan.

War Dead Roll Call

At Central Michigan, Northern Michigan and others, names of Michigan's nearly 1,900 war dead will be read aloud at services. Some students at Northern also will fast for the day, and money normally spent will be donated to charity.

Memorial and protest marches are scheduled for Detroit, Pontiac, Birmingham and Port Huron while rallies are planned for Battle Creek, East Lansing, Kalamazoo and others.

The Livonia school district has agreed to allow pupils to leave classes to attend local observances, providing they have parental permission. A school official said this permission will be granted only in exceptional cases where both parents and students feel strongly about the war.

Demonstrators Confront MPs Near Fort Dix

FT. DIX, N.J. (AP) — Some 5,000 demonstrators against the Vietnam war, Army justice and the treatment of racial militants swarmed on this post Sunday in a confrontation with 1,000 military policemen.

The impromptu invasion was finally repulsed with jets of tear gas which drove the racially mixed group, many coughing and wheezing, off a field near the base family housing area.

There were no arrests and, except for the effects of the gas, no reported injuries.

"We have made our point," Herb Dryer, a demonstration leader, shouted through a bullhorn to the retreating crowd.

The demonstration brought together members of such varied organizations as the Catholic Peace Fellowship, the Black Panther party, the Puerto Rican Young Lords and students from Princeton, Columbia, New York and other universities in the area.

The demonstration was organized at a coffee house in nearby Wrightstown which has served as a meeting place for dissident Ft. Dix personnel.

The protesters marched to Ft. Dix under the banner of the "Committee to Save the Ft. Dix 38"—reference to a group of servicemen accused of fomenting a riot while imprisoned in the base stockade last June.

While military police barricaded road entrances to the base, the demonstrators, mostly young and including a number of helmeted young women, veered off the highway into the empty field.

Dissent Not Helping To End War: Nixon

Moratorium Plans Hurting Peace Talks

President Richard Nixon

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, facing a new wave of protests breaking across the nation, says chances of a quick negotiated Vietnam peace have been shattered by the noise of dissent.

"There is so much dissent here, and there are so many voices being heard that I think they, the North Vietnamese, must have the feeling that the President doesn't have the amount of support necessary to carry on for a long time," Secretary of State William P. Rogers said Sunday.

"There hasn't been any progress in Paris for the last two or three months," he said, "and I would doubt very much that there would be any progress unless it is clear that President Nixon's policy is supported by the American people."

This apparent disunity, Rogers said, all but rules out "any possibility of a negotiated settlement, at least for two months."

Rogers' somber assessment of domestic dissent came three days before antiwar forces open a series of demonstrations described by organizers as a moratorium on routine life designed to show the nation's concern with the war.

There were challenges to Rogers' position from moratorium leaders, politicians of both parties and educators.

"For years we've heard the repetition of this same old fallow argument," Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, said Sunday. "You must not speak up, even though you are a free people, because somehow this will not set well somewhere else and upset the President's plans."

Rogers was interviewed on NBC's "Meet the Press," while Church spoke on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Protest Plans Disputed

Sam Brown, leader of Wednesday's moratorium movement, disputed that the protests are aimed at destroying President Nixon or any other person.

"I think Vietnam is probably the most calamitous mistake that has ever been made in the diplomatic history of the United States and if this war persists, it will also destroy President Nixon, but that won't be the work of the dissenters," Brown said.

He was interviewed on the CBS program, "Face the Nation."

Another key political dissenter, Sen. Charles Goodell, R-N.Y., said "the purpose of our dissent is constructive."

Goodell also made his statements on ABC's "Issues and Answers."

Although President Nixon has said he will not be affected by the moratorium, some of his officials have indicated support for the movement.

Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton, the Republican National Committee chairman, has endorsed the concept of the student-originated protest—a series of rallies, leafletering, and discussions — if there is no violence.

Faverable Words

Even Secretary Rogers had some favorable, if highly qualified, words to say.

"If the spirit of the moratorium is to be constructive and to help the President and assist the country in this difficult period, that's fine," Rogers said.

"If, on the other hand, the spirit is 'You accept our decision, Mr. President, or else,' if it's coercive, then it could be very disruptive."

Other and more expected support came from New York Mayor John V. Lindsay, a constant critic of the war. He asked all New Yorkers to meditate on the war "in which we are all participants. and in which we are all victims."

Protest leader Brown said Nixon, in spite of his statement, "is paying a great deal of attention" to the moratorium.

Washington Scene Of Political Jitters

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is beginning what could be its most fateful week to date among increasing signs the whole capital is losing its political cool.

Among the signs of political jitters:

—The administration's Supreme Court nomination is being managed in the Senate partly by a John F. Kennedy Democrat who is working just as hard to criticize the President as he was to boost the nominee.

President Target

—President Nixon, who already has withdrawn some 60,000 troops from Vietnam, will be the target of a nationwide demonstration Wednesday against his war policies.

—Nixon is studiously carrying out his promise to ignore the growing clamor of dissent against his war policies. He said at his news conference Sept. 26: "... under no circumstances will I be affected whatever by it." Yet, he has called back his chief negotiators at the Paris peace talks for consultations on the eve of Wednesday's demonstrations, and Rep. Rogers Morton, GOP national chairman, has endorsed the war moratorium.

Hershey Fired

—Without mentioning the war, Nixon has fired Selective Service chief Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the target of criticism from many Vietnam protesters.

—Unemployment is up, inflation continues. At least one noted economist has suggested the Nixon administration may be creating something new—a combination of an intolerable level of unemployment with an intolerable level of inflation.

Of all the administration's current problems, however, most bizarre is its embattled nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

The Democratic senator who has been playing a key role in backing the nomination is Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina, whose defeat for re-election was urged by Nixon last fall.

Cook Staunch Backer

"Hell, I don't want anything to do with that crowd," the 47-year-old Hollings drawled to newsmen last week with an airy wave toward the White House.

One of the key Republican senators behind Haynsworth is Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky, a moderate who has only 10 months in the Senate.

"I have no idea who's in charge of the campaign," said Cook last week without so much as a flicker of a smile.

Lake Superior Copper Sought By Quincy Co.

HANCOCK (AP)—A new lode recently discovered underwater in Lake Superior off Eagle Harbor may be opened soon by the Quincy Mining Co. of Hancock.

John Foley, consultant for Copper Industries Development Corp., said he has filed a request with the Department of Natural Resources for Quincy to obtain exclusive mining rights in the vicinity of Eagle Harbor, a small town located near the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula in Upper Michigan.

Mining Request Made

If the request to mine on state lands under Lake Superior is approved, work on the site could begin this fall, company officials said.

Foley said the copper is in a fissure vein, somewhat similar to the old Central Mine which produced millions of dollars in copper before the turn of the century.

Found By Skin Divers

The new lode was found by skin divers in 20 feet of water about one-quarter mile off shore in the Eagle Harbor area. The outcropping of copper is estimated to be 72 feet long underwater.

Quincy Mining Co. would sink a shaft from the land and then possibly work the lode under Lake Superior.

Quincy operates a smelter at Ripley. The company retains a vast copper tract on top of Quincy Hill near Hancock.

Germany Cheers U.S. Astronauts

BERLIN (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts came to West Berlin to the cheers of thousands today and visited the Communist wall.

Outside City Hall in John F. Kennedy Square, they were greeted by 20,000 persons. Police said 120,000-150,000 more lined the city's streets to cheer them.

Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and their wives flew from the West German capital at Bonn to join their crewman Michael Collins, who arrived a few minutes earlier from Genoa where he had accepted Columbus Day awards for them.

The Apollo 11 crew is on an around the world tour that next takes them to London.

Education Reform Faces Contrasting Receptions

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William G. Milliken's education reform legislation, making its first formal appearance this week, faces contrasting receptions when introduced in the House and Senate.

The Senate meets tonight at 8 o'clock for the formal introduction by Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R - St. Louis, of the two resolutions and some 11 bills.

House Cancels Out

But the House, where Democrats are in control, voted Thursday not to meet at all this week. Instead, identical bills, introduced for the governor by minority Republicans, simply will be filed with House Clerk T. Thomas Thatcher.

Legislative committees promptly will pick apart the proposals that took months to define. The reassembly will take years and an election campaign to finish. No one predicts now how much the final product will resemble Milliken's model.

Resolutions Noted

One of the brief resolutions calls for elimination of the State Board of Education and its replacement by an education department director appointed by the governor.

The other proposes a statewide, 16-mill property tax which communities would collect but forward to Lansing. Budget experts estimate it would provide $640 million in education revenue based on projected property evaluation.

Both resolutions require changes in the State Constitution. Voters would have to decide at next November's general election whether they want to do that, but only if the Legislature approves the issues by two-thirds majorities in the House and Senate.

One bill details Milliken's proposed, billion - dollar schools budget for next year. It asks a $183 - million increase beyond the $848.6 million voted this year and contains a $25 - million parochiaid section.

Passage Easy Task

Legislators from both sides of the aisle have said the school aid bill would be the easiest to pass. If so, it would go a long way to clearing next year's calendar for an earlier start on serious campaigning.

At the same time, however, legislators say there's no hurry to start on it. The parochiaid chapter is one reason why.

Tax measures are detailed in two bills: one calls for a five-cent increase in the state cigarette tax— now seven cents; another would eliminate the deduction property owners and apartment renters are allowed on the state income tax. Eliminating the deduction would save the state $116 million in taxes on next year's earnings, collectable in April, 1971.

No Income Tax Hike

Milliken's plan did not call for an increase in state income taxes, but gave specific increases the governor said "there would have to be ... to make up the revenue loss."

Separate bills detail Milliken's plan for shaking up the state's educational structure. Some 60 intermediate districts would be consolidated into 10 or 15 regions. It also sets up a timetable for a boundary commission to

Chassell Man, 68, Victim Of Fire

CHASSELL (AP) — A 68-year-old man burned to death early Sunday in his trailer home on the Lower Pike River near Chassell. The victim was Albert N. Sauvola, police said.

A neighbor saw the flames from the trailer and notified Chassell firemen who were unable to respond before the trailer was nearly gutted.

Youth Killed

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Hal Grindstaff, 20, of Edwardsburg, Mich., was one of three youths killed Sunday when a speeding car missed a curve on an Elkhart street and hit a tree.

The other victims were David Price and Wayne Dixon, both 24 and of Elkhart.

Pulaski Parade

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Polish community paraded through wet and chilly downtown streets Sunday to honor Casmir Pulaski, a Revolutionary War general who was mortally wounded Oct. 11, 1779. A wreath-laying ceremony was held at the statue of Pulaski on Washington Blvd.

Turner Called In Graft Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's wide-ranging probe into military graft turned again today to Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, the Army's former provost marshal charged with using his position to improperly obtain confiscated guns from civilian police departments.

Along with Turner, the Senate investigations subcommittee scheduled testimony from Chicago Police Supt. James Conlisk, who said last week the retired general had lied when claiming the guns were knowingly given to him for his personal use.

Conlisk had said Turner told him at the time he wanted the weapons for Army training and museum display and signed receipts stating they would be destroyed when no longer of use to the service.

Conlisk's remarks followed earlier testimony by Turner that Chicago Police knowingly handed the guns over to him.

"... They were going to destroy them and they gave them to me personally," Turner told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Turner, who was appointed chief U.S. Marshal before he was forced to resign last month in the face of the impending Senate hearings, went to Chicago last year to represent the Army chief of staff during sitting.

Education For All, Milliken's Chief Target

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Gov. William Milliken's education reforms aim to give a black child from the Detroit ghetto or an Upper Peninsula farm child the same chance to learn as a college - bound white suburbanite from Birmingham.

"Our purpose is not to centralize, not to standardize textbooks, not to dictate curricula, not to impose a schedule of teacher salaries on school boards," Milliken said in a speech Sunday to the Technion Society's annual meeting at Congregation Shaary Zedek in this Detroit suburb.

Describing his own hopes for the education reform proposals being introduced today in the Michigan Legislature, Milliken said:

"Our purpose is to see that the poor as well as the rich, the black as well as the white, the bright as well as the dull all have an equal chance to learn to the best of their potential, regardless of where they live or how much money their parents earn.

"Perhaps that sounds hopelessly idealistic," Milliken said, "but idealism should be the hallmarks of our efforts.

"My own view is that in order to produce a healthy society, a nation must ... give its youth the technical capacity to earn a livelihood and the foundation in human values essential to their happiness."

Alluding to his own education a Yale University, Milliken admitted "if asked to design an electrical circuit, I might very well electrocute myself or someone else. Yet I understand that these circuits must be designed.

"The principle of man's brotherhood is one of the many truths which our schools should help implant in your minds," Milliken said. "And yet, sometimes I fear that the schools are failing in this."

—The administration's Supreme Court nomination is being managed in the Senate partly by a John F. Kennedy Democrat who is working just as hard to criticize the President as he was to boost the nominee.

President Target

—President Nixon, who already has withdrawn some 60,000 troops from Vietnam, will be the target of a nationwide demonstration Wednesday against his war policies.

—Nixon is studiously carrying out his promise to ignore the growing clamor of dissent against his war policies. He said at his news conference Sept. 26: "... under no circumstances will I be affected whatever by it." Yet, he has called back his chief negotiators at the Paris peace talks for consultations on the eve of Wednesday's demonstrations, and Rep. Rogers Morton, GOP national chairman, has endorsed the war moratorium.

Hershey Fired

—Without mentioning the war, Nixon has fired Selective Service chief Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, the target of criticism from many Vietnam protesters.

—Unemployment is up, inflation continues. At least one noted economist has suggested the Nixon administration may be creating something new—a combination of an intolerable level of unemployment with an intolerable level of inflation.

Of all the administration's current problems, however, most bizarre is its embattled nomination of Judge Clement F. Haynsworth to the Supreme Court.

The Democratic senator who has been playing a key role in backing the nomination is Ernest F. Hollings of South Carolina, whose defeat for re-election was urged by Nixon last fall.

Cook Staunch Backer

"Hell, I don't want anything to do with that crowd," the 47-year-old Hollings drawled to newsmen last week with an airy wave toward the White House.

One of the key Republican senators behind Haynsworth is Marlow W. Cook of Kentucky, a moderate who has only 10 months in the Senate.

"I have no idea who's in charge of the campaign," said Cook last week without so much as a flicker of a smile.

Lake Superior Copper Sought By Quincy Co.

HANCOCK (AP)—A new lode recently discovered underwater in Lake Superior off Eagle Harbor may be opened soon by the Quincy Mining Co. of Hancock.

John Foley, consultant for Copper Industries Development Corp., said he has filed a request with the Department of Natural Resources for Quincy to obtain exclusive mining rights in the vicinity of Eagle Harbor, a small town located near the tip of the Keweenaw Peninsula in Upper Michigan.

Mining Request Made

If the request to mine on state lands under Lake Superior is approved, work on the site could begin this fall, company officials said.

Foley said the copper is in a fissure vein, somewhat similar to the old Central Mine which produced millions of dollars in copper before the turn of the century.

Found By Skin Divers

The new lode was found by skin divers in 20 feet of water about one-quarter mile off shore in the Eagle Harbor area. The outcropping of copper is estimated to be 72 feet long underwater.

Quincy Mining Co. would sink a shaft from the land and then possibly work the lode under Lake Superior.

Quincy operates a smelter at Ripley. The company retains a vast copper tract on top of Quincy Hill near Hancock.

Germany Cheers U.S. Astronauts

BERLIN (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts came to West Berlin to the cheers of thousands today and visited the Communist wall.

Outside City Hall in John F. Kennedy Square, they were greeted by 20,000 persons. Police said 120,000-150,000 more lined the city's streets to cheer them.

Neil A. Armstrong and Edwin E. Aldrin Jr., and their wives flew from the West German capital at Bonn to join their crewman Michael Collins, who arrived a few minutes earlier from Genoa where he had accepted Columbus Day awards for them.

The Apollo 11 crew is on an around the world tour that next takes them to London.

Education Reform Faces Contrasting Receptions

LANSING (AP) — Gov. William G. Milliken's education reform legislation, making its first formal appearance this week, faces contrasting receptions when introduced in the House and Senate.

The Senate meets tonight at 8 o'clock for the formal introduction by Majority Leader Emil Lockwood, R - St. Louis, of the two resolutions and some 11 bills.

House Cancels Out

But the House, where Democrats are in control, voted Thursday not to meet at all this week. Instead, identical bills, introduced for the governor by minority Republicans, simply will be filed with House Clerk T. Thomas Thatcher.

Legislative committees promptly will pick apart the proposals that took months to define. The reassembly will take years and an election campaign to finish. No one predicts now how much the final product will resemble Milliken's model.

Resolutions Noted

One of the brief resolutions calls for elimination of the State Board of Education and its replacement by an education department director appointed by the governor.

The other proposes a statewide, 16-mill property tax which communities would collect but forward to Lansing. Budget experts estimate it would provide $640 million in education revenue based on projected property evaluation.

Both resolutions require changes in the State Constitution. Voters would have to decide at next November's general election whether they want to do that, but only if the Legislature approves the issues by two-thirds majorities in the House and Senate.

One bill details Milliken's proposed, billion - dollar schools budget for next year. It asks a $183 - million increase beyond the $848.6 million voted this year and contains a $95 - million parochiaid section.

Passage Easy Task

Legislators from both sides of the aisle have said the school aid bill would be the easiest to pass. If so, it would go a long way to clearing next year's calendar for an earlier start on serious campaigning.

At the same time, however, legislators say there's no hurry to start on it. The parochiaid chapter is one reason why.

Tax measures are detailed in two bills: one calls for a five-cent increase in the state cigarette tax— now seven cents; another would eliminate the deduction property owners and apartment renters are allowed on the state income tax. Eliminating the deduction would save the state $116 million in taxes on next year's earnings, collectable in April, 1971.

No Income Tax Hike

Milliken's plan did not call for an increase in state income taxes, but gave specific increases the governor said "there would have to be ... to make up the revenue loss."

Separate bills detail Milliken's plan for shaking up the state's educational structure. Some 60 intermediate districts would be consolidated into 10 or 15 regions. It also sets up a timetable for a boundary commission to

Chassell Man, 68, Victim Of Fire

CHASSELL (AP) — A 68-year-old man burned to death early Sunday in his trailer home on the Lower Pike River near Chassell. The victim was Albert N. Sauvola, police said.

A neighbor saw the flames from the trailer and notified Chassell firemen who were unable to respond before the trailer was nearly gutted.

Youth Killed

ELKHART, Ind. (AP) — Hal Grindstaff, 20, of Edwardsburg, Mich., was one of three youths killed Sunday when a speeding car missed a curve on an Elkhart street and hit a tree.

The other victims were David Price and Wayne Dixon, both 24 and of Elkhart.

Pulaski Parade

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's Polish community paraded through wet and chilly downtown streets Sunday to honor Casmir Pulaski, a Revolutionary War general who was mortally wounded Oct. 11, 1779. A wreath-laying ceremony was held at the statue of Pulaski on Washington Blvd.

Turner Called In Graft Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate's wide-ranging probe into military graft turned again today to Maj. Gen. Carl C. Turner, the Army's former provost marshal charged with using his position to improperly obtain confiscated guns from civilian police departments.

Along with Turner, the Senate investigations subcommittee scheduled testimony from Chicago Police Supt. James Conlisk, who said last week the retired general had lied when claiming the guns were knowingly given to him for his personal use.

Conlisk had said Turner told him at the time he wanted the weapons for Army training and museum display and signed receipts stating they would be destroyed when no longer of use to the service.

Conlisk's remarks followed earlier testimony by Turner that Chicago Police knowingly handed the guns over to him.

"... They were going to destroy them and they gave them to me personally," Turner told the subcommittee headed by Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

Turner, who was appointed chief U.S. Marshal before he was forced to resign last month in the face of the impending Senate hearings, went to Chicago last year to represent the Army chief of staff during rioting.

Education For All, Milliken's Chief Target

SOUTHFIELD (AP) — Gov. William Milliken's education reforms aim to give a black child from the Detroit ghetto or an Upper Peninsula farm child the same chance to learn as a college - bound white suburbanite from Birmingham.

"Our purpose is not to centralize, not to standardize textbooks, not to dictate curricula, not to impose a schedule of teacher salaries on school boards," Milliken said in a speech Sunday to the Technion Society's annual meeting at Congregation Shaary Zedek in this Detroit suburb.

Describing his own hopes for the education reform proposals being introduced today in the Michigan Legislature, Milliken said:

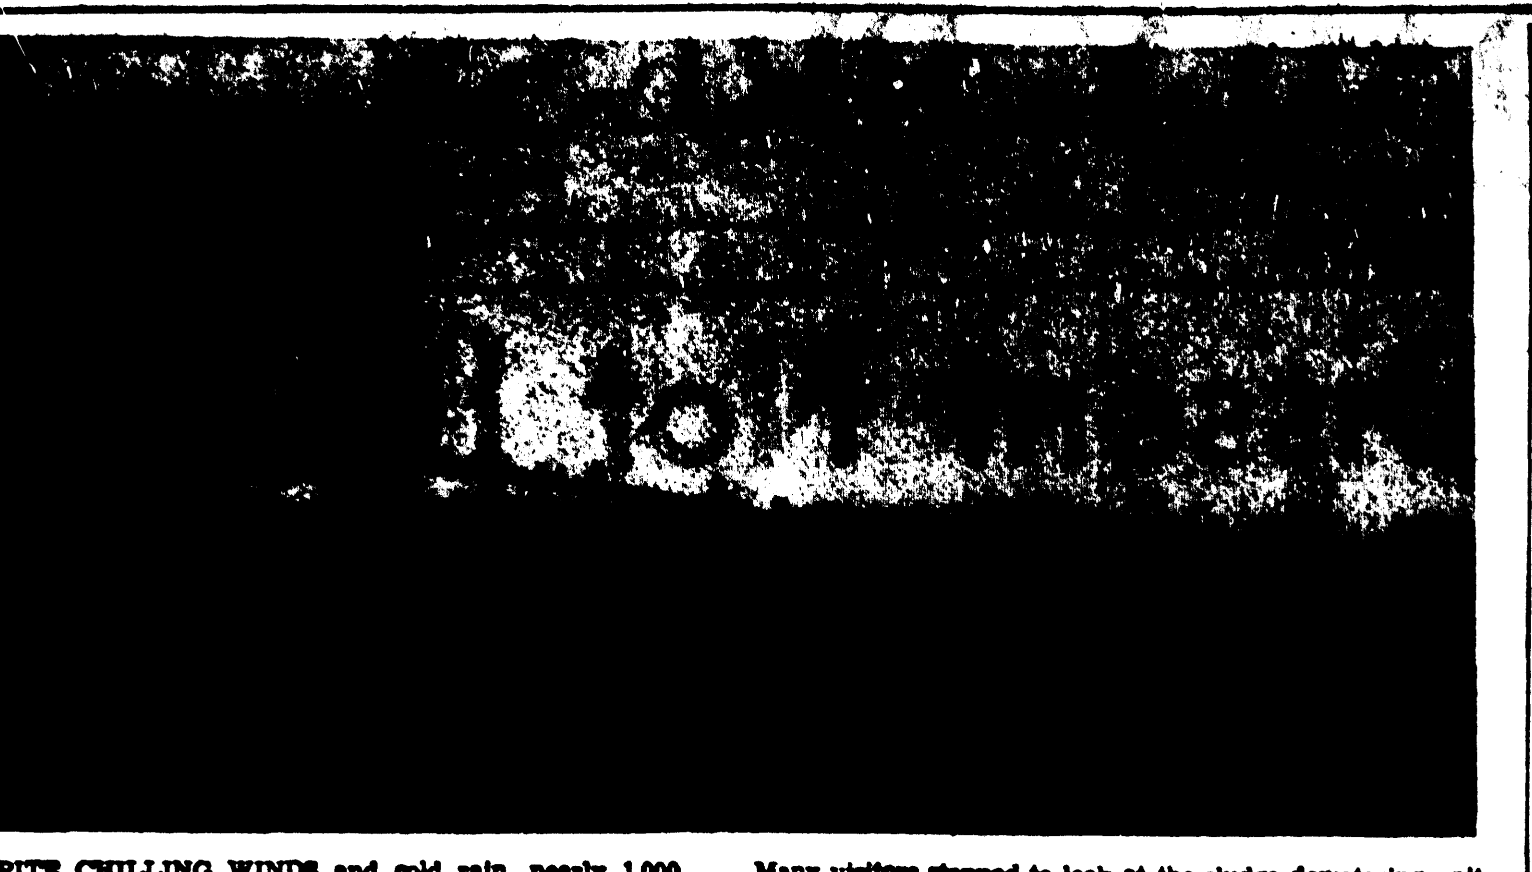
"Our purpose is to see that the poor as well as the rich, the black as well as the white, the bright as well as the dull all have an equal chance to learn to the best of their potential, regardless of where they live or how much money their parents earn.

"Perhaps that sounds hopelessly idealistic," Milliken said, "but idealism should be the hallmarks of our efforts.

"My own view is that in order to produce a healthy society, a nation must ... give its youth the technical capacity to earn a livelihood and the foundation in human values essential to their happiness."

Alluding to his own education a Yale University, Milliken admitted "if asked to design an electrical circuit, I might very well electrocute myself or someone else. Yet I understand that these circuits must be designed.

"The principle of men's brotherhood is one of the many truths which our schools should help implant in your minds," Milliken said. "And yet, somehow I fear that the schools are failing in this."



DESPITE CHILLING WINDS and cold rain, nearly 1,000 cars drove through the Escanaba Paper Co. yard Sunday to take a look at the company's $2 million waste water treatment plant on the hill behind the mill's main buildings. Many visitors stopped to look at the sludge dewatering unit, the building at left, which adjoins a 180-foot diameter clarifier. (Daily Press photo)

Mead Projects $6 Million More

Treatment Plant To Expand

Mead Corp. disclosed Sunday as it put its new, $2 million waste water treatment system on public display that it plans to spend another $6 million on water treatment facilities to keep pace with growth planned at its Escanaba division paper mill.

Nearly 1,000 cars drove through the Escanaba Paper Co. yard to take a look at the system which includes both primary and secondary treatment of waste water from the mill.

Most of the traffic came late in the afternoon, after the end of the World Series baseball and Green Bay-Detroit football telecasts, although mill officials said a "steady stream" of cars began passing through the area even before the scheduled one o'clock start of the open house.

Future Expansion

A brochure published by Mead and distributed to visitors asserted that "Escanaba is beautiful country" and Mead is "exerting every effort to preserve the area's natural resources, including Escanaba's waterways. We believe this is proper and in keeping with Mead's vital and continuing role as a corporate citizen . . ."

"Waste treatment facilities now in operation were built at a cost of over $2 million. We estimate future expenditures of more than $6 million for system enlargement to accommodate waste from the new pulp mill and fourth paper machine."

The system is the largest paper mill effluent treatment system in the middle west.

Water taken from the Escanaba River and used in the paper making process is screened, then pumped to a 180-foot diameter clarifier where smaller solid particles are removed through a settling process.

Solids Settle

"Solids settling out in the clarifier are thickened in the bottom and then pumped to a sludge pit," the company said. "Agitation is provided to insure uniformity in the pit withdrawal through a flow meter to the centrifuge. Centrate is recycled back to the clarifier influent while the dewatered sludge (cake) is discharged into a truck. This material is then hauled to a landfill area."

Secondary treatment is provided in the lagoon, 30 acres of area 14 feet deep, where four 60 horsepower, turbine type aerators churn the surface to the froth, returning oxygen to the water before it is discharged back into the river. The water also is chemically treated in the process.

Joseph Bal, engineer of the Michigan Water Resources Commission, said the treatment plant would meet all requirements of the commission for water purity and that since these requirements are based on low river flow periods "90 per cent of the time the water quality is going to be better than the standards, because there is going to be more water in the river than the low flow."

Before the new system was started up last month, wastes from the paper mill were discharged into the Escanaba River, causing pollution below the mill.

Art Fair Next On Schedule

Encouraged by the large crowd attracted to its Art Exhibit at the Medicenter, the [illegible] Art Association is scheduling an outdoor Art Fair at the Farmers Market on Sunday, Oct. 19.

At the Medicenter on Sunday more than 60 paintings and drawings were on view. The showing will conitnue until Oct. 25.

Ballots will be available through Wednesday, Oct. 22, for use in selecting "The People's Choice."

The plans for the Art Fair at the Farmers Market next Sunday were completed under the direction of Mrs. Mike Youngs. Since the exhibit will be outdoors, the date has been set on a "weather permitting" basis.

The Art Association met Sunday afternoon at the Medicenter with Joe Hebert, who presented material on printing, and answered questions about preparing drawings for the Escanaba city calender.

Mrs. Joseph Vogt, Mrs. Robert Ryde and Mrs. Arthur Pope were appointed as a program committee to plan for the next Art Association meeting to be held Nov. 9.

Apartment Fire Kills Eight In LA

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "People were pounding on the windows trying to get out," said Luis Zuleta, one of the survivors of an apartment house fire which killed eight persons and injured seven.

Thirty others escaped from the 3-story, 24-unit building west of downtown Sunday leaping from windows onto mattresses and climbing down firemen's ladders.

Authorities said the fire may have been deliberately set.

Two families of three perished. Seven of the dead were trapped by the smoke and heat.

Three Accidents Caused By Deer

Stray deer were responsible for three more accidents over the weekend on Delta County roads bringing the car-deer collision total to six for the past three days and 193 for the year.

According to State Police, an auto driven by Lester Reynolds, 22, Cottage Hill, Ill., collided with a deer on M-35 in Baldwin Township resulting in heavy damage to his car. Reynolds escaped injury.

A second crash was reported to troopers when Denis Helgemo, 22, 1311 Delta Ave., Gladstone, struck a deer on US-2 near the Escanaba River. Helgemo was uninjured.

James Seger, 29, Rte. 1, Rock, escaped injury when he sturck and killed a deer on County Rd. H-56 in Baldwin Township. Seger's auto had to be towed from the scene of the collision, troopers reported.

Olivet College Given Records By Panax Corp.

OLIVET — Panax Corp., publisher of three Upper Peninsula newspapers, the Escanaba Daily Press, the Iron Mountain News, and the Marquette Mining Juornal, has given Olivet College a record collection valued at upwards of $2,500 from the library of its newly located subsidiary FM Radio Station WSWM, in East Lansing.

The new building, housing both corporate offices and the station, called for a revision of its record library to put greater emphasis on contemporary music.

The gift of nearly 550 records includes complete operas, scores of classical recordings, many on drama, others on Broadway and Hollywood show music as well as current "pop." The collection will be used variously on campus, including by the college-owned and operated radio station WBSD.

RECREATIONAL HOUSING is entering a new era in the Upper Peninsula and nowhere more spectacularly than in Gogebic County with its great ski resort developments like Indianhead Mountain, Powderhorn and the new Copper Peak Ski Flying Hill. Around these installations the ski lodges and chalets are erupting like mushrooms to provide housing for winter's children when they aren't on the ski slopes. Invest Tour Focuses On U.P. Recreation

By JEAN WORTH
Of Panax Newspapers

The Upper Peninsula tried to hurry up investment in its recreational business with an Invest Tour to which it invited investors, investment counselors and officials of government lending agencies.

The Upper Michigan Tourist Association and Operation Action-U.P., which sponsored the tour, seem pdeased with the results of their efforts, which consisted of two dinner sessions, a day of aerial tours east, west and south in the Peninsula and a meeting for major landowners to consider the potential of their industrial holdings for recreational enterprises.

The tour may have increased interest in the Upper Peninsula as a place to invest, but its greatest benefit may prove to be the counsel which the investors brought to this area.

There was optimistic talk of immediate results from the tour as the interest that it created was translated into business investments, But as W. H. Treloar, coordinator, said, the tour was not designed as a hard sell effort with commitment cards passed around before the guests went home.

Show U.P. Assets

Sponsors wanted to show persons seeking business opportunities what the Upper Peninsula has to offer the Midwest, Prof. Louis F. Twardzik of Michigan State University said that what the U.P. offers is a rural value that increases yearly as the nation becomes more urbanized and industrialized. The U.P. has a commodity disappearing elsewhere, he said.

This outlook is generally shared in the Upper Peninsula as it looks to a future in the recreational business that has been slow in arriving, and a top value of the Invest Tour was in its talks on the mechanics of translating this appeal into a business. It was everywhere evident that community and area plans for tourism developments no longer count on little "mom and pop" enterprises to halt the tourists and process them through the cash registers of local recreational businesses.

At Ironwood, at Menominee and the Sault and elsewhere the feasibility studies for development projects stated that there is already sufficient tourist flow to warrant large investments in recreational ventures. Even conservative projections of increases in this traffic means that the tourists will be passing in sufficient numbers to retire revenue bonds financing ski resorts, memorial marinas, mine restorations, historic site developments and other projects planned in the Upper Peninsula.

Focus On Change

Project planners were warned by bankers and by government development and lending officials that there's apt to be quite a bit of "blue sky" optimism in such studies, but the conviction seemed to prevail that the Upper Peninsula is on the threshold of change. It was the nature of this change to which the Invest Tour devoted much of ts attention.

When the placement officer for a large national motel-restaurant organization was asked if his industry was concerned about the national trend toward camping, he said no, that it is a wholesome phase of the growing recreational business.

"Do you know," he asked "that the Holiday Inn people are planning to go into the campground business? They are going to call it 'Holiday Out' and they're counting upon the appeal of a privately-owned campground to do a lot of business with people who are weary of trying to get into overcrowded public campgrounds and who will welcome the opportunity to make a reservation in a private campground."

Plans Developed

B. M. Conboy, head of the Michigan State Office of Economic Expansion, saw great development in recent years in Upper Peninsula communities' ability to develop plans for large projects and their willingness to venture in them. Examples are Gogebic's Copper Peak Ski Flying Hill, Le Sault de Sainte Marie Historical Sites, Inc., Menominee's Great Lakes Memorial Park, Hancock's Quincy Mine Hoist and other projects.

All these projects have a price tag of at least a million dollars on them and most of them are long range, phased programs which will cost millions. Financing in these figures is no longer a bogeyman for Upper Peninsula communities, but it is obvious that they plan to use not only local bank and investment resources, but also outside investment and government aids.

The Upper Peninsula's lack of large cities has been an influence in retarding recreational development, because the capital formation to finance large projects has been lacking locally. It is notable that the boldest planning now underway in the Upper Peninsula is in its larger communities.

Menominee Moves

Some of those which are doing the best planning — like Sault Ste. Marie and Ironwood — are doing it under the compulsion of economic change like the expiration of old industries and the closing of mines, but Menominee has the most bouyant industrial economy in the Upper Peninsula and it is coming up with an imaginative plan for a tourist attraction.

Lacking Gogebic's hills and snowfall and the Sault's rich historical background, it is using its waterfront as a setting for a scale model of the Great Lakes, a marine chapel, a museum of the lakes and a display of an old schooner. The city council has created an authority to proceed with the venture. Price tag: $2 million. (The Michigan Waterways Commission has already given Menominee more than $300,000 to help finance development of its marina as a first step in the project.)

The Upper Peninsula has actually moved into the new era of larger establishments and all-year operations already. The Silver Dome Resort at Marinette, Wis., draws heavily from Wisconsin for year-around business and the Holiday Inn in Marquette, where the Invest Tour headquartered, is an example of the kind of inn that developers and investors have in mind for other large cities of the Upper Peninsula.

Costly Projects

Such establishments cost so much money that they must have a substantial rate of occupancy throughout most of the year. This means convention business and other off-summer-season trade that the Invest Tour members said is now available to the Upper Peninsula if it provides resort type inns of sufficient size and containing enough attractions like pools, bars, restaurants, entertainment, etc.

The problem of resort seasonality which the Upper Peninsula has previously regarded as insuperable can now be overcome and the sooner there are more attractions and more large-size plush accommodations in the U.P., the sooner it will be overcome, the Invest Tour sessions stressed.

Inquest Needed

The strange case of Mary Jo Kopechne and Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts goes on, at issue now in courts at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where Miss Kopechne is buried, and in Boston, home of the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Friday, Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski at Wilkes-Barre rejected a plea by attorneys for Miss Kopechne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J., asking that a petition from Massachusetts requesting an autopsy on Miss Kopechne's body be denied. The judge ordered the facts to be determined by hearing "without delay."

Earlier last week, the Massachusetts Supreme Court was asked to disqualify the judge scheduled to preside at the inquest and to "overturn" ground rules laid down by the judge, asserting that Judge James A. Boyle's decision to allow newsmen into the courtroom "raised fundamental constitutional questions."

Attorney Edward P. Hanify also asked the court to review the state law on inquests, which dates to 1887. "The evil to be averted is the use of a judicial proceeding (inquest) prior to a formal indictment which generates needless publicity which violates the Constitutional right of a citizen."

He said Sen. Kennedy, like any citizen, has the "right to be secure from the gratuitous generation of massive publicity by the state itself which has the result of depriving a man of a fair trial in any subsequent judicial action."

* * *

The entire series of circumstances beginning in mid-July on Chappaquiddick Island has been curious. Kennedy's failure to report the accident, which occurred in an unlikely place on the island in the first place; his subsequent statement to police; the televised report to the nation; his plea of guilty to the "leaving the scene" charge; the "johnny come lately" efforts of District Attorney Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., and now the battle in the courts are strange.

What seems most unusual about the whole situation is that Sen. Kennedy has not been charged with any further crime, yet the legal struggle continues in what appears to the layman as a concentrated effort to supress the facts of the case.

If Sen. Kennedy, as he insisted in his televised talk on July 25, was confused and tired at the time of the accident and really does not remember all of what happened, then why is all the legal firepower being brought to bear?

An inquest is a search for the truth.

To date, it doesn't appear that all of it has been told, and the public still deserves an explanation, particularly in light of Sen. Kennedy's political position.

If the senator can't or won't provide the answers, then let the inquest proceed.

A Northwest Passage

An elusive dream of early explorers, a sea route around the northern reaches of North America, may soon become a reality.

In mid-September the giant oil tanker Manhattan navigated the tortuous, ice-clogged Northwest Passage and reached Point Barrow, Alaska, on the Arctic slope. This is not the first time the passage has been conquered, but the success of the Manhattan demonstrates the route's commercial potential.

Even in the space age, when we are beginning to think in terms of landing men on Mars, the Manhattan's conquest of this stubborn stretch of ice is an event of major dimensions. It promises to affect our lives in innumerable ways.

On the Arctic slope of Alaska lie rich but undeveloped oil lands, the full extent of which is not yet known. Here could be sufficient oil to meet America's need projected for at least a generation.

The success of the Manhattan could be the key that unlocks these riches. During several months of the year, the Northwest Passage could provide the most economical means of transporting Alaskan oil to the rest of the United States.

Perhaps the most intriguing aspect of opening the Northwest Passage is its possible consequences for American security. Here is a new major source of oil on American soil, reliable even in time of war or international crisis.

In periods when foreign oil supplies from the Middle East or Latin America might be threatened, the United States could fall back on this northern life line. In peacetime, a more self-sufficient America would have greater freedom in the conduct of foreign policy.

The Manhattan did more than merely break ice in the barren Northwest Passage. It opened new vistas for the United States.

Peninsula Potpourri

A mystery in Bessemer was solved when the owner of a gasoline tank which had fallen off an auto turned up at the police station to claim it. The embarrassed motorist explained that he did hear a noise after his car passed over Soo Line tracks, but he rounded a curve in the road before stopping. Thinking the noise was the result of a flat tire and not finding anything wrong with the tires, the motorist continued for more than a mile and stopped outside his home. When he attempted to put the auto in the garage that night, he found it would not start and noticed the fuel gauge registered "empty." It wasn't until he attempted to put gasoline in the tank that he noticed there was no tank. Having read in the Ironwood Daily Globe about the finding of a tank, he quickly contacted police to claim the missing part.

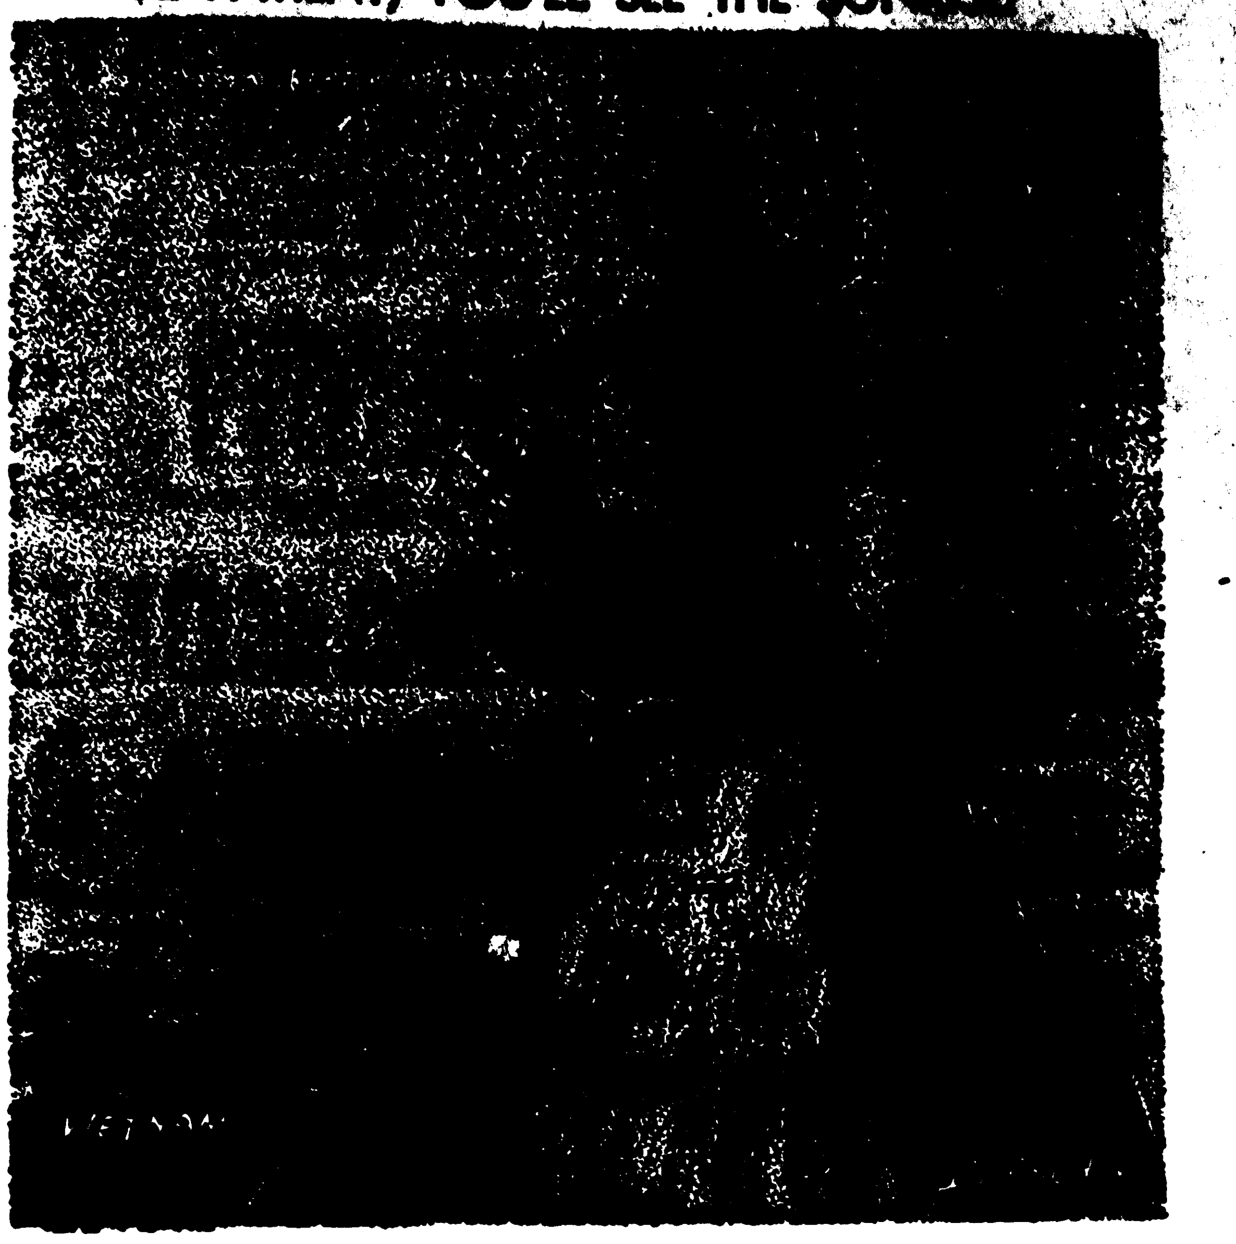
Daniel McLin, 21, of Menomonee, was bound over to circuit court to stand trial on four arson charges and one charge of attempted arson. McLin and James R. Schrader, 20, of rural Menominee are charged in connection with a series of fires last month in the Menomonee area. The fires were in unoccupied buildings, some of which were used for storing farm products.

BE PATIENT, YOU'LL SEE THE SUNRISE



'William Henry' Hated To See Nation Yield

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

William Henry Chamberlin, who performed brilliantly during the 1920s as the Moscow correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, died recently, and it would be base ingratitude for one who had known him and profited from his insights to let him fade into history without comment.

I used to appear on the editorial page of the Wall Street Journal with William Henry, and the similarity of our last names sometimes caused confusion. I was never so flattered as when I got a letter from a reader who thought that I was the author of one of William Henry's pieces; even when the confusion brought one of those "dear sir, you cur" letters from a believer in the Communist system, I took it as a compliment.

The present generation, which is not overly concerned with developing a perspective on the historical past, knows little about William Henry Chamberlain, and probably cares less. Nonetheless the man was one of our all-time journalistic "greats."

Once upon a time there were two honest American journalists who went to Moscow full of sympathy for what used to be called "the Russian experiment" and found that Utopia wasn't what it had been cracked up to be. They were Eugene Lyons and William Henry himself. Now only Gene Lyons is left of the duo which taught my generation that it is the nature of Communism to degrade and distort human beings, an insight which has had its most recent corroboration by events in Czechoslovakia.

* * *

William Henry, who looked like a benign Buddha, did not give way to public anger. When he was inwardly disturbed by events, he expressed it by joining his hands and twiddling his thumbs. An essentially sweet - natured and temperate human being, he distained alcohol, ate chocolate, and did not indulge in personalities. But when he sat down at his typewriter the sharp-edged truth, as he saw it, always came out.

He had gone to Russia as a young Socialist in 1922, filled with revulsion for the "capitalist" slaughter of World War I. But by 1928 the hardening of the Bolshevik revolution into a ruthless totalitarianism was well under way. In that year young Eugene Lyons turned up in Moscow as a United Press correspondent. Lyons, full of zeal, undertook to lecture William Henry for having "lost sight of the forest for the trees" in his negative evaluation of Bolshevism. William Henry took the lecture in good grace.

* * *

A few years later a young Englishman, Malcolm Muggeridge, spent a winter in Moscow reporting for the Manchester Guardian. Gene Lyons, who had by then become as disillusioned as William Henry by the dictatorship of the proletariat, recalls that Muggeridge lectured both Chamberlin and himself for "failing to see the forest for the trees"; the speech was almost identical with Gene's own words of 1928.

A few years passed and Muggeridge had dinner with William Henry Chamberlin and Gene Lyons in New York; the three of them now found themselves in essential agreement about Communism, but when they tried to make themselves heard in the Leftward-moving Manhattan of the middle 1930s they got nothing but some pained words about "failure to see the forest for the trees."

So it has always gone: the liberal who sees Communism from close up comes to expect the worst. Lester Markel, then the Sunday editor of the New York Times who knew Russia only from a distance, spoke of William Henry as a "discredited man" in the 1930s. But the Stalin-Hitler Pact and the Cold War subsequently proved Markel to be the innocent one.

When Elmer Davis was serving as our World War II "coordinator of information," he sat on the news of the Soviet massacre of the Polish officers in the Katyn Forest. Eventually the story of the Katyn slaughter came out—and the "discredited" William Henry Chamberlin could have said "I told you so" if he had been in the habit of crowing over his detractors.

* * *

One of the last things William Henry wrote was an article warning Washington that only Moscow had anything to gain from a nuclear "non-proliferation" treaty.

As William Henry saw it, a distrustful Moscow would not in any circumstances give a single nuclear secret, much less a missile, to any of its satellites or client states. So Moscow was giving up nothing by signing a treaty.

A treaty, however, would prevent the U. S. from giving nuclear aid to its own friends. It always bothered William Henry to see his country give up something for nothing, but the "now generation" that knows little of William Henry's life doesn't seem to care.

Harmful Effects Of Marijuana Revealed

CHICAGO — (AP) — Smoking marijuana can produce adverse reactions ranging from mild anxiety to murderous hullucinations, the Journal of the American Medical Society said Sunday.

Two psychiatrists reported in the Oct. 13 issue of JAMA that they observed a "clinical syndrome of acute psychosis" in 12 servicemen they treated in Vietnam in 1967.

Dr. John A. Talbott of St. Luke's Hospital Center, New York City; and Dr. James W. Teague, UCLA Neuropsychiatric Institute, Los Angeles, said the smoking of a single marijuana cigarett led to a killing in one of the 12 cases they cited.

The report said that "smoking marijuana for most persons is a pleasant, non-threatening . . . experience."

But in a small proportion of cases the reactions can include anxiety, fear, rapid heartbeat, labored breathing, crying depression, suspicion, dissociation, depersonalization, disorientation, confusion, paranoia, delusions and auditory hallucinations.

The doctors also said they noted marked physical symptoms in each of the 12 servicemen they studied.

"Symptons included burning and irritation of the respiratory tract accompanied by an urge to cough, impaired coordination and difficulty with fine movements," the article said.

The doctors said that the potency of marijuana illegallly smoked in the United States is only half that of the Vietnam variety, but they said they believed the psychotic cases they observed in Vietnam also occur in this country although "the symptons clear in a relatively short period of time."

Polluted Creek Has Wisconsin 'Seeing Red'

BARKSDALE, Wis. (AP) — "Bloody Mark Creek," turned red by factory waste, has drawn the ire of college students and businessmen who used it Saturday to demonstrate against pollution.

About 80 persons, most of them them Northland College students, but accompanied by Ashland businessmen, went by motorcade to the Du Pont Co. Barksdale plant.

The protesters charged the plant dumps waste into Boyd Creek, turning the water red and killing aquatic life. Because of the color, the stream has acquired a local nickanem — "Bloody Mark Creek."

The protest was against pollution in general, not just the Barksdale plant, said Bryce Inchterhand, one of the march organizers.

The plant manufactures explosives, and its use of Boyd Creek — a Lake Superior tributary — was discussed by representatives of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota at a Sept. 30 pollution control meeting.

Opening lead—ace of hearts.

I once published a hand in which the distinguishiing feature was that North, East, South and West each played an ace on the last trick! These plays all made sense, and though the hand was not otherwise unusual, it was worthy of mention because of the extraordinary finish.

A reader asks whether I am familiar with any hand where the four aces are played on the first trick, and I offer this curiosity published many years ago by the late and great Robert Darvas.

West leads the ace of hearts against seven spades. Observe what happened if South trumps in his hand instead of dummy. East discards a diamond and South ruffs and cashes the ace of diamonds.

This proves to be ineffective, for, when he enters dummy with a trump to discard his clubs on the high diamonds, he finds he can discard only three of them. On the fifth round of diamonds East ruffs and South must go down one.

Declarer's best play on the opening lead, therefore, is to ruff the ace of hearts with the ace of spades.

It does not matter which card East plays on this trick, since he cannot stop the contract, so, to be sociable, let's say he discards the ace of clubs.

South, of course, discards the ace of diamonds, and the opening trick thus consists of the ace of hearts from West, the ace of spades from North, the ace of clubs from East, and the ace of diamonds from South!

Declarer then cashes the K-Q-J-10 of diamonds, discarding four clubs, and thus fulfills his mission.

There is no moral associated with this tale, since the hand is purely imaginary and unlikely to occur in real life, but if ever you are dealt one of these four hands, please act out your part and play an ace on the opening trick!

Nixon Begging Lawmakers To Back Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has asked the Democratic controlled Congress to put aside partisanship and produce a legislative record which would make the administration and lawmakers proud.

In a message aimed at quieting the combat that has been growing between Republicans and Democrats over the pace of legislation, Nixon promised to meet Congress "more than half way" to accomplish what needs to be done.

Senate Democratic leader Mike Mansfield praised Nixon's statement as "temperate, restrained, understanding, in good taste and good form."

But House majority leader Carl Albert spiced his comment with some peppery phrases accusing the administration of being slow to get its legislative program before Congress and of having divided views on many important issues.

The message was set for formal reading to Congress today but was released to the nation Sunday.

In it, Nixon stressed the idea of a working partnership between his administration and Congress to enact a program that will launch a new era of government reform.

"Let us resolve," he said, "to make the legislative issue of the 1970 campaign the question of who deserves the greater credit for the 91st Congress's record of accomplishment, not which of us should be held accountable because it did nothing."

Nixon acknowledged that partisans in both parties have been trying to blame each other for what the Republicans, at least, regard as the meager achievements of Congress to date.

President William H. Harrison was the president with the most children having six sons and four daughters.

Ann Landers

Bewhiskered Lady Has Sharp Answer

Dear Ann Landers: Why do you advise women with five-o'clock shadow to have electrolysis? Why not tell them the best solution is a cheerful disposition and a good razor.

I started to shave at 18 and I've been at it ever since. In the meantime I married a wonderful man and we have a beautiful family. My husband and I shave together every morning. My beard is tougher than his and we joke about it. When we go out in the evening I have to shave again. He does not. We joke about that, too.

Last summer we drove cross-country with the children. I was wearing slacks and a leather jacket. When we stopped in Tyler, Texas for lunch, my husband suggested we both go into the barber shop and get shaved. We did. The barber nearly fainted. We joked about that, too.

So you see, Ann, a sense of humor can get a woman through almost anything, and I am living proof. Sign me— The Bearded Lady

Dear Lady: — Yeah, A sense of humor — and a good razor. Thanks for writing.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: This is for "Also Ran" and for all the other bitter wives who think they got a raw deal. "Also" had had it. She was sick and tired of catering to a selfish husband. I felt the same way and I did something about it. I got a divorce.

Now, after 18 months of soul searching I know who was really to blame. When I realized my husband was contributing only 25 per cent of his effort to our marriage I decided to give 25 per cent, too. That left 50 per cent that nobody was giving. No marriage can survive that much dead air.

I've had some good talks with women since my divorce — some are happily married, the majority are not. I've reached the conclusion that most husbands only give 25 per cent. The wives who have the successful marriages are giving 75 per cent. This is what being a wife means. I hope all you 25 per cent wives out there will see this and wise up. — Lernda Lot

Dear Lernda: I will undoubtedly be labeled a traitor to my sex for printing your letter, but it's a good one and I agree with you. Any woman who things marriage is a 50-50 proposition is kidding herself. And the beautiful part of your theory is that the wives who are willing to give more than 50 per cent soon discover that their husbands are willing to up the ante also.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I had two telephone calls this morning from mothers of 11-year-old girls. Both women said the same thing — that I am old-fashioned and out of touch with the times. Why?? Because I refuse to allow my 12-year-old son to go to boy-girl parties.

I am sure the children are not doing anything wrong at these parties. They dance and eat and are home by midnight. All the same I think 11-and 12-year-olds are too young for this sort of thing.

My son is not mad. He's relieved. The mothers of the girls are mad. It seems they just can't wait for their daughters to grow up and be popular. If you say I'm wrong, Ann, I'll reconsider, but I hope you'll be on my side. — Muskegon Mother

Dear Muskegon: How I wish more mothers were as "old fashioned" and "out of touch" as you! There's nothing sadder than 11-and 12-year-old girls whose mamas doll them up and push them into the adult world. Don't budge, Lady. You're on solid ground.

Inquest Needed

The strange case of Mary Jo Kopechne and Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts goes on, at issue now in courts at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., where Miss Kopechne is buried, and in Boston, home of the Massachusetts Supreme Court.

Friday, Common Pleas Judge Bernard C. Brominski at Wilkes-Barre rejected a plea by attorneys for Miss Kopechne's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kopechne of Berkeley Heights, N. J., asking that a petition from Massachusetts requesting an autopsy on Miss Kopechne's body be denied. The judge ordered the facts to be determined by hearing "without delay."

Earlier last week, the Massachusetts Supreme Court was asked to disqualify the judge scheduled to preside at the inquest and to "overturn" ground rules laid down by the judge, asserting that Judge James A. Boyle's decision to allow newsmen into the courtroom "raised fundamental constitutional questions."

Attorney Edward P. Hanify also asked the court to review the state law on inquests, which dates to 1887. "The evil to be averted is the use of a judicial proceeding (inquest) prior to a formal indictment which generates needless publicity which violates the Constitutional right of a citizen."

He said Sen. Kennedy, like any citizen, has the "right to be secure from the gratuitous generation of massive publicity by the state itself which has the result of depriving a man of a fair trial in any subsequent judicial action."

* * *

The entire series of circumstances beginning in mid-July on Chappaquiddick Island has been curious. Kennedy's failure to report the accident, which occurred in an unlikely place on the island in the first place; his subsequent statement to police; the televised report to the nation; his plea of guilty to the "leaving the scene" charge; the "johnny come lately" efforts of District Attorney Edmund Dinis of New Bedford, Mass., and now the battle in the courts are strange.

What seems most unsual about the whole situation is that Sen. Kennedy has not been charged with any further crime, yet the legal struggle continues in what appears to the layman as a concentrated effort to supress the facts of the case.

If Sen. Kennedy, as he insisted in his televised talk on July 25, was confused and tired at the time of the accident and really does not remember all of what happened, then why is all the legal firepower being brought to bear?

An inquest is a search for the truth.

To date, it doesn't appear that all of it has been told, and the public still deserves an explanation, particularly in light of Sen. Kennedy's political position.

If the senator can't or won't provide the answers, then let the inquest proceed.

A Northwest Passage

An elusive dream of early explorers, a sea route around the northern reaches of North America, may soon become a reality.

In mid-September the giant oil tanker Manhattan navigated the tortuous, ice-clogged Northwest Passage and reached Point Barrow, Alaska, on the Arctic slope. This is not the first time the passage has been conquered, but the success of the Manhattan demonstrates the route's commercial potential.

Even in the space age, when we are beginning to think in terms of landing men on Mars, the Manhattan's conquest of this stubborn stretch of ice is an event of major dimensions. It promises to affect our lives in innumerable ways.

On the Arctic slope of Alaska lie rich but undeveloped oil lands, the full extent of which is not yet known. Here could be sufficient oil to meet America's need projected for at least a generation.

The success of the Manhattan could be the key that unlocks these riches. During several months of the year, the Northwest Passage could provide the most economical means of transporting Alaskan oil to the rest of the United States.

Perhaps the most intriguing aspect of opening the Northwest Passage is its possible consequences for American security. Here is a new major source of oil on American soil, reliable even in time of war or international crisis.

In periods when foreign oil supplies from the Middle East or Latin America might be threatened, the United States could fall back on this northern life line. In peacetime, a more self-sufficient America would have greater freedom in the conduct of foreign policy.

The Manhattan did more than merely break ice in the barren Northwest Passage. It opened new vistas for the United States.

Peninsula Potpourri

A mystery in Bessemer was solved when the owner of a gasoline tank which had fallen off an auto turned up at the police station to claim it. The embarrassed motorist explained that he did hear a noise after his car passed over Soo Line tracks, but he rounded a curve in the road before stopping. Thinking the noise was the result of a flat tire and not finding anything wrong with the tires, the motorist continued for more than a mile and stopped outside his home. When he attempted to put the auto in the garage that night, he found it would not start and noticed the fuel gauge registered "empty." It wasn't until he attempted to put gasoline in the tank that he noticed there was no tank. Having read in the Ironwood Daily Globe about the finding of a tank, he quickly contacted police to claim the missing part.

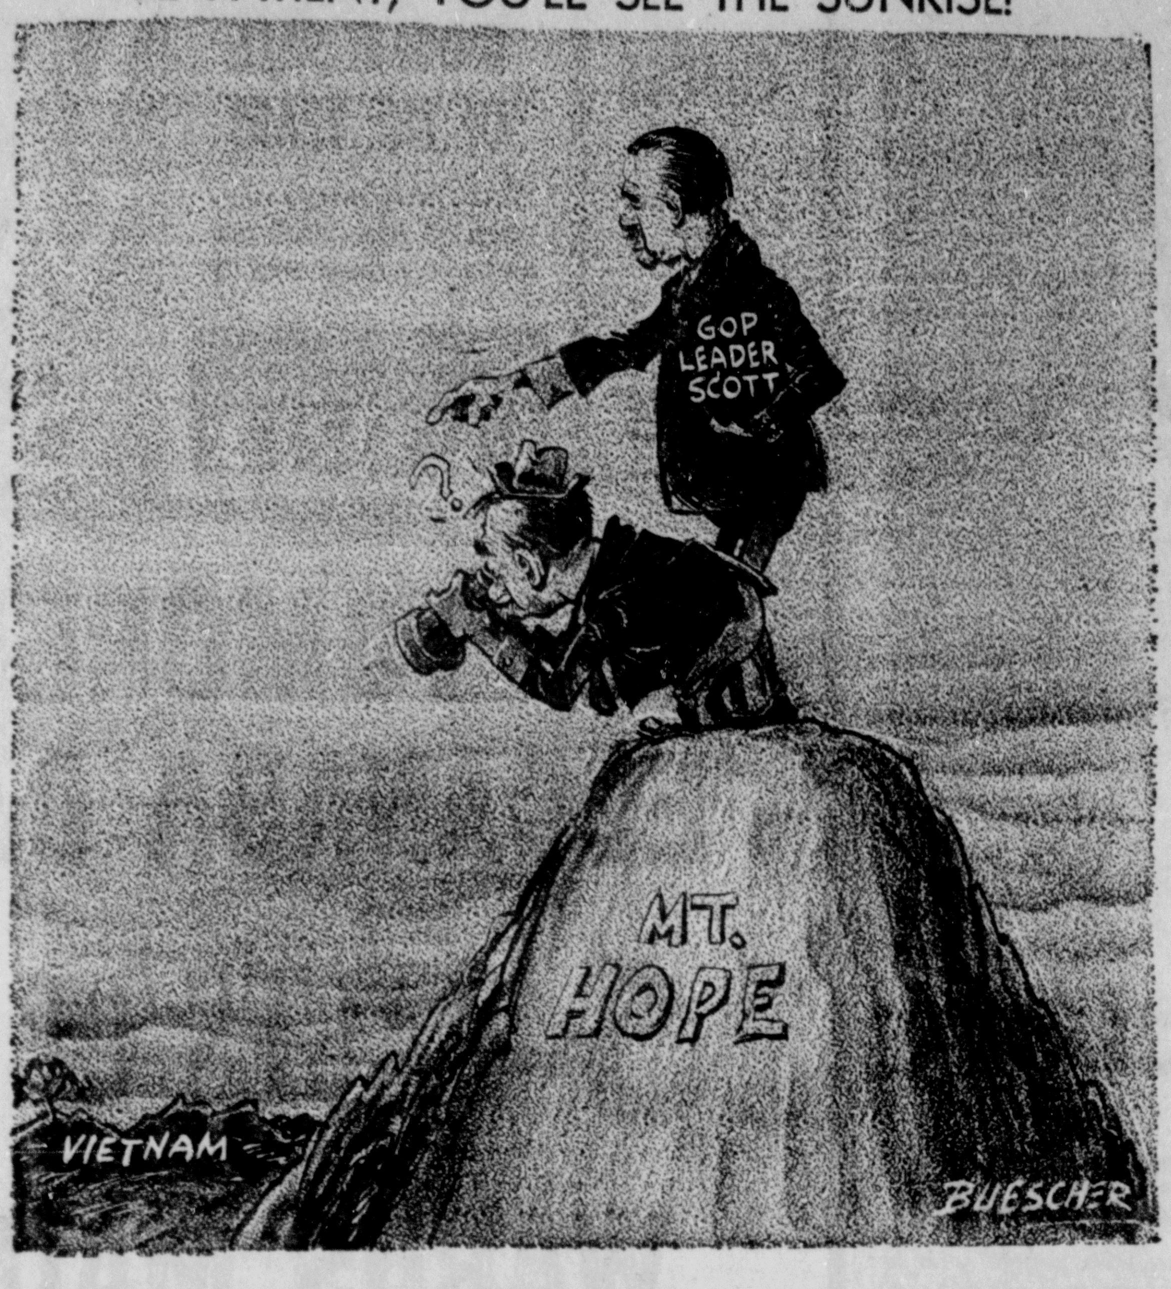
Daniel McLin, 21, of Menomonee, was bound over to circuit court to stand trial on four arson charges and one charge of attempted arson. McLin and James R. Schrader, 20, of rural Menomonee were charged in connection with a series of fires last month in the Menomonee area. The fires were in unoccupied buildings, some of which were used for storing farm products.

BE PATIENT, YOU'LL SEE THE SUNRISE!



'William Henry' Hated To See Nation Yield

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN

William Henry Chamberlin, who performed brilliantly during the 1920s as the Moscow correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor, died recently, and it would be base ingratitude for one who had known him and profited from his insights to let him fade into history without comment.

I used to appear on the editorial page of the Wall Street Journal with William Henry, and the similarity of our last names sometimes caused confusion. I was never so flattered as when I got a letter from a reader who thought that I was the author of one of William Henry's pieces; even when the confusion brought one of those "dear sir, you cur" letters from a believer in the Communist system, I took it as a compliment.

The present generation, which is not overly concerned with developing a perspective on the historical past, knows little about William Henry Chamberlain, and probably cares less. Nonetheless the man was one of our all-time journalistic "greats."

Once upon a time there were two honest American journalists who went to Moscow full of sympathy for what used to be called 'the Russian experiment" and found that Utopia wasn't what it had been cracked up to be. They were Eugene Lyons and William Henry himself. Now only Gene Lyons is left of the duo which taught my generation that it is the nature of Communism to degrade and distort human beings, an insight which has had its most recent corroboration by events in Czechoslovakia.

* * *

William Henry, who looked like a benign Buddha, did not give way to public anger. When he was inwardly disturbed by events, he expressed it by joining his hands and twiddling his thumbs. An essentially sweet - natured and temperate human being, he distained alcohol, ate chocolate, and did not indulge in personalities. But when he sat down at his typewriter the sharp-edged truth, as he saw it, always came out.

He had gone to Russia as a young Socialist in 1922, filled with revulsion for the "capitalist" slaughter of World War I. But by 1928 the hardening of the Bolshevik revolution into a ruthless totalitarianism was well under way. In that year young Eugene Lyons turned up in Moscow as a United Press correspondent. Lyons, full of zeal, undertook to lecture William Henry for having "lost sight of the forest for the trees" in his negative evaluation of Bolshevism. William Henry took the lecture in good grace.

* * *

A few years later a young Englishman, Malcolm Muggeridge, spent a winter in Moscow reporting for the Manchester Guardian. Gene Lyons, who had by then become as disillusioned as William Henry by the dictatorship of the proletariat, recalls that Muggeridge lectured both Chamberlin and himself for "failing to see the forest for the trees"; the speech was almost identical with Gene's own words of 1928.

A few years passed and Muggeridge had dinner with William Henry Chamberlin and Gene Lyons in New York; the three of them now found themselves in essential agreement about Communism, but when they tried to make themselves heard in the Leftward-moving Manhattan of the middle 1930s they got nothing but some pained words about "failure to see the forest for the trees."

So it has always gone: the liberal who sees Communism from close up comes to expect the worst. Lester Markel, then the Sunday editor of the New York Times who knew Russia only from a distance, spoke of William Henry as a "discredited man" in the 1930s. But the Stalin-Hitler Pact and the Cold War subsequently proved Markel to be the innocent one.

When Elmer Davis was serving as our World War II "coordinator of information," he sat on the news of the Soviet massacre of the Polish officers in the Katyn Forest. Eventually the story of the Katyn slaughter came out—and the "discredited" William Henry Chamberlin could have said "I told you so" if he had been in the habit of crowing over his detractors.

* * *

One of the last things William Henry wrote was an article warning Washington that only Moscow had anything to gain from a nuclear "non-proliferation" treaty.

As William Henry saw it, a distrustful Moscow would not in any circumstances give a single nuclear secret, much less a missile, to any of its satellites or client states. So Moscow was giving up nothing by signing a treaty.

A treaty, however, would prevent the U. S. from giving nuclear aid to its own friends. It always bothered William Henry to see his country give up something for nothing, but the "now generation" that knows little of William Henry's life doesn't seem to care.

Harmful Effects Of Marijuana Revealed

Now, after 18 months of soul searching I know who was really to blame. When I realized my husband was contributing only 25 per cent of his effort to our marriage I decided to give 25 per cent, too. That left 50 per cent that nobody was giving. No marriage can survive that much dead air.

I've had some good talks with women since my divorce — some are happily married, the majority are not. I've reached the conclusion that most husbands only give 25 per cent. The wives who have the successful marriages are giving 75 per cent. This is what being a wife means. I hope all you 25 per cent wives out there will see this and wise up. — Lernda Lot

Dear Lernda: I will undoubtedly be labeled a traitor to my sex for printing your letter, but it's a good one and I agree with you. Any woman who things marriage is a 50-50 proposition is kidding herself. And the beautiful part of your theory is that the wives who are willing to give more than 50 per cent soon discover that their husbands are willing to up the ante also.

* * *

Dear Ann Landers: I had two telephone calls this morning from mothers of 11-year-old girls. Both women said the same thing — that I am old-fashioned and out of touch with the times. Why?? Because I refuse to allow my 12-year-old son to go to boy-girl parties.

I am sure the children are not doing anything wrong at these parties. They dance and eat and are home by midnight. All the same I think 11-and 12- year-olds are too young for this sort of thing.

My son is not mad. He's relieved. The mothers of the girls are mad. It seems they just can't wait for their daughters to grow up and be popular. If you say I'm wrong, Ann, I'll reconsider, but I hope you'll be on my side. — Muskegon Mother

Dear Muskegon: How I wish more mothers were as "old fashioned" and "out of touch" as you! There's nothing sadder than 11-and 12-year-old girls whose mamas doll them up and push them into the adult world. Don't budge, Lady. You're on solid ground.

If you have trouble getting along with your parents . . . if you can't get them to let you live your own life, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "Bugged By Parents??? How To Get More Freedom." Send 50c in coin with your request and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

10,000 Female Alcoholics On Detroit 'List'

DETROIT (AP)—There are at least 10,000 female alcoholics in the Detroit area, and most of them are attractive, intelligent and financially secure housewives and mothers, says a specialist in therapy for alcoholics.

James Wheeler, a consultant to the Harbor Light Center of the Salvation Army in Detroit, said these women turn to alcohol because it "is the most readily available tranquilizer on the market."

He described the average female alcoholic as well educated —possibly with a college degree—between 35 and 50 years old and married to a man who earns about $15,000 a year.

The center, supported by a $2,000 grant from United Community Services, is staffed by two physicians, two psychologists and two social workers, he said. Charge is $5 for two sessions.

But center officials say only six women have attended the programs since they were begun three weeks ago.

"This is the only place where ladies can get treatment on an outpatient basis," said Wheeler. "Many female alcoholics are so emotional and so demanding that they need more help than Alcoholics Anonymous offers."

Old Tradition

PARCHMENT (AP). — Police work is becoming something of a tradition for the Herrick family, in this Kalamazoo County town.

Ralph Herrick, 30, a patrolman with the department for nearly five years, has been appointed police chief. Herrick succeeds Richard Bickle, who resigned to devote his time to a private security agency he founded.

Herrick's father, Robert P. Herrick, was Parchment's police chief for 15 years until Bickle succeeded him in January 1968.

Tax Cuts Seen Given Priority When War Ends

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Tax cuts will take priority over expansion of social programs at the end of the Vietnam war, says Dr. Herbert Stein, a member of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors.

He has reported the $9 billion tax reduction bill passed recently by the Senate is one example of this trend.

"The main claimant for resources released from defense will not be other federal programs, but will be the private sector, expressing its claim through a demand for tax reduction," he said in a lecture at the University of California.

"The increasing tendency to look to the federal government for satisfaction of demands of all kinds ... contributes to the excess of demands over resources," he added.

Emergency Stop Made On I-75 By U. P. Pilot

ST. IGNACE (AP)—A 45-year-old flier, F. W. Spery of St. Ignace, made an emergency landing on I 75 recently when his airplane developed engine trouble over the Upper Peninsula.

Spery's Cessna-140 bounced off electrical wires as it came in for a landing on the expressway, but he managed to get it down with only minor damage. He also managed to avoid any cars.

The scene was about three miles north of St. Ignace. Spery was on a pleasure flight.

Resor Asking Re-Evaluation Of Black GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley Resor, expressing concern about the state of race relations in the service, said today military commanders must pay more attention to the sensitivities of black soldiers.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Army Association, Resor said the military has to "re-examine our policies and practices in terms of their impact on the soldier as an individual."

"We believe," he said, "that one way to minimize racial tensions in the Army is to make the Army as responsive as it can be to the needs of all its men."

The black soldier "needs to know from his leaders where they stand, whether he can expect help from them, whether they are willing to accept him without asking that he reject his heritage."

The secretary also made it clear he expects officers and noncommissioned officers to be less rigid and to give leeway to the yearnings of both black and white soldiers for some individuality.

Resor added that the black soldier needs a commander who recognizes such slogans as "Black is beautiful" as a gesture of pride, comradeship and solidarity for most Negroes.

"The commander must understand his men before he writes off the spirited ones, who may be potential leaders, as troublemakers or militants," Resor said.

"On the other hand, he must be firm and ensure that his troops realize that discipline is not discrimination."

While stating the Army led the way in breaking down racial barriers, Resor acknowledged that black soldiers "clearly have difficulties in the Army which are directly tied to their race."

Among other things, Resor said, the Army "will give more recognition to the Negroe's presence in the Army and the fact that he has a long military heritage."

Timing Way Off Course In State Education Rift

LANSING (AP) — Timing couldn't be worse for the state board of education as it battles Gov. William Milliken for its very existence.

Embroiled in long and divisive in-fighting, the board finally got rid of the state's chief school officer last week—just as Milliken proposed abolishing the board and the superintendency.

Polley Resigns

Dr. Ira Polley—named superintendent of public instruction 3½ years ago by the board, praised by Milliken, school administrators and teachers alike—quit suddenly rather than face the ever-increasing probability that he would be fired.

A majority of board members reportedly pushed Polley to condemn Milliken's proposal. But Polley refused, saying he could not "in conscience" do so.

At least one member seems to agree. "It's not an effective instrument," he says, "and (won't be) until the political parties take educational posts seriously."

Another member says: "Unless we buckle down at the next meeting and bring our calendar up to date, and unless we are prepared to wrestle with the elements of the governor's reform package on an urgent basis, then I propose we all resign as soon as feasible."

Under those conditions, and faced with individual theories on the politically firey issues of sex education and parochiaid, board members tried to pick a successor to Polley.

Fail To Agree

After 2½ hours of closed door discussion, they failed to agree on an acting superintendent.

The Michigan Education Association, representing more than 50,000 of the state's teachers, called board actions a "debacle."

"Leadership must replace confusion and the public spectacle that has characterized our system in recent years and recent days," Milliken told lawmakers as he unveiled his reform proposals.

"The members are nominated almost as an afterthought by both political parties, brought into office on the tide of presidential or gubernatorial elections, forced to function in a political unit which may be partisan and given only limited powers to fulfill the requirements of their office," the governor has said.

"With such handicaps, the board is bound to fail, and fail it has as an effective governing body."

Board President Peter Oppewall rebutted that criticism in a 12 - page presentation headed "State Board of Education."

Oppewall said "a majority" of board members approved the statement, but declined to specify the number. Other sources indicated five of the eight members had indicated approval.

The statement said "The present elected State Board of Education assures that those with the constitutional responsibility for education are accountable to the public."

Accomplishments Noted

The board, it added, "is a board of accomplishment as evidenced by the progress and achievements of the board over the past four years and nine months."

A list of these accomplishments included school district reorganization, a school finance study, education of disadvantaged and migrant children, adoption and implementation of a new teacher certification code and a state plan for higher education.

Levin Dissatisfied

"I don't think we need the board," said Senate Education Committee Chairman Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo.

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley, considered the board, with six Democrats and two Republicans.

"I'm not in favor of keeping the state board just because they are a bunch of Democrats," he said, "but I'm not in favor of doing away with the state board just because they are a bunch of Democrats."

Levin admitted, however, that he was "not satisfied with the current system."

Opponents of the Milliken plan —which calls for the governor to appoint an Education Department director — fear such a system would impose too much executive control over the department and filter down through the local ranks.

Some are preparing their own alternatives, including a plan which would retain the board — but force its election at a time when only education issues would be on the ballot.

DDT Reportedly Invades Refuge Of Bald Eagle

MIAMI (AP) — DTT, the killer of birds as well as the insects it is sent out to fight, has invaded the last U.S. refuge of the bald eagle, a biologist says.

In fact, says Dr. William Robertson, a recent check shows that the level of DDT and similar pesticides is so high in the Everglades that the bald eagle may become extinct there.

Robertson, a biologist with the U.S. Park Services, said Friday the poison pollution is causing female eagles to lay eggs with shells so thin that they crack during incubation.

"The pesticide levels are much higher than we would have anticipated. I would call them alarming," Robertson told a group of scientists at the University of Miami.

"The levels are at the point where they are interferring with the reproductive process."

Robertson said the poisons interfere with the birds' formation of calcium, a basic ingredient in egg shells.

The remnants of a once-great bald eagle population nest in the southwest corner of the Everglades National Park, near Flamingo. Robertson has spent many hours studying the nests.

LAS VEGAS — Carl A. Benson, 71, lies dead in Las Vegas, Nev., street shot in the throat while making a sales delivery during racial strife. Police said it was robbery try.

Resor Asking Re-Evaluation Of Black GIs

WASHINGTON (AP) — Army Secretary Stanley Resor, expressing concern about the state of race relations in the service, said today military commanders must pay more attention to the sensitivities of black soldiers.

In a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the Army Association, Resor said the military has to "re-examine our policies and practices in terms of their impact on the soldier as an individual."

"We believe," he said, "that one way to minimize racial tensions in the Army is to make the Army as responsive as it can be to the needs of all its men."

The black soldier "needs to know from his leaders where they stand, whether he can expect help from them, whether they are willing to accept him without asking that he reject his heritage."

The secretary also made it clear he expects officers and noncommissioned officers to be less rigid and to give leeway to the yearnings of both black and white soldiers for some individuality.

Resor added that the black soldier needs a commander who recognizes such slogans as "Black is beautiful" as a gesture of pride, comradeship and solidarity for most Negroes.

"The commander must understand his men before he writes off the spirited ones, who may be potential leaders, as troublemakers or militants," Resor said.

"On the other hand, he must be firm and ensure that his troops realize that discipline is not discrimination."

While stating the Army led the way in breaking down racial barriers, Resor acknowledged that black soldiers "clearly have difficulties in the Army which are directly tied to their race."

Among other things, Resor said, the Army "will give more recognition to the Negroe's presence in the Army and the fact that he has a long military heritage."

Timing Way Off Course In State Education Rift

LANSING (AP) — Timing couldn't be worse for the state board of education as it battles Gov. William Milliken for its very existence.

Embroiled in long and divisive in-fighting, the board finally got rid of the state's chief school officer last week—just as Milliken proposed abolishing the board and the superintendency.

Polley Resigns

Dr. Ira Polley—named superintendent of public instruction 3½ years ago by the board, praised by Milliken, school administrators and teachers alike—quit suddenly rather than face the ever-increasing probability that he would be fired.

A majority of board members reportedly pushed Polley to condemn Milliken's proposal. But Polley refused, saying he could not "in conscience" do so.

At least one member seems to agree. "It's not an effective instrument," he says, "and (won't be) until the political parties take educational posts seriously."

Another member says: "Unless we buckle down at the next meeting and bring our calendar up to date, and unless we are prepared to wrestle with the elements of the governor's reform package on an urgent basis, then I propose we all resign as soon as feasible."

Under those conditions, and faced with individual theories on the politically firey issues of sex education and parochiaid, board members tried to pick a successor to Polley.

Fail To Agree

After 2½ hours of closed door discussion, they failed to agree on an acting superintendent.

The Michigan Education Association, representing more than 50,000 of the state's teachers, called board actions a "debacle."

"Leadership must replace confusion and the public spectacle that has characterized our system in recent years and recent days," Milliken told lawmakers as he unveiled his reform proposals.

"The members are nominated almost as an afterthought by both political parties, brought into office on the tide of presidential or gubernatorial elections, forced to function in a political unit which may be partisan and given only limited powers to fulfill the requirements of their office," the governor has said.

"With such handicaps, the board is bound to fail, and fail it has as an effective governing body."

Board President Peter Oppewall rebutted that criticism in a 12 - page presentation headed "State Board of Education."

Oppewall said "a majority" of board members approved the statement, but declined to specify the number. Other sources indicated five of the eight members had indicated approval.

The statement said "The present elected State Board of Education assures that those with the constitutional responsibility for education are accountable to the public."

Accomplishments Noted

The board, it added, "is a board of accomplishment as evidenced by the progress and achievements of the board over the past four years and nine months."

A list of these accomplishments included school district reorganization, a school finance study, education of disadvantaged and migrant children, adoption and implementation of a new teacher certification code and a state plan for higher education.

Levin Dissatisfied

"I don't think we need the board," said Senate Education Committee Chairman Anthony Stamm, R-Kalamazoo.

Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley, considered the board, with six Democrats and two Republicans.

"I'm not in favor of keeping the state board just because they are a bunch of Democrats." he said, "but I'm not in favor of doing away with the state board just because they are a bunch of Democrats."

Levin admitted, however, that he was "not satisfied with the current system."

Opponents of the Milliken plan—which calls for the governor to appoint an Education Department director — fear such a system would impose too much executive control over the department and filter down through the local ranks.

Some are preparing their own alternatives, including a plan which would retain the board — but force its election at a time when only education issues would be on the ballot.

DDT Reportedly Invades Refuge Of Bald Eagle

MIAMI (AP) — DTT, the killer of birds as well as the insects it is sent out to fight, has invaded the last U.S. refuge of the bald eagle, a biologist says.

In fact, says Dr. William Robertson, a recent check shows that the level of DDT and similar pesticides is so high in the Everglades that the bald eagle may become extinct there.

Robertson, a biologist with the U.S. Park Services, said Friday the poison pollution is causing female eagles to lay eggs with shells so thin that they crack during incubation.

"The pesticide levels are much higher than we would have anticipated. I would call them alarming," Robertson told a group of scientists at the University of Miami.

"The levels are at the point where they are interferring with the reproductive process."

Concertgoers Enjoy Schory, Orchestra

By JANET MARTIN

Despite the nasty weather last evening, a large crowd was present at the William W. Oliver Auditorium to welcome Dick Schory and his Percussion Pops Orchestra, and a most enjoyable evening it was!

Varied Program

Separate Groups

Using the entire spectrum of unusual sound effects, Shory uses more than 200 different percussion instruments to project and mold a sound that is his alone.

A definite contribution to his distinct sound is the placement and movement of musicians on the stage. They are divided into two separate choirs with the rhythmn section in between. The entire percussion battery moves across the stage in front of the orchestra enabling them to perform the split second timing on the various percussion instruments that are used in the unique arrangements.

Lara's Theme

Shorey and his orchestra began the evening's program with the light and lively, 'big' sound of, "Music for a Carnival," followed by the exciting, "Sabre Dance," "Can Can," the contemporary Latin sound of, "Avante," and a special favorite of mine, "Lara's Theme", from Dr. Zhivago.

Other oustanding selections of the first portion of the program were, "By the Time I Get to Phoenix," featuring a trumpet solo; "Up, Up and Away," and highlights from, "West Side Story."

Popular Sounds

The second portion of the performance consisted largely of the popular sounds of the day, including, "California Soul," "Aquarius," "On the Dock of the Bay," with guitar solo, "Yesterday," and "I Say a Little Prayer for You."

The audience also got into the act a little, adding the appropriate, "Ole's", in the delightful arrangement of, "Bully." The concluding selection of the concert was, "Suite Americana," featuring songs of our American Heritage.

Returning to the stage for one encore the group chose the exciting theme from the popular TV series, "Mission Impossible."

Second Concert

This performance was the second in series of concerts sponsored by the Delta County Community Concert Association and proved to be one of the best in several seasons.

The next concert will be Monday, Nov. 3 and will feature Richard Cross and Doris Yarick.

Dick Schory and his orchestra presented a program with something for every musical taste. His selections included: Broadway hits, pop songs, original compositions, traditional and modern jazz, novelty arrangements and light classics. It made for a wonderful evening of musical entertainment.

Separate Groups

Using the entire spectrum of unusual sound effects, Shory uses more than 200 different percussion instruments to project and mold a sound that is his alone.

A definite contribution to his distinct sound is the placement and movement of musicians on the stage. They are divided into two separate choirs with the rhythmn section in between. The entire percussion battery moves across the stage in front of the orchestra enabling them to perform the split second timing on the various percussion instruments that are used in the unique arrangements.

Lara's Theme

Shorey and his orchestra began the evening's program with the light and lively, 'big' sound of, "Music for a Carnival," followed by the exciting, "Sabre Dance," "Can Can," the contemporary Latin sound of, "Avante," and a special favorite of mine, "Lara's Theme", from Dr. Zhivago.

Other oustanding selections of the first portion of the program were, "By the Time I Get to Phoenix," featuring a trumpet solo; "Up, Up and Away," and highlights from, "West Side Story."

Popular Sounds

The second portion of the performance consisted largely of the popular sounds of the day, including, "California Soul," "Aquarius," "On the Dock of the Bay," with guitar solo, "Yesterday," and "I Say a Little Prayer for You."

The audience also got into the act a little, adding the appropriate, "Ole's", in the delightful arrangement of, "Bully." The concluding selection of the concert was, "Suite Americana," featuring songs of our American Heritage.

Returning to the stage for one encore the group chose the exciting theme from the popular TV series, "Mission Impossible."

Second Concert

This performance was the second in series of concerts sponsored by the Delta County Community Concert Association and proved to be one of the best in several seasons.

The next concert will be Monday, Nov. 3 and will feature Richard Cross and Doris Yarick.

Business Center Traffic Changes Before Council

The City Council will have before it a report and recommendation on downtown traffic changes in Escanaba when it meets at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Civic Center, reports City Manager George Harvey.

The recommendations are:

- Install a traffic light at 12th and Ludington Sts.
- Eliminate left turns off Ludington St. between and including 11th and 13th Sts.
- Convert the present four-way pedestrian walk and wait light at 10th and 11 Sts. to allow pedestrians to move only on the green light.
- Enlarge the visual area at 10th St. and 1st Ave. N. The recommendations would be put into effect "on a trial or test basis and will be subject to change as deem a change necessary," Harvey advised the Council.

He pointed out that the problems have been created because of the increasing volume of auto traffic.

"There is not question about it that this is a city-wide problem but it is much more acute in the downtown core section," he added.

Other business to come before the Council includes:

Reports of the results of the appelate court decision on union membership of the police officers. The decision allows the officers to belong to organizations other than law enforcement, and here they are members of Teamsters Local 328.

Reaffirmation of the city's policy requiring city employes to live within the city limits.

Request for authorization to engage financial and legal counsel for the expansion of the municipal electric generating station.

Report and recommendation on bids for utility poles and rock salt for ice control.

Consideration of a request from Dean Shipman for purchase of undivided real estate interest.

Reds Preparing For Offensive?

SAIGON (AP) — The lull in the Vietnam war now in its sixth week, is expected to continue, a U.S. estimate said today, but only until the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are ready to launch their winter-spring campaign.

An official assessment for the 3rd Military Corps Zone, which includes Saigon, reported:

"Except for scattered attacks by fire (rockets and mortars) and light ground probes, the enemy is expected to prolong his period of reorganization and refitting while awaiting political developments and preparing for his next campaign."

The estimate gave no timetable for the start of the next campaign, but some U.S. officers have said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese plan a winter-spring campaign beginning in November.

"Intelligence obtained from prisoners and documents has consistently indicated that the objective of the (enemy's) fall campaign was to prepare for the winter-spring offensive," the assessment continued." The enemy's actions to date seem to bear out these intentions.

Other sources said the enemy troops are being extensively resupplied with weapons and ammunition. Paratroopers from the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division uncovered one stockpile Sunday night 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Underground tunnels yielded 90 Chinese rifles, 21 light machine guns and more than 200 mortar shells.

Only small fights were reported during the past 24 hours.

Education Plan Faces Several Different Ideas

recommend to the Legislature how those regions should be drawn.

A companion bill proposes consolidation of the more than 300 districts that Milliken said are too small to be effective. Some do not have complete, kindergarten through high school programs and 10 don't operate schools at all.

Lump Sum Asked

Details of Milliken's plan to eliminate the cumbersome state school aid formula, based on property assessment and school enrollment, are contained in a separate bill. Milliken recommends the Legislature simply budget a lump sum for the department based upon requests forwarded by regional planners.

A three - mill optional local tax is described separately. Communities could use it to supplement funds received from their share of the 16 - mill state tax. Its funds could be used for special programs but could not go for teacher salaries.

Three bills detail Milliken's plan for classroom innovation.

—Uniform testing in grades 1, 2, 4, 7 and 10.

—Neighborhood education centers or "storefront academies" primarily in urban ghettoes.

—development of teaching standards and incentive pay.

In his legislative message last week, Milliken said he was "absolutely convinced" people would pay the price "if they can be convinced they are getting their money's worth."

Martin Fired By Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Battling Billy Martin, who piloted Minnesota to a division title in his first stormy season as a major league manager, was fired today.

Twins president Calvin Griffith, in New York for the World Series, announced his decision not to rehire Martin for the 1970 season after a telephone conversation with the fiery, 41-year-old manager, who was in Minneapolis.

The announcement came as no surprise to Martin after Griffith was quoted earlier in the Minneapolis Tribune as saying he would call Martin and "it won't be to tell him that he will be manager of the Twins next year."

"It's pretty clear, isn't it?" Martin responded.

Griffith said he has no one in mind yet to replace Martin. "I will have to wait until we get back home," he said.

"Since my meeting on Thursday (with Martin) I have constantly deliberated his future with the Minnesota Twins. Today, I have decided not to renew his contract as manager.

"Prior to hiring him, realizing his explosive personality and his inexperience as a manager I had numerous meetings with him to set policy and guide lines. I feel he has completely ignored our understandings. Even through winning the Western Division title, I feel a change will benefit the future successful operation of the Minnesota Twins.

Asked if it was a hard decision to fire Martin, Griffith replied "it was the hardest one I've ever had to make about a manager."

Martin is the third Twins manager fired by Griffith in three years.

Sawyer Finishes Fifth In SAC

K. I. Sawyer's 410th Bombing Wing finished in fifth place at the Strategeic Air Command (SAC) 1969 "World Series of Bombing" held last week at Fairchild AFB in Spokane, Wash.

Twenty-four SAC bomber crews, flying 22 B-52 Stratofortresse and two B-58 Hustlers, plus three Royal Air Force crews flying Vulcans, competed for the championship.

To gain its fifth place finish, Sawyer placed third in bombing and 16th in aviation for an overall total of 1,135 points out of a possible 1,500.

Grand Forks AFB from North Dakota stood off all challengers to win the competition by scoring 1,296 points out of a possible total of 1,500.

Negaunee Opens Mine Museum

NEGAUNEE — The Jackson mine museum, displaying a collection of more than 2,300 artifacts of Negaunee's colorful mining history, has been opened here by Frank G. Matthews Sr.

Many of the items, collected by Matthews, 67, since boyhood, come from the Jackson mine, the first property operated after the discovery of iron ore here in 1844. On display are tools and equipment used in the 1800s.

A cross built of iron has been placed along one of the trails leading to the museum. Matthews said it was a monument to Chief Marji Gesick, the Ojibway chief who led prospectors to the ore outcropping where the Jackson mine was developed.

The admission free museum is located in a two-block area on the north side of Highway 41, west of the Marquette county airport. Matthews is a retired farmer whose career as an iron miner was curtailed by a mining accident.

TO BE CARRIED on daddy's back was the only opportunity for this German boy to get a real astronaut handshake. Edwin Aldrin obliges the youngster as the three American Apollo 11 crewmen passed through the crowded city of Cologne after their arrival at a local airport for a two-day visit to Germany. Demonstrators Confront MPs Near Fort Dix

Within minutes hundreds of gas-masked MPs arrived to repel the marchers.

The two groups confronted each other at close quarters with the demonstrators inches away from the troops' bayonets. Many shouted, "We're on your side!" and "The brass lives high and GIs die!"

After repeated appeals to the demonstrators to leave, Col. Bernard Carr, post provost marshal, gave the order to fire the tear gas.

Army spokesmen said rifles carried by the MPs were not loaded, although bayonets were attached.

The Army contends that only 35 men were involved in the stockade disturbance, that only four have been sentenced so far and that investigation's still pending for only six.

Plans To Seek Eradication Of Marijuana Plants

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas Wildlife Federation opposes Gov. Robert Docking's plan to seek eradication of marijuana plants in the state.

At its weekend convention, the federation adopted a resolution of opposition, saying marijuana is an "indigenous weed in Kansas and grows among giant ragweed, foxtail and other types of prime cover and seed for wildlife," and that all other plants would be wiped out if marijuana is.

Railmen 'Struck' By World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunday was a beautiful Indian summer day here. The second game of the World Series was on television. And 248 Long Island Rail Road crewmen called in sick. Trains were delayed up to 45 minutes.

"Whenever the nice weather comes, the boys don't show up, and we've had this problem every year for a long time," said Hank Boerner, director of public relations for the LIRR.

George Clark, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said Sunday that good weather and baseball might have contributed to the plague.

"They're out for the reasons best known to them personally," he said. "But nobody is acting in concert. There's no sinister reason behind it."

Coho Catches Reported Nil

During our last coho report we mentioned that fishing was beginning to pick up, well those fickle salmon have done it again — they've stopped biting.

According to a survey conducted this past weekend by resort owners and the Department of Natural Resources 20 coho fishermen caught a grand total of three coho.

Herbert Fix, owner of the Vagabond Resort, caught the season's largest coho over the weekend when he landed a 33 inch, 18 pound fish off the Stonington side of the Bay.

According to Dave Johnson, district fish biologist this rain and colder weather should bring the fish in. Another reason for the low success could have been the low number of anglers on the Bay over the weekend, reports Johnson.

Over at Thompson, things started to look up Saturday when several anglers brought in some nice catches of salmon, but Sunday saw another "nothing" day that frustrated most fishermen trying to catch the elusive coho in Thompson Bay.

Heavy storms and cold weather have roughed things up today on Little Bay de Noc and at Thompson Bay and tomorrow's outlook isn't any better.

Injured Counsel Files Charges In Chicago Rioting

CHICAGO (AP) — An assistant corporation counsel injured during a street rampage by a militant faction of the Students for a Democratic Society faces many months of paralysis, doctors say.

Charged with attempted murder and aggravated battery in the attack Saturday on Richard Elrod, 35, was Brian Flanagan, 22, of Southampton, N.Y. Flanagan was held today in $100,000 bail.

Elrod was involved in a scuffle when members of the Weatherman faction of SDS demonstrated in the downtown Loop area. His neck was broken and his body paralyzed.

The march was the culmination of four days of violence at demonstrations called by the Weatherman SDS faction which had vowed to "bring the war home" to Chicago.

Organizers predicted 5,000 to 15,000 persons would take part. No more than 500 took part in any demonstration.

Some 250 persons were arrested during the four days, about half of them Saturday. Most were charged with mob action, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Two Alternatives For Controllers Of Air Traffic

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "Air controllers may have only one alternative, either strike and jolt the system or keep killing people in plane crashes," says a spokesman for them.

The governing board of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization met over the weekend and repeated in a letter to the Federal Aviation Administration demands for more controllers and better equipment at airports.

"We've held off pressing our demands since the change in administration because we wanted Richard Nixon to have adequate opportunity to become familiar with the air traffic situation," F. Lee Bailey, the organization's general counsel, told newsmen Sunday.

"Now the grace period is over."

Famed Skater Sonja Henie, Dies Abroad

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Sonja Henie, who put ice skating into show business and made millions, will be buried in her native Norway.

Miss Henie died Sunday night aboard an ambulance plane bringing her home from a vacation in France with her third husband, shipping magnate Niels Onstad. She was 57 and had been suffering from leukemia for nine months, but the public and most of her friends did not know.

The condition of the three-time Olympic gold medalist suddenly worsened in Paris and a doctor who was called in advised Onstad to take her home.

"We had been flying only an hour and she just slept away," the husband said.

Miss Henie kept up her skating—and her 110-pound, 5-foot-2 figure—after she stopped performing in the mid-1950s, but after her marriage to Onstad in 1956 she devoted more and more time to the outstanding collection of modern art which he had started.

In 1958, the Onstads gave Norway 250 of their paintings, housing them in the $3.5 million Hoevikodden Art Center which they built outside Oslo. Miss Henie's many skating trophies have been on display in the art center since last year, and recently she announced plans to build a retirement home next to the museum.

An American citizen since 1941, Miss Henie kept a mansion in the Holmby Hills section of Los Angeles and she and Onstad also maintained an estate near Oslo and an apartment in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Lions' Barney Has Problems

DETROIT (AP) — A local contest to pick the All - Time Detroit Lions football team has another week to go and so far Lem Barney is the fourth-best vote getter among defensive backs.

But the usually sensational third - year cornerback from Jackson State had his problems Sunday in Detroit's 28-17 loss to Green Bay. Apparently Bart Starr and Carroll Dale weren't worried about his billing.

Starr, in his 14th season in the National Football League, found flanker Dale open most of the day and hit him on seven passes for 167 yards. Dale was Barney's responsibility because Detroit played mostly a man-on-man defense.

"You can't outrun him," Dale said of Barney. "So you have to make your break at the right time. If you make your break too early you beat the quarterback and that's no good either."

Dale, a 10 - year veteran from Virginia Tech, has never been known for his speed but rather his good moves to fake defenders out of position.

Barney, NFL defensive Rookie of the Year in 1967, was an All-Pro that year and in 1968. He was upset with himself for allowing Dale to catch several passes but praised the fine passing of Starr on several others.

Council To Host Nocturnal Hour

Escanaba Council 640, Knights of Columbus, is the host council for the annual tri-council nocturnal hour at St. Francis Xavier Church, Spalding, Thursday. Guests of the Columbus Council will be Menominee Council 646 and Baraga Council 1585 of Iron Mountain.

Meet To Plan For Muscular Dystrophy Drive

A public meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15, in the Hospitality Center of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., 1628 Ludington St., will be held for the purpose of organizing a Delta County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter.

The chapter is necessary so that county - wide activities may be coordinated to raise needed funds for continued research and aids such as wheelchairs, hydraulic lifts, etc., for those in this area afflicted with muscular systrophy.

Past annual drives in Delta County have been conducted with the assistance of area students and will continue as long as the students are willing and know how much their talent and time is appreciated by those who need help in living with muscular dystrophy, it is reported.

While donations are appreciated from any source, it is pointed out that there is no direct appeal made to our business people because of the many demands already made upon them. Donations come from the homes in our county and are usually small, therefore it is necessary to contact as many as possible.

Interested persons from Bark River, Kipling, Cornell, Brampton, Perkins, Nahma and the Stonington areas are needed to coordinate those areas.

Persons interested in helping organize a chapter for Delta County are asked to attend the meeting. Information may be received by calling 786-2610 after 5 p.m., said James E. Vicenzi, 1969 chairman, Delta County Muscular Dystrophy Drive.

Water Problem Delays Opening

BESSEMER — Lack of sufficient water pressure for operation of its sprinkler system may delay a start of operations at the new Iron Wood Products Corp. plant here.

Company officials say that engineers have suggested a 300,000 gallon reservoir would be the most feasible and economical method of providing the necessary water for the system. City council members, however, are reluctant to undertake such a project, preferring to wait until installation of a 12-inch water main to the plant is completed.

The company, which says that a resolution passed by the council Nov. 1, 1967, obligates the city to undertake the project, has offered to build the reservoir and then sell it to the city over a period of years.

Business Center Traffic Changes Before Council

The City Council will have before it a report and recommendation on downtown traffic changes in Escanaba when it meets at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Civic Center, reports City Manager George Harvey.

The recommendations are:

- Install a traffic light at 12th and Ludington Sts.
- Eliminate left turns off Ludington St. between and including 11th and 13th Sts.
- Convert the present four-way pedestrian walk and wait light at 10th and 11 Sts. to allow pedestrians to move only on the green light.
- Enlarge the visual area at 10th St. and 1st Ave. N. The recommendations would be put into effect "on a trial or test basis and will be subject to change as deem a change necessary," Harvey advised the Council.

He pointed out that the problems have been created because of the increasing volume of auto traffic.

"There is not question about it that this is a city-wide problem but it is much more acute in the downtown core section," he added.

Other business to come before the Council includes:

Reports of the results of the appelate court decision on union membership of the police officers. The decision allows the officers to belong to organizations other than law enforcement, and here they are members of Teamsters Local 328.

Reaffirmation of the city's policy requiring city employes to live within the city limits.

Request for authorization to engage financial and legal counsel for the expansion of the municipal electric generating station.

Report and recommendation on bids for utility poles and rock salt for ice control.

Consideration of a request from Dean Shipman for purchase of undivided real estate interest.

Reds Preparing For Offensive?

SAIGON (AP) — The lull in the Vietnam war now in its sixth week, is expected to continue, a U.S. estimate said today, but only until the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese are ready to launch their winter-spring campaign.

An official assessment for the 3rd Military Corps Zone, which includes Saigon, reported:

"Except for scattered attacks by fire (rockets and mortars) and light ground probes, the enemy is expected to prolong his period of reorganization and refitting while awaiting political developments and preparing for his next campaign."

The estimate gave no timetable for the start of the next campaign, but some U.S. officers have said the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese plan a winter-spring campaign beginning in November.

"Intelligence obtained from prisoners and documents has consistently indicated that the objective of the (enemy's) fall campaign was to prepare for the winter-spring offensive," the assessment continued." The enemy's actions to date seem to bear out these intentions.

Other sources said the enemy troops are being extensively resupplied with weapons and ammunition. Paratroopers from the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division uncovered one stockpile Sunday night 25 miles northwest of Saigon. Underground tunnels yielded 90 Chinese rifles, 21 light machine guns and more than 200 mortar shells.

Only small fights were reported during the past 24 hours.

recommend to the Legislature how those regions should be drawn.

A companion bill proposes consolidation of the more than 300 districts that Milliken said are too small to be effective. Some do not have complete kindergarten through high school programs and 10 don't operate schools at all.

Lump Sum Asked

Details of Milliken's plan to eliminate the cumbersome state school aid formula, based on property assessment and school enrollment, are contained in a separate bill. Milliken recommends the Legislature simply budget a lump sum for the department based upon requests forwarded by regional planners.

A three - mill optional local tax is described separately. Communities could use it to supplement funds received from their share of the 16 - mill state tax. Its funds could be used for special programs but could not go for teacher salaries.

Three bills detail Milliken's plan for classroom innovation.

—Uniform testing in grades 1, 2, 4, 7 and 10.

—Neighborhood education centers or "storefront academies" primarily in urban ghettoes.

—development of teaching standards and incentive pay.

In his legislative message last week, Milliken said he was "absolutely convinced" people would pay the price "if they can be convinced they are getting their money's worth."

Martin Fired By Griffith

NEW YORK (AP) — Battling Billy Martin, who piloted Minnesota to a division title in his first stormy season as a major league manager, was fired today.

Twins president Calvin Griffith, in New York for the World Series, announced his decision not to rehire Martin for the 1970 season after a telephone conversation with the fiery, 41-year-old manager, who was in Minneapolis.

The announcement came as no surprise to Martin after Griffith was quoted earlier in the Minneapolis Tribune as saying he would call Martin and "it won't be to tell him that he will be manager of the Twins next year."

"It's pretty clear, isn't it?" Martin responded.

Griffith said he has no one in mind yet to replace Martin. "I will have to wait until we get back home," he said.

"Since my meeting on Thursday (with Martin) I have constantly deliberated his future with the Minnesota Twins. Today, I have decided not to renew his contract as manager.

"Prior to hiring him, realizing his explosive personality and his inexperience as a manager I had numerous meetings with him to set policy and guide lines. I feel he has completely ignored our understandings. Even through winning the Western Division title, I feel a change will benefit the future successful operation of the Minnesota Twins.

Asked if it was a hard decision to fire Martin, Griffith replied "it was the hardest one I've ever had to make about a manager."

Martin is the third Twins manager fired by Griffith in three years.

Negaunee Opens Mine Museum

NEGAUNEE — The Jackson mine museum, displaying a collection of more than 2,300 artifacts of Negaunee's colorful mining history, has been opened here by Frank G. Matthews Sr.

Many of the items, collected by Matthews, 67, since boyhood, come from the Jackson mine, the first property operated after the discovery of iron ore here in 1844. On display are tools and equipment used in the 1800s.

A cross built of iron has been placed along one of the trails leading to the museum. Matthews said it was a monument to Chief Marji Gesick, the Ojibway chief who led prospectors to the ore outcropping where the Jackson mine was developed.

The admission free museum is located in a two-block area on the north side of Highway 41, west of the Marquette county airport. Matthews is a retired farmer whose career as an iron miner was curtailed by a mining accident.

Demonstrators Confront MPs Near Fort Dix

Within minutes hundreds of gas-masked MPs arrived to repel the marchers.

The two groups confronted each other at close quarters with the demonstrators inches away from the troops' bayonets. Many shouted, "We're on your side!" and "The brass lives high and GIs die!"

After repeated appeals to the demonstrators to leave, Col. Bernard Carr, post provost marshal, gave the order to fire the tear gas.

Army spokesmen said rifles carried by the MPs were not loaded, although bayonets were attached.

The Army contends that only 35 men were involved in the stockade disturbance, that only four have been sentenced so far and that investigation's still pending for only six.

Plans To Seek Eradication Of Marijuana Plants

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — The Kansas Wildlife Federation opposes Gov. Robert Docking's plan to seek eradication of marijuana plants in the state.

At its weekend convention, the federation adopted a resolution of opposition, saying marijuana is an "indigenous weed in Kansas and grows among giant ragweed, foxtail and other types of prime cover and seed for wildlife," and that all other plants would be wiped out if marijuana is.

Railmen 'Struck' By World Series

NEW YORK (AP) — Sunday was a beautiful Indian summer day here. The second game of the World Series was on television. And 248 Long Island Rail Road crewmen called in sick. Trains were delayed up to 45 minutes.

"Whenever the nice weather comes, the boys don't show up, and we've had this problem every year for a long time," said Hank Boerner, director of public relations for the LIRR.

George Clark, general chairman of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, said Sunday that good weather and baseball might have contributed to the plague.

"They're out for the reasons best known to them personally," he said. "But nobody is acting in concert. There's no sinister reason behind it."

Coho Catches Reported Nil

During our last coho report we mentioned that fishing was beginning to pick up, well those fickle salmon have done it again — they've stopped biting.

According to a survey conducted this past weekend by resort owners and the Department of Natural Resources 20 coho fishermen caught a grand total of three coho.

Herbert Fix, owner of the Vagabond Resort, caught the season's largest coho over the weekend when he landed a 33 inch, 18 pound fish off the Stonington side of the Bay.

According to Dave Johnson, district fish biologist this rain and colder weather should bring the fish in. Another reason for the low success could have been the low number of anglers on the Bay over the weekend, reports Johnson.

Over at Thompson, things started to look up Saturday when several anglers brought in some nice catches of salmon, but Sunday saw another "nothing" day that frustrated most fishermen trying to catch the elusive coho in Thompson Bay.

Heavy storms and cold weather have roughed things up today on Little Bay de Noc and at Thompson Bay and tomorrow's outlook isn't any better.

Injured Counsel Files Charges In Chicago Rioting

CHICAGO (AP) — An assistant corporation counsel injured during a street rampage by a militant faction of the Students for a Democratic Society faces many months of paralysis, doctors say.

Charged with attempted murder and aggravated battery in the attack Saturday on Richard Elrod, 35, was Brian Flanagan, 22, of Southampton, N.Y. Flanagan was held today in $100,000 bail.

Elrod was involved in a scuffle when members of the Weatherman faction of SDS demonstrated in the downtown Loop area. His neck was broken and his body paralyzed.

The march was the culmination of four days of violence at demonstrations called by the Weatherman SDS faction which had vowed to "bring the war home" to Chicago.

Organizers predicted 5,000 to 15,000 persons would take part. No more than 300 took part in any demonstration.

Some 250 persons were arrested during the four days, about half of them Saturday. Most were charged with mob action, disorderly conduct and resisting arrest.

Two Alternatives For Controllers Of Air Traffic

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — "Air controllers may have only one alternative, either strike and jolt the system or keep killing people in plane crashes," says a spokesman for them.

The governing board of the Professional Air Traffic Controllers Organization met over the weekend and repeated in a letter to the Federal Aviation Administration demands for more controllers and better equipment at airports.

"We've held off pressing our demands since the change in administration because we wanted Richard Nixon to have adequate opportunity to become familiar with the air traffic situation," F. Lee Bailey, the organization's general counsel, told newsmen Sunday.

"Now the grace period is over."

Famed Skater Sonja Henie, Dies Abroad

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Sonja Henie, who put ice skating into show business and made millions, will be buried in her native Norway.

Miss Henie died Sunday night aboard an ambulance plane bringing her home from a vacation in France with her third husband, shipping magnate Niels Onstad. She was 57 and had been suffering from leukemia for nine months, but the public and most of her friends did not know.

The condition of the three-time Olympic gold medalist suddenly worsened in Paris and a doctor who was called in advised Onstad to take her home.

"We had been flying only an hour and she just slept away," the husband said.

Miss Henie kept up her skating—and her 110-pound, 5-foot-2 figure—after she stopped performing in the mid-1950s, but after her marriage to Onstad in 1956 she devoted more and more time to the outstanding collection of modern art which he had started.

In 1968, the Onstads gave Norway 250 of their paintings, housing them in the $3.5 million Hoevikodden Art Center which they built outside Oslo. Miss Henie's many skating trophies have been on display in the art center since last year, and recently she announced plans to build a retirement home next to the museum.

An American citizen since 1941, Miss Henie kept a mansion in the Holmby Hills section of Los Angeles and she and Onstad also maintained an estate near Oslo and an apartment in Lausanne, Switzerland.

Lions' Barney Has Problems

DETROIT (AP) — A local contest to pick the All - Time Detroit Lions football team has another week to go and so far Lem Barney is the fourth-best vote getter among defensive backs.

But the usually sensational third - year cornerback from Jackson State had his problems Sunday in Detroit's 28-17 loss to Green Bay. Apparently Bart Starr and Carroll Dale weren't worried about his billing.

Starr, in his 14th season in the National Football League, found flanker Dale open most of the day and hit him on seven passes for 167 yards. Dale was Barney's responsibility because Detroit played mostly a man-on-man defense.

"You can't outrun him," Dale said of Barney. "So you have to make your break at the right time. If you make your break too early you beat the quarterback and that's no good either."

Dale, a 10 - year veteran from Virginia Tech, has never been known for his speed but rather his good moves to fake defenders out of position.

Barney, NFL defensive Rookie of the Year in 1967, was an All-Pro that year and in 1968. He was upset with himself for allowing Dale to catch several passes but praised the fine passing of Starr on several others.

Meet To Plan For Muscular Dystrophy Drive

A public meeting at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Oct. 15, in the Hospitality Center of Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., 1628 Ludington St., will be held for the purpose of organizing a Delta County Muscular Dystrophy Chapter.

The chapter is necessary so that county - wide activities may be coordinated to raise needed funds for continued research and aids such as wheelchairs, hydraulic lifts, etc., for those in this area afflicted with muscular dystrophy.

Past annual drives in Delta County have been conducted with the assistance of area students and will continue as long as the students are willing and know how much their talent and time is appreciated by those who need help in living with muscular dystrophy, it is reported.

While donations are appreciated from any source, it is pointed out that there is no direct appeal made to our business people because of the many demands already made upon them. Donations come from the homes in our county and are usually small, therefore it is necessary to contact as many as possible.

Interested persons from Bark River, Kipling, Cornell, Brampton, Perkins, Nahma and the Stonington areas are needed to coordinate those areas.

Water Problem Delays Opening

BESSEMER — Lack of sufficient water pressure for operation of its sprinkler system may delay a start of operations at the new Iron Wood Products Corp. plant here.

Company officials say that engineers have suggested a 300,000 gallon reservoir would be the most feasible and economical method of providing the necessary water for the system. City council members, however, are reluctant to undertake such a project, preferring to wait until installation of a 12-inch water main to the plant is completed.

The company, which says that a resolution passed by the council Nov. 1, 1967, obligates the city to undertake the project, has offered to build the reservoir and then sell it to the city over a period of years.

Operation Mail Call Under Way For GIs

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — "We're hoping that we can send so many cards and letters, just literally swamp Vietnam, that every serviceman will have something to read from back home."

That's the Christmas goal of "Operation Mail Call Vietnam." The Villanova University organizers of the nationwide campaign say it's a nonpolitical moral booster, and neither pro nor antiwar.

"We just want to prove that Americans think about and care for their men fighting overseas," said Robert Breslin, 19, of Manhasset, N.Y., one of the cochairmen.

Hundreds of pieces of mail pour in daily.

"It shows people's concern for other people who are in danger and far away," said Thomas Treacy, 22, of Plainview, N.Y., the other cochairman.

The project began in 1966, and has mushroomed through word-of-mouth and college newspaper reports. Last year the Villanova volunteers sent 30,000 letters and cards for Christmas in Vietnam.

"The letters, and lots of small packages, will go to servicemen who don't get much mail, or maybe none at all. It will be distributed by company commanders, hospitals, the USO, and the Red Cross."

All mail is checked by the team of 75 student volunteers to eliminate propaganda, political slogans, crackpot comments and dirty words. The sorted bags will leave the campus about Dec. 1 via military air transport arranged free through the Evergreen Service Club at Ft. Dix, N.J.

Will TV Become Invasion Tool?

MAR DEL PLATA, Argentina (AP) — Television might become a weapon of "ideological invasion" unless international controls are established, an Italian expert on space law told the 20th congress of the International Astronautical Federation.

Pompeo Magno said that by 1985, television stations will be able to make satellite transmissions direct to foreign viewers without being channeled through ground reception stations.

He said both the East and the West fear this coming revolution in television—the East fears political penetration while the West fears a threat to its advertising system.

Hypothetically, Magno explained, a television network in Venezuela, with low advertising rates and the ability to reach any TV set in the United States, could drain off U.S. advertising now restricted to three major American networks.

Solon Backing Pollution Suit

WASHINGTON (AP) — The chairman of a House subcommittee that oversees Justice Department operations urged it Friday to let a major auto pollution suit in Los Angeles go to trial.

If the Justice Department will not withdraw a consent decree permitting the suit to be settled without trial, Rep. Dante B. Fascell, D-Fla., said in a telegram, it should at least permit Los Angeles County and New York City to become litigants because of their smog problems.

Fascell is chairman of the House government operations subcommittee which oversees operations of federal legal and monetary agencies including the Justice Department.

The department filed the consent decree Sept. 11 in its suit charging the four major auto manufacturers of conspiring to delay development of new anti-smog devices for cars.

Fascell joined 67 other congressmen in urging the department to withdraw the decree which would permit a private settlement of the case.

An aide to Fascell said the deadline for withdrawing the decree is Saturday.

Two Women Pay $400 For Lost Purse, $11,000

POINT RICHEY, Fla. (AP)— Two former Royal Oak, Mich., women didn't know whether to laugh or cry this week when they learned a purse they'd lost with $11,000 in it had been found —and the finders demanded a $400 reward.

Mrs. Pearl Anger, 59, and her friend Mrs. Gwendolyn Pease, 44, learned shortly after arriving at their new home in Florida that their purse—containing an $8,745 check for their former home and some other money—had been found.

The finders had telephoned Mrs. Pease's mother, Mrs. Kenneth Patton, in Royal Oak and asked "How much do you want to give us for it?" After consulting with a attorney, Mrs. Randall told the caller $500.

When the finders, two women aged about 18 and 20, showed up with the purse at the Patton home, they settled for $400. They said they'd found the purse while swimming in a lake in Bloomfield Hills. It was covered with muck.

Operation Mail Call Under Way For GIs

VILLANOVA, Pa. (AP) — "We're hoping that we can send so many cards and letters, just literally swamp Vietnam, that every serviceman will have something to read from back home."

That's the Christmas goal of "Operation Mail Call Vietnam." The Villanova University organizers of the nationwide campaign say it's a nonpolitical morale booster, and neither pro nor antiwar.

"We just want to prove that Americans think about and care for their men fighting overseas," said Robert Brestin, 19, of Manhasset, N.Y., one of the cochairmen.

Hundreds of pieces of mail pour in daily.

"It shows people's concern for other people who are in danger and far away," said Thomas Treacy, 22, of Plainview, N.Y., the other cochairman.

The project began in 1966, and has mushroomed through word-of-mouth and college newspaper reports. Last year the Villanova volunteers sent 30,000 letters and cards for Christmas in Vietnam.

"The letters, and lots of small packages, will go to servicemen who don't get much mail, or maybe none at all. It will be distributed by company commanders, hospitals, the USO, and the Red Cross."

All mail is checked by the team of 75 student volunteers to eliminate propaganda, political slogans, crackpot comments and dirty words. The sorted bags will leave the campus about Dec. 1 via military air transport arranged free through the Evergreen Service Club at Ft. Dix, N.J.

Braves Blank Miners To Take League Lead

By MIKE UTT

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves took over sole possession of first place in the Great Lakes Conference Saturday afternoon with a 36-0 romp over the Negaunee Miners at the Marble Athletic Field.

The victory, coupled with Munising's victory over Sault Ste. Marie, gave the Braves the top spot and set up the contest this weekend between the Braves and the Soo for the conference title.

Neither team scored in the first quarter as the Braves held Negaunee at the Gladstone 15-yard line alte in the period, setting up their own scoring drive in the following series of downs.

A 21-yard run by quarterback Cliff Young got the Braves moving and a pass from Young to Gary Young for 48 yards set up the one-yard touchdown plunge by John Skellenger early in the second period. Young then passed to Bart Stupak for two points to give the Braves an 8-0 lead.

The Braves got on the board again a few minutes later after forcing the Miners to punt from their own 31 yard line. A short punt gave the Braves the ball on the Negaunee 46 and they scored in four plays, the final play being a 29-yard pass from Young to Keith Demeuse, who started the game in place of the injured Lynn Apelgren. Demeuse made a terrific catch on the one-yard line near the sideline and went into the end zone. Young added two more points to the total with a conversion run.

After Negaunee failed to gain in the following series of downs, the Braves took over at the Miners' 39 after another short punt. Young picked up five yards on a run before hitting Skellenger with a 33-yard pass play to put the ball on the one yard line. Pat Cole then bulled his way to paydirt and Young kicked the extra point, putting the Braves out in front 23-0.

Although the Braves had trouble getting into the end zone on their own passes, Cliff Young didn't have any trouble getting a touchdown on one of Negaunee's when he intercepted a pass on the first play after the kickoff and raced 35 yards down the sideline to the goal line. Young then kicked the extra point for Gladstone's 30th point of the quarter.

Gladstone added its final touchdown with four minutes remaining in the third quarter after a 59 yard drive in nine plays. Gary Young put them on the board again with a three-yard run and Cliff Young's kick for the point after touchdown missed.

Negaunee's only real scoring threat came in their final series of downs against the Gladstone reserves, but it, too, was stopped when Richard DeMay intercepted a Darryl Waara pass at the 15-yard line. Greg Nelson intercepted another Waara pass on Negaunee's previous series of downs at the Gladstone 39-yard line.

The Gladstone team performed well on both offense and defense, with Bob Young, Tom Pfotenhauer, Gary Goodman and Pat McGeary turning in particularly outstanding defensive performances. Pfotenhauer was all over the field making tackles and Goodman recovered a fumble in addition to his hard tackling.

Gladstone picked up 145 yards rushing and 126 passing in the game for a total of 271 yards. Skellenger was the leading rusher for the Braves with 44 yards in nine carries while Gary Young picked up 42 in ten carries and Cliff Young had 34 in 11 trips.

Gladstone was in complete control throughout the game and although the Miners were missing five regulars due to injury and sickness, it is doubtful whether they could have mounted any serious threat to the title-hungry Braves. The Braves have now won four straight and have a 5-1-1 record on the season.

Eagles Trip Soo Loretto

ENGADINE — The Engadine Eagles went over the .500 mark Saturday by scoring a 20-14 victory over the Soo Loretto Angels to give them a 4-3 record on the season.

The Eagles took the opening kickoff and scored in eight plays, Ron Weger going the final ten yards for the touchdown. Weger's run for two points was stopped short of the end zone and Engadine led 6-0.

A short time later, Soo Loretto took over on their own 15-yard line and got on the scoreboard in ten plays. Gary Paquette got credit for the touchdown with a 31-yard scamper to paydirt. A run for two points was short and the score was tied at 6-6.

Engadine scored again from their own 48-yard line in five plays. The big play in the drive was a 20-yard pass from Skip Bigger to Dick Lesatz to the Soo Loretto 35-yard line. Fullback Gus Fillman then ran it into the end zone and John Brown followed with an extra kick and Engadine led 13-6.

Dave Kovar recovered the kickoff on the Soo Loretto 35-yard line and a fourth down screen pass from Bigger to Fillman picked up 33 yards and a touchdown. Brown kicked the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, Soo Loretto took advantage of a short Engadine punt and scored from the Eagles' 36-yard line in three plays. Paquette went the final 11 yards for the touchdown and also scored the two-point conversion on a run.

Fillman was Engadine's leading rusher with 109 yards in 16 carries and the Eagles, as a team, picked up a total of 271 yards in the game.

Rod Carlson, the Engadine coach, singled out the performances of 230-pound middle guard Gary King, Weger, Brown and Gene Salter on defense.

Wildcats Drop 40-37 Decision

MT. PLEASANT — A touchdown in the final minute earned Central Michigan a 40-37 decision over Northern Michigan in an offensive donnybrook before 8,000 fans at Alumni Field here Saturday afternoon.

Northern quarterback Rich McCarthy fired three touchdown passes and broke four NMU pass records in a losing battle. The Kingsford senior had scoring tosses of 22 and 25 yards to split end Mike Boyd and another of 31 yards to halfback Lonnie Holton.

Northern took a 23-9 halftime lead, thanks to McCarthy's TD passes to Boyd, a fumble recovery in the end zone by Dick Haynes and a pair of two-point converasions.

Central, however, ripped NMU for three touchdowns in the third quarter behind the running of Jesse Lakes, who accounted for 227 yards rushing, and added an early fourth quarter field goal to lead the Wildcats 33-23.

McCarthy's pass to Holton and a two yard plunge by fullback Dave Ripmaster put NMU back in front 37-33 with 5:36 to play, but Central drove 64 yards in 13 plays for the game-winning touchdown. Lakes bulled his way 20 yards for the score, his third of the day, with 48 seconds to play.

MAGIC NUMBER — Don Buford, left, Mike Cuellar and Mark Belanger signal three games to go after winning the opening game of the World Series Saturday for the Baltimore Orioles, 4-1. Things didn't turn out as they planned, though, as the New York Mets evened things up on Sunday with a 2-1 victory. The series now shifts back to New York for the third, fourth and fifth games. (AP Wirephoto).

Hodges, Robinson Begin Feud; Series Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson's demeaning charge that the New York dugout has looked lifeless during the first two games of the World Series has ignited an open feud between the Baltimore slugger and Mets' Manager Gil Hodges.

"I'm very happy Frank is watching us," Hodges said evenly but coldly in the Mets' dressing room Sunday after his underdog forces had tied the series at one victory each. "I hope he continues to watch us—who knows what will happen in right field?

"I don't want to get involved with Frank Robinson but to me the Mets are normal people doing normal things on the bench."

Robinson Answers

It may look like that to the mild-mannered manager of the Mets but it doesn't look like that to the outspoken outfielder of the Orioles.

"I said Saturday I thought it was strange there was no enthusiasm on their bench when they got men on base in the seventh inning," Robinson said Sunday, "and there was no difference today. They got excited when they scored but there was no difference in between.

"I think it is very, very strange they don't show any enthusiasm."

And then he added quietly as he sat slumped in a chair in front of his locker in the Orioles' dressing room:

Words For Hodges

"Tell Hodges to manage his ball club and I'll take care of right field."

Robinson has taken care of right field extremely well in the first two games of the series but has done nothing at the plate, failing to collect a hit in seven trips as the Orioles won Saturday's opener 4-1, then bowed in the second game 2-1 Sunday.

It was expected that the starters Tuesday will be Gary Gentry, 13-12, for the Mets against Jim Palmer, 16-4, in the third game of this series in which the Mets have done their thing once and the Orioles still have failed to do theirs.

While the Mets Sunday got the expected sharp pitching that is the key to their chances of completing their miracle season by upending the favored Orioles, Baltimore had yet to get the big hits it needs from the Big Three.

That includes Frank and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell, who have been collectively checked on two hits in 22 trips to the plate. Frank is hitless while Brooks Robinson and Powell each have collected one hit—a single.

Koosman, the left-handed ace of the Mets' pitching staff, came on Sunday after the Orioles had beaten right-hander Tom Seaver in Saturday's opener and pitched no-hit ball until Paul Blair opened the seventh inning with a single.

Needs Help

He allowed only one more hit, but finally had to be relieved in the ninth when two-out walks to Frank Robinson and Powell put the Orioles in threatening position to overcome the 2-1 lead the Mets had fashioned in their half of the ninth.

Ron Taylor came on for Koosman and got Brooks Robinson to slap a grounder to third. Ed Charles grabbed the ball, saw he couldn't get a force at third and fired across the diamond to first baseman Donn Clendenon for the final out.

Clendenon had put the Mets in front 1-0 with a leadoff homer in the fourth inning off Baltimore left-hander Dave McNally, but the Orioles got that back in the seventh when Blair singled, stole second and scored on a single by Brooks Robinson.

Mets Win

It stayed that way until the top of the ninth when with two out, Charles singled, raced to third on a hit-and-run single by Jerry Grote and trotted home when Al Weis stroked the first pitch to him for a single to left.

While Koosman produced the pitching the Mets need, Seaver couldn't Saturday as he allowed all four Baltimore runs before he was removed for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning. At the same time, Mike Cuellar stopped the Mets on six hits.

Don Buford got Baltimore started with a leadoff homer in the first inning and they added three more in the fourth inning when Seaver, who has been unable to run because of a pulled leg muscle, said he felt his stamina sapped.

Cuellar singled in one of the runs during the fourth inning uprising, then went back to work on the mound and mastered the Mets the rest of the way in a routine game at quiet Memorial Stadium.

Vikings Register First Shutout In NFL History

By The Associated Press

"We've got the horses and the togetherness to go all the way," said articulate Carl Eller Sunday after he and his Minnesota teammates combined to whip the Chicago Bears 31-0 for the first shutout in Viking history.

Eller, who along with Jim Marshall, Alan Page and Gary Larsen make up the Viking front four on defense which is being rated with great foursomes of the past, said "we got 40 men on this team and everyone contributes."

Contributions to the victory were so varied that two game balls were given out and several more might have been passed around, especially to the front four which held the Bears to one first down in the second half and that came with only three minutes to play in the game.

Mike Reilly got one game ball. Reilly is a former Bear traded to Dallas earlier this year. The Cowboys released him and he tried out with the Vikings and made the grade.

Reilly blocked a Bear punt in the first quarter and then pounced on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. It was Reilly's first National Football League touchdown— "You don't get too many chances as a linebacker," he said, and it was all the Vikings needed.

In other NFL action, Green Bay, 3-1, beat Detroit, 2-2, 28-17 and remained in a first-place tie with Minnesota in the Central Division; Los Angeles, 4-0, edged San Francisco, 0-3-1, 27-21; Dallas, 4-0, outlasted Atlanta, 1-3, 24-17; the New York Giants, 3-1, nipped Pittsburgh, 1-3, 10-7; Cleveland, 3-1, topped New Orleans, 0-4, 27-17, and Washington, 2-1-1, downed St. Louis, 2-2, 33-17.

Philadelphia, 1-2 plays at Baltimore, 1-2, tonight in a game postponed from Sunday because of the World Series.

The Minnesota defense held Chicago's great Gale Sayers to 15 yards in 13 carries and set up touchdowns with a blocked punt, a blocked field goal and an intercepted pass to record its first shutout since the Vikings entered the NFL in 1961.

Los Angeles, the Coastal Division leader, came back from a 21-13 deficit in the last five minutes on scoring plunge by quarterback Roman Gabriel and a one-yard touchdown run by Tommy Mason. A 40-yard punt return to the San Francisco 12 by Alvin Haymond set up Mason's winning score. A last-ditch San Francisco bid was halted on the Los Angeles 12.

Craig Morton completed 15 of 20 passes for 239 yards and a touchdown as Dallas, first in the Capital Division, built up a 24-3 lead early in the final period and then held off Atlanta.

Fran Tarkenton's seven-yard touchdown pass to Joe Morrison, a 14-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak and a defense that once held Pittsburgh on a fourth-and-goal situation on the New York two kept the Giants in a first-place tie with Cleveland in the Century Division.

Leroy Kelly scored two touchdowns, one on a four-yard pass from Bill Nelson in the second quarter when Cleveland rolled up 20 points, in the Browns' victory over New Orleans.

Washington rode the arm of Sonny Jurgensen and the foot of Curt Knight to victory over St. Louis. Jurgensen threw two touchdown passes and Knight kicked field goals 37, 28, 28 and eight yards.

Late Scoring Play Gives Eskymos Win

By MIKE UTT

MARINETTE — It was a little hard to tell which of the Escanaba Eskymos was the happiest after the game Saturday night, but it's hard to believe that anyone was any happier than Rick Brookes, the player who caught a touchdown pass with just 22 seconds remaining in the game to give the Eskymos a 7-6 victory over the Marinette Marines.

"That's the first one I caught this year on that play," said the jubilant Brookes on the sidelines after making the catch. "I dropped all the other ones which would have given us touchdowns this year."

After the Eskymos were finally calmed down, Tom Kangas calmly booted the ball through the uprights for the winning extra point.

Gauthier Connects

The Marine defense then dropped Gauthier for a six yard loss and he threw another incomplete pass before hitting Brookes for a first down at the 29. Another pass to Timmer put the ball on the 19 with just 56 seconds remaining.

After two more incomplete passes, a Marinette defender was guilty of pass interference and the Eskymos got another first down at the ten-yard line with just 34 seconds remaining. Gauthier then threw two more incomplete passes before finding Brookes all alone in the right corner of the end zone for the touchdown.

It was fitting that Brookes caught the winning touchdown pass, for it was he who had fumbled at the Escanaba 39-yard line just two minutes before, giving the Marines a chance at their only touchdown.

Kopish Scores

On the first play after Marinette's Ken Bergerson fell on Brookes' fumble, fullback Wayne Kopish circled around his own left end and raced down the sidelines 39 yards for the touchdown. And it was also fitting that Kangas kick the winning extra point, for it was he who blocked Shely Fifarek's extra point kick after the Marines' touchdown.

The Eskymos didn't have it wrapped up yet, though, as an onside kick gave the Marines the ball at their own 46-yard line. On the first play, the Eskymo line put on a tremendous rush and forced Jeff Magnuson to hurry his throw and the pass fell incomplete. On the second play, Kangas broke through to nail Fifarek for a 12-yard loss back to the 34.

Then came the hair-raising moment. Magnuson threw deep downfield and Eskymo safety Bill Suriano appeared to have an interception. While Suriano was waiting for the pass to come down, a Marinette player collided with him and Suriano was called for pass interference, giving the Marines the ball at the Escanaba 49-yard line.

Final Play

With seven seconds left in the game, Magnuson completed a pass to Kopish, but he was snowed under after a six-yard gain.

The game looked like it was going to end in a 0-0 tie, as neither team could mount much of a drive through the first three periods and hard-hitting defense was the name of the game.

Gauthier's first two passes in the game were intercepted, the first at the Marinette 34-yard line and the second on the Marines' 38. The second one came on the first play after the Eskymos' Mike Olson intercepted a Marinette pass after Al Thorbjornsen caused Magnuson to hurry his trow with a good rush and Dennis Eastman had tipped it into the air.

Thorbjornsen and Eastman were playing in the game because injuries incurred in the Alpena game by key regulars Steve Rosemurgy and Mike Dupont had sidelined them for the season. Both players turned in outstanding defensive games along with Kangas, Olson and Bob Thompson.

Miss Opportunity

Escanaba moved down to the Marinette nine yard line early in the fourth quarter, but a penalty moved them back to the 23 before Timmer caught a pass at the 15. On fourth down, Kangas was sent in to kick a field goal but his 32-yard attempt was wide to the left.

The field goal opportunity was set up when Escanaba gambled on an earlier fourth down situation and Kangas, who stands under center in punting situations, handed off to Bruce Irving and he rambled 20 yards to the 18-yard line.

Escanaba picked up 140 yards rushing in the game with fullback Doug Howard leading the way with 78 yards in 10 carries and Brookes chipping in with 43 in 16 attempts. Gautheir hit on 7 of 17 passing attempts for 74 yards, giving the Eskymos 214 total yards in the game.

Marinette was held to 127 yards rushing and six passing, as Magnuson and Fifarek were limited to just one completion in seven attempts.

Escanaba will now return home for its homecoming encounter against Iron Mountain Saturday night before closing out its season against Holy Name the following Saturday on the Escanaba Athletic Field.

Tigers Finish With 3-3 Mark

ROCK The Powers-Splading Tigers closed out their season Saturday afternoon with a 3-3 record, as they bombarded the Rock Little Giants 57-6 in a Wolverine Conference clash.,

The Tigers opened the scoring in the first period with Lee Vincent scoring from the one-yard line. They came right back to score a few minutes later when Dick Smith hit Vincent with a 10-yard touchdown pass. Vincent then turned around and hit Smith for the two-point conversion.

In the second quarter, Vincent threw twice to Smith for touchdowns in 60 and 15 yard pass plays. Jeff Triest kicked the extra point after the first touchdown and Vincent passed to Smith again after the second.

Smith took off on a 75-yard touchdown gallop, also in the second quarter and Tom Folcik passed to Kim Riedy for 70 yards for another Tiger touchdown. Folcik then passed to Smith for the Tigers' 43rd point.

In the third quarter, Jim Gaber scored on a ten-yard run and Vincent then passed to Gaber for the two-point conversion.

Vincent then closed out the Tiger scoring with 60-yard scamper to paydirt in the fourth quarter.

Rock's only touchdown came on a one-yard run by Gary Brunngraeber.

The Tigers picked up 167 yards on the ground and added 308 more through the air while holding the Little Giants to 74 yards rushing and 76 passing.

Braves Blank Miners To Take League Lead

By MIKE UTT

GLADSTONE — The Gladstone Braves took over sole possession of first place in the Great Lakes Conference Saturday afternoon with a 36-0 romp over the Negaunee Miners at the Marble Athletic Field.

The victory, coupled with Munising's victory over Sault Ste. Marie, gave the Braves the top spot and set up the contest this weekend between the Braves and the Soo for the conference title.

Neither team scored in the first quarter as the Braves held Negaunee at the Gladstone 15-yard line alte in the period, setting up their own scoring drive in the following series of downs.

A 21-yard run by quarterback Cliff Young got the Braves moving and a pass from Young to Gary Young for 48 yards set up the one-yard touchdown plunge by John Skellenger early in the second period. Young then passed to Bart Stupak for two points to give the Braves an 8-0 lead.

The Braves got on the board again a few minutes later after forcing the Miners to punt from their own 31 yard line. A short punt gave the Braves the ball on the Negaunee 46 and they scored in four plays, the final play being a 29-yard pass from Young to Keith Demeuse, who started the game in place of the injured Lynn Apelgren. Demeuse made a terrific catch on the one-yard line near the sideline and went into the end zone. Young added two more points to the total with a conversion run.

After Negaunee failed to gain in the following series of downs, the Braves took over at the Miners' 39 after another short punt. Young picked up five yards on a run before hitting Skellenger with a 33-yard pass play to put the ball on the one yard line. Pat Cole then bulled his way to paydirt and Young kicked the extra point, putting the Braves out in front 23-0.

Although the Braves had trouble getting into the end zone on their own passes, Cliff Young didn't have any trouble getting a touchdown on one of Negaunee's when he intercepted a pass on the first play after the kickoff and raced 35 yards down the sideline to the goal line. Young then kicked the extra point for Gladstone's 30th point of the quarter.

Gladstone added its final touchdown with four minutes remaining in the third quarter after a 59 yard drive in nine plays. Gary Young put them on the board again with a three-yard run and Cliff Young's kick for the point after touchdown missed.

Negaunee's only real scoring threat came in their final series of downs against the Gladstone reserves, but it, too, was stopped when Richard DeMay intercepted a Darryl Waara pass at the 15-yard line. Greg Nelson intercepted another Waara pass on Negaunee's previous series of downs at the Gladstone 39-yard line.

The Gladstone team performed well on both offense and defense, with Bob Young, Tom Pfotenhauer, Gary Goodman and Pat McGeary turning in particularly outstanding defensive performances. Pfotenhauer was all over the field making tackles and Goodman recovered a fumble in addition to his hard tackling.

Gladstone picked up 145 yards rushing and 126 passing in the game for a total of 271 yards. Skellenger was the leading rusher for the Braves with 44 yards in nine carries while Gary Young picked up 42 in ten carries and Cliff Young had 34 in 11 trips.

Gladstone was in complete control throughout the game and although the Miners were missing five regulars due to injury and sickness, it is doubtful whether they could have mounted any serious threat to the title-hungry Braves. The Braves have now won four straight and have a 5-1-1 record on the season.

Eagles Trip Soo Loretto

ENGADINE — The Engadine Eagles went over the .500 mark Saturday by scoring a 20-14 victory over the Soo Loretto Angels to give them a 4-3 record on the season.

The Eagles took the opening kickoff and scored in eight plays. Ron Weger going the final ten yards for the touchdown. Weger's run for two points was stopped short of the end zone and Engadine led 6-0.

A short time later, Soo Loretto took over on their own 15-yard line and got on the scoreboard in ten plays. Gary Paquette got credit for the touchdown with a 31-yard scamper to paydirt. A run for two points was short and the score was tied at 6-6.

Engadine scored again from their own 48-yard line in five plays. The big play in the drive was a 20-yard pass from Skip Bigger to Dick Lasatz to the Soo Loretto 35-yard line. Fullback Gus Fillman then ran it into the end zone and John Brown followed with an extra kick and Engadine led 13-6.

Dave Kovar recovered the kickoff on the Soo Loretto 35-yard line and a fourth down screen pass from Bigger to Fillman picked up 33 yards and a touchdown. Brown kicked the extra point.

In the fourth quarter, Soo Loretto took advantage of a short Engadine punt and scored from the Eagles' 36-yard line in three plays. Paquette went the final 11 yards for the touchdown and also scored the two-point conversion on a run.

Fillman was Engadine's leading rusher with 109 yards in 16 carries and the Eagles, as a team, picked up a total of 271 yards in the game.

Rod Carlson, the Engadine coach, singled out the performances of 230-pound middle guard Gary King, Weger, Brown and Gene Salter on defense.

Wildcats Drop 40-37 Decision

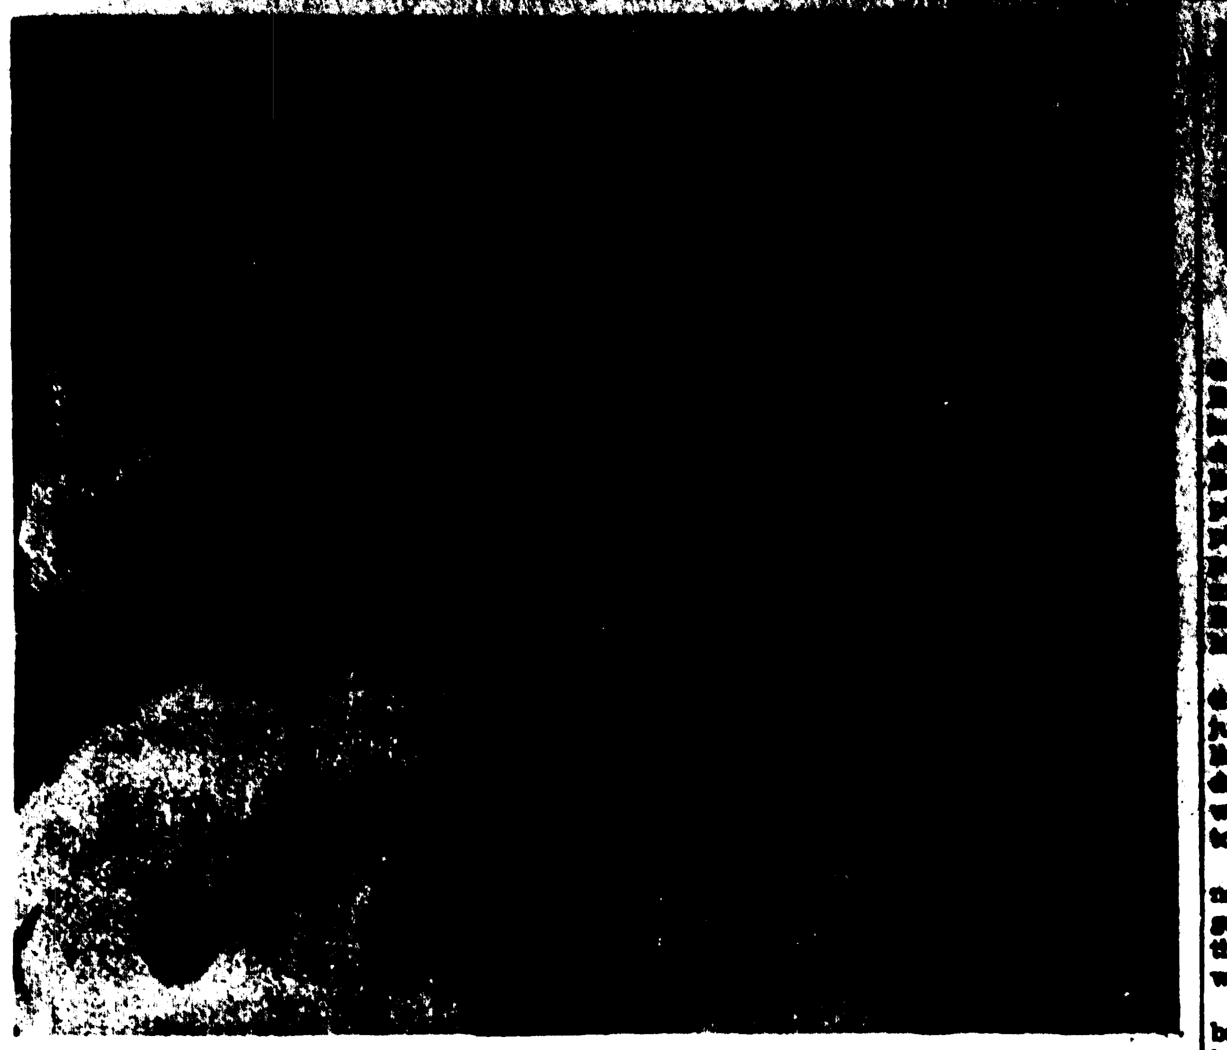
MT. PLEASANT — A touchdown in the final minute earned Central Michigan a 40-37 decision over Northern Michigan in an offensive donnybrook before 8,000 fans at Alumni Field here Saturday afternoon.

Northern quarterback Rich McCarthy fired three touchdown passes and broke four NMU pass records in a losing battle. The Kingsford senior had scoring tosses of 22 and 25 yards to split end Mike Boyd and another of 31 yards to halfback Lonnie Holton.

Northern took a 23-9 halftime lead, thanks to McCarthy's TD passes to Boyd, a fumble recovery in the end zone by Dick Haynes and a pair of two-point converasions.

Central, however, ripped NMU for three touchdowns in the third quarter behind the running of Jesse Lakes, who accounted for 227 yards rushing, and added an early fourth quarter field goal to lead the Wildcats 33-23.

McCarthy's pass to Holton and a two yard plunge by fullback Dave Ripmaster put NMU back in front 37-33 with 5:36 to play, but Central drove 64 yards in 13 plays for the game-winning touchdown. Lakes bulled his way 20 yards for the score, his third of the day, with 48 seconds to play.



MAGIC NUMBER — Don Buford, left, Mike Cuellar and Mark Belanger signal three games to go after winning the opening game of the World Series Saturday for the Baltimore Orioles, 4-1. Things didn't turn out as they planned, though, as the New York Mets evened things up on Sunday with a 2-1 victory. The series now shifts back to New York for the third, fourth and fifth games. (AP Wirephoto).

Hodges, Robinson Begin Feud; Series Deadlocked

NEW YORK (AP) — Frank Robinson's demeaning charge that the New York dugout has looked lifeless during the first two games of the World Series has ignited an open feud between the Baltimore slugger and Mets' Manager Gil Hodges.

"I'm very happy Frank is watching us." Hodges said evenly but coldly in the Mets' dressing room Sunday after his underdog forces had tied the series at one victory each. "I hope he continues to watch us—who knows what will happen in right field?

"I don't want to get involved with Frank Robinson but to me the Mets are normal people doing normal things on the bench."

Robinson Answers

It may look like that to the mild-mannered manager of the Mets but it doesn't look like that to the outspoken outfielder of the Orioles.

"I said Saturday I thought it was strange there was no enthusiasm on their bench when they got men on base in the seventh inning," Robinson said Sunday, "and there was no difference today. They got excited when they scored but there was no difference in between.

"I think it is very, very strange they don't show any enthusiasm."

And then he added quietly as he sat slumped in a chair in front of his locker in the Orioles' dressing room:

Words For Hodges

"Tell Hodges to manage his ball club and I'll take care of right field."

Robinson has taken care of right field extremely well in the first two games of the series but has done nothing at the plate, failing to collect a hit in seven trips as the Orioles won Saturday's opener 4-1, then bowed in the second game 2-1 Sunday.

It was expected that the starters Tuesday will be Gary Gentry, 13-12, for the Mets against Jim Palmer, 16-4, in the third game of this series in which the Mets have done their thing once and the Orioles still have failed to do theirs.

While the Mets Sunday got the expected sharp pitching that is the key to their chances of completing their miracle season by upending the favored Orioles, Baltimore had yet to get the big hits it needs from the Big Three.

That includes Frank and Brooks Robinson and Boog Powell, who have been collectively checked on two hits in 22 trips to the plate. Frank is hitless while Brooks Robinson and Powell each have collected one hit—a single.

Koosman, the left-handed ace of the Mets' pitching staff, came on Sunday after the Orioles had beaten right-hander Tom Seaver in Saturday's opener and pitched no-hit ball until Paul Blair opened the seventh inning with a single.

Needs Help

He allowed only one more hit, but finally had to be relieved in the ninth when two-out walks to Frank Robinson and Powell put the Orioles in threatening position to overcome the 2-1 lead the Mets had fashioned in their half of the ninth.

Ron Taylor came on for Koosman and got Brooks Robinson to slap a grounder to third. Ed Charles grabbed the ball, saw he couldn't get a force at third and fired across the diamond to first baseman Donn Clendenon for the final out.

Clendenon had put the Mets in front 1-0 with a leadoff homer in the fourth inning off Baltimore left-hander Dave McNally, but the Orioles got that back in the seventh when Blair singled, stole second and scored on a single by Brooks Robinson.

Mets Win

It stayed that way until the top of the ninth when with two out, Charles singled, raced to third on a hit-and-run single by Jerry Grote and trotted home when Al Weis stroked the first pitch to him for a single to left.

While Koosman produced the pitching the Mets need, Seaver couldn't Saturday as he allowed all four Baltimore runs before he was removed for a pinch hitter in the sixth inning. At the same time, Mike Cuellar stopped the Mets on six hits.

Don Buford got Baltimore started with a leadoff homer in the first inning and they added three more in the fourth inning when Seaver, who has been unable to run because of a pulled leg muscle, said he felt his stamina sapped.

Cuellar singled in one of the runs during the fourth inning uprising, then went back to work on the mound and mastered the Mets the rest of the way in a routine game at quiet Memorial Stadium.

Vikings Register First Shutout In NFL History

By The Associated Press

"We've got the horses and the togetherness to go all the way," said articulate Carl Eller Sunday after he and his Minnesota teammates combined to whip the Chicago Bears 31-0 for the first shutout in Viking history.

Eller, who along with Jim Marshall, Alan Page and Gary Larsen make up the Viking front four on defense which is being rated with great foursomes of the past, said "we got 40 men on this team and everyone contributes."

Contributions to the victory were so varied that two game balls were given out and several more might have been passed around, especially to the front four which held the Bears to one first down in the second half and that came with only three minutes to play in the game.

Mike Reilly got one game ball. Reilly is a former Bear traded to Dallas earlier this year. The Cowboys released him and he tried out with the Vikings and made the grade.

Reilly blocked a Bear punt in the first quarter and then pounced on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. It was Reilly's first National Football League touchdown— "You don't get too many chances as a linebacker." he said, and it was all the Vikings needed.

In other NFL action, Green Bay, 3-1, beat Detroit, 2-2, 28-17 and remained in a first-place tie with Minnesota in the Central Division; Los Angeles, 4-0, edged San Francisco, 0-3-1, 27-21; Dallas, 4-0, outlasted Atlanta, 1-3, 24-17; the New York Giants, 3-1, nipped Pittsburgh, 1-3, 10-7; Cleveland, 3-1, topped New Orleans, 0-4, 27-17, and Washington, 2-1-1, downed St. Louis, 2-2, 33-17.

Philadelphia, 1-2 plays at Baltimore, 1-2, tonight in a game postponed from Sunday because of the World Series.

The Minnesota defense held Chicago's great Gale Sayers to 15 yards in 13 carries and set up touchdowns with a blocked punt, a blocked field goal and an intercepted pass to record its first shutout since the Vikings entered the NFL in 1961.

Los Angeles, the Coastal Division leader, came back from a 21-13 deficit in the last five minutes on scoring plunge by quarterback Roman Gabriel and a one-yard touchdown run by Tommy Mason. A 40-yard punt return to the San Francisco 12 by Alvin Haymond set up Mason's winning score. A last-ditch San Francisco bid was halted on the Los Angeles 12.

Craig Morton completed 15 of 20 passes for 230 yards and a touchdown as Dallas, first in the Capital Division, built up a 24-3 lead early in the final period and then held off Atlanta.

Fran Tarkenton's seven-yard touchdown pass to Joe Morrison, a 14-yard field goal by Pete Gogolak and a defense that once held Pittsburgh on a fourth-and-goal situation on the New York two kept the Giants in a first-place tie with Cleveland in the Century Division.

Leroy Kelly scored two touchdowns, one on a four-yard pass from Bill Nelson in the second quarter when Cleveland rolled up 20 points, in the Browns' victory over New Orleans.

Washington rode the arm of Sonny Jurgenson and the foot of Curt Knight to victory over St. Louis. Jurgenson threw two touchdown passes and Knight kicked field goals 37, 28, 23 and eight yards.

[illegible] Scoring Play Gives Eskymos Win

By [illegible]

MARINETTE — [illegible] the Escanaba [illegible] was the happiest [illegible] after the game Saturday night, but it's hard to believe that anyone was any happier than [illegible] Brookes, the player who caught a touchdown pass with just [illegible] seconds remaining in the game to give the Eskymos a 7-6 victory over the Marinette Marines.

"That's the first one I caught this year on that play," said the jubilant Brookes on the sidelines after making the catch. "I dropped all the other ones which would have given us touchdowns this year."

After the Eskymos were finally calmed down, Tom Kangas calmly booted the ball through the uprights for the winning extra point.

Gauthier Connects

The Marine defense then dropped Gauthier for a six yard loss and he threw another incomplete pass before hitting Brookes for a first down at the 29. Another pass to Timmer put the ball on the 19 with just 56 seconds remaining.

After two more incomplete passes, a Marinette defender was guilty of pass interference and the Eskymos got another first down at the ten-yard line with just 34 seconds remaining. Gauthier then threw two more incomplete passes before finding Brookes all alone in the right corner of the end zone for the touchdown.

It was fitting that Brookes caught the winning touchdown pass, for it was he who had fumbled at the Escanaba 39-yard line just two minutes before, giving the Marines a chance at their only touchdown.

Kopish Scores

On the first play after Marinette's Ken Bergerson fell on Brookes' fumble, fullback Wayne Kopish circled around his own left end and raced down the sidelines 39 yards for the touchdown. And it was also fitting that Kangas kick the winning extra point, for it was he who blocked Shely Fifarek's extra point kick after the Marines' touchdown.

The Eskymos didn't have it wrapped up yet, though, as an onside kick gave the Marines the ball at their own 46-yard line. On the first play, the Eskymo line put on a tremendous rush and forced Jeff Magnuson to hurry his throw and the pass fell incomplete. On the second play, Kangas broke through to nail Fifarek for a 12-yard loss back to the 34.

Then came the hair-raising moment. Magnuson threw deep downfield and Eskymo safety Bill Suriano appeared to have an interception. While Suriano was waiting for the pass to come down, a Marinette player collided with him and Suriano was called for pass interference, giving the Marines the ball at the Escanaba 40-yard line.

Final Play

With seven seconds left in the game, Magnuson completed a pass to Kopish, but he was snowed under after a six-yard gain.

The game looked like it was going to end in a 0-0 tie, as neither team could mount much of a drive through the first three periods and hard-hitting defense was the name of the game.

Gauthier's first two passes in the game were intercepted, the first at the Marinette 34-yard line and the second on the Marines' 36. The second one came on the first play after the Eskymos' Mike Olson intercepted a Marinette pass after Al Thorbjornsen caused Magnuson to hurry his trow with a good rush and Dennis Eastman had tipped it into the air.

Thorbjornsen and Eastman were playing in the game because injuries incurred in the Alpena game by key regulars Steve Rosemurgy and Mike Dupont had sidelined them for the season. Both players turned in outstanding defensive games along with Kangas, Olson and Bob Thompson.

Miss Opportunity

Escanaba moved down to the Marinette nine yard line early in the fourth quarter, but a penalty moved them back to the 23 before Timmer caught a pass at the 15. On fourth down, Kangas was sent in to kick a field goal but his 32-yard attempt was wide to the left.

The field goal opportunity was set up when Escanaba gambled on an earlier fourth down situation and Kangas, who stands under center in punting situations, handed off to Bruce Irving and he rumbled 20 yards to the 18-yard line.

Escanaba picked up 140 yards rushing in the game with fullback Doug Howard leading the way with 78 yards in 10 carries and Brookes chipping in with 43 in 16 attempts. Gauthier hit on 7 of 17 passing attempts for 74 yards, giving the Eskymos 214 total yards in the game.

Marinette was held to 127 yards rushing and six passing, as Magnuson and Fifarek were limited to just one completion in seven attempts.

Escanaba will now return home for its homecoming encounter against Iron Mountain Saturday night before closing out its season against Holy Name the following Saturday on the Escanaba Athletic Field.

The Tigers opened the scoring in the first period with Lee Vincent scoring from the one-yard line. They came right back to score a few minutes later when Dick Smith hit Vincent with a 10-yard touchdown pass. Vincent then turned around and hit Smith for the two-point conversion.

In the second quarter, Vincent threw twice to Smith for touchdowns in 60 and 15 yard pass plays. Jeff Triest kicked the extra point after the first touchdown and Vincent passed to Smith again after the second.

Smith took off on a 75-yard touchdown gallop, also in the second quarter and Tom Folcik passed to Kim Riedy for 70 yards for another Tiger touchdown. Folcik then passed to Smith for the Tigers' 43rd point.

In the third quarter, Jim Geber scored on a ten-yard run and Vincent then passed to Geber for the two-point conversion.

Vincent then closed out the Tiger scoring with 60-yard scamper to paydirt in the fourth quarter.

The Tigers picked up 167 yards on the ground and added 306 more through the air while holding the Little Giants to 74 yards rushing and 76 passing.

Jets Top Bengals For 2nd Straight

Kansas City and Houston had rain, Denver and Oakland contended with freezing weather, and the Cincinnati Bengals ran into a couple of more natural phenomenons—Matt Snell and Emerson Boozer.

As Kansas City squashed Houston 24-0 and Oakland spilled Denver 24-14 in adverse weather, Snell and Boozer poured through Cincinnati's defenses for a combined 178 yards and gave revitalized New York a 21-7 American Football League victory Sunday.

In other AFL games Saturday night, Buffalo beaned Boston 23-16 and San Diego topped Miami, 21-14.

The Jets proved they didn't have to entirely depend on quarterback Joe Namath's arm to establish an aggressive offense. Boozer and Snell kept broaching the Bengals' defense with their crackling runs and Namath kept them honest with 14 completions in 26 attempts for 163 yards and one touchdown.

New York punched out 222 yards on the ground, and Namath thanked his offensive line for that performance.

"It wasn't easy to run against Cincinnati (but)...our guys were just on that line," Namath said.

The victory gave the defending Super Bowl champs their second straight victory, and a 3-2 mark to tie with Houston for first place in the Eastern Division.

Kansas City slithered and skittered to its victory over Houston under a constant rain that left the football field a quagmire by game's end. The bad weather contributed to four AFL fumble records broken or tied.

The Chiefs intercepted five passes by Houston's Pete Beathard, but fumbled the ball away six times for a record. Three teams previously had lost five fumbles in one league game.

Also broken was the AFL mark of 14 fumbles by two teams. The old mark was 13, also three other times.

Tied were the AFL records of nine fumbles by the Chiefs and 10 opponent's bobbles recovered by the two clubs. Kansas City set the old one-team mark of nine fumbles in 1964 against San Diego under similar conditions.

Daryle Lamonica passed bullets through numbing cold as Western Division-leading Oakland whipped Denver to remain the only undefeated team in the AFL.

Lamonica passed for all three Oakland touchdowns despite intermittent snow showers and a field left in miserable condition by the second weekend snowstorm in a week in Colorado.

Broncos Finish Perfect Season

BARK RIVER The Bark River-Harris Broncos closed out a perfect season here Saturday afternoon by whipping the Pembine Panthers 50-20 in a Wolverine Conference contest.

Len Olson and Tom Shiverski paced the Broncos to victory, each scoring three touchdowns, while Joe Shiverski scored the other. Olson scored on runs of 10, 2 and 4 yards and added four more piints to his total with a pair of two-point conversion scampers.

Tom Shiverski caught touchdown passes of 45, 25 and 50 yards from quarterback Russ Pirlot and Joe Shiverski's touchdiwn came on 45-yard scoring strike from Pirlot. Joe Shiverski also caught a pass from Pirlot for two points and Pirlot chipped in to the scoring with two two point conversion runs.

Pembine scored first in the game on a 10-yard pass from Bob White to Mike Huempfner. Their second touchdown came on a seven-yard pass from White to Terry Burdsall and the final one was scored when White connected with Huempfner again from ten yards out. Pembine's only two point conversion was a pass from White to Burdsall after the first touchdown.

Olson carried the ball 18 times for 111 yards in the game and Dan Veeser chipped in with 92 yards in 10 carries. As a team, the Broncos rushed for 241 yards and passed for 305, as Pirlot hit on 13 of 29 attempts. They intercepted six times.

The Broncos finished the season with a 6-0 mark, scoring 254 points and holding their opponents to 54. Coach Tom DeBakker credited his offensive and defensive line for a lot of the Bark River sucess this season. Playing in the line were Tom Shiverski, Don Stohl, Tony Westlake, Tim Fournier and Joe Shiverski.

Trojans Edge Stanford In Last Seconds 26-24

By The Associated Press

Ron Ayala cried Saturday night—and he won. Can you imagine how Stanford felt?

The cause of Ayala's tears of joy was the 34-yard field goal he kicked as time ran out that gave fourth - ranked Southern Cal a 26-24 victory over 16th-ranked Stanford, a key triumph on the road to the Rose Bowl.

One week earlier Stanford lost to Purdue 36-35 on a two-point conversion pass in the waning moments.

Stanford wasn't the only team singing the blues over the weekend. Mississippi stunned sixth-ranked Georgia 25-17, Michigan shocked ninth-ranked Purdue 30-21 and lowly Vanderbilt pulled the upset of the year thus far, a 14-10 victory over 13th-ranked Alabama.

But not all was disaster for the nation's gridiron elite. Top-ranked Ohio State, ineligible for a return trip to the Rose Bowl —how about the Super Bowl?—hammered No. 19 Michigan State 54-21 and runner-up Texas held off eighth-ranked Oklahoma 27-17.

Arkansas, ranked third, fought past stubborn Baylor 21-7 and fifth-ranked Penn State put No. 17 West Virginia through its meatgrinder defense 20-0.

Rounding out the Top Ten, seventh-ranked Missouri topped Nebraska 17-7 on Terry McMillan's two touchdown passes and Tennessee's brilliant linebacking team of Jack Reynolds and Steve Kiner played havoc with Georgia Tech as the 10th-ranked Volunteers rolled to a 26-8 triumph.

Southern Cal's Ayala came through with his winning field goal after Jimmy Jones led the Trojans from their own 15 to the Stanford 17 on eight plays in 53 seconds.

Winning coaches usually are tossed into the showers by their players, but Ole Miss reversed the procedure. Quarterback Archie Manning, sidelined late in the first half, was revived under an ice cold shower during the intermission and came back to lead the Rebels past Georgia.

Michigan's Don Moorhead outshone Purdue's fabled Mike Phipps by completing 15 of 25 passes for 247 yards in the Wolverines' important Big Ten triumph.

As usual, Rex Kern was the architect of Ohio State's lopsided victory, passing for three touchdowns and scoring twice. Ground-minded Texas, which threw only 27 passes in its first three games, went to the air 18 times to beat Oklahoma. Cotton Speyrer caught eight passes for 160 yards.

Bill Burnett scored all three touchdowns for Arkansas but the Razorbacks got some bad news when pass-catching ace Chuck Dicus suffered a slight shoulder separation that will keep him out of the next few games. Penn State's stifled West Virginia's potent attack with three first-half interceptions.

UCLA, ranked 11th, crushed Washington 46-14 with Dennis Dummit passing for three touchdowns and Greg Jones scoring three. Florida, No. 12, needed a late two-point conversion pass from super soph John Reaves to super soph Carlos Alvarez to nip Tulane 18-17.

Notre Dame, ranked 15th, blitzed Army 45-0, handing the Cadets their worst defeat of the famed series. No. 18 Wyoming walloped Texas-El Paso 37-9 and Auburn, tied with Nebraska for 20th, crushed Clemson 51-0.

Bruins Triumph In NHL Opener

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins admit they're not quite as hot as steaming Boston Garden, but they're warm enough to be off to a winning start in the National Hockey League.

"It was tough out there, on both teams, but it's good to get off to a winning start," Coach Harry Sinden said Sunday night after the Bruins opened with a 2-1 decision over the New York Rangers.

In the only other action, Mike Laughton scored two goals 38 seconds apart early in the third period and the Oakland Seals held on to beat the Chicago Black Hawks 2-1.

The combination of warm local weather and a sellout crowd of 14,831 in the Garden took its toll on the Bruins, but they managed to make two early power play goals stand up against the Rangers.

New York came on strong in the third period, but veteran goalie Eddie Johnston turned in a fine performance and thwarted every effort by the Rangers to pull out at least a tie in the final 20 minutes.

"Eddie looked good out there —he played well, very well," Sinden said in praising Johnston, who turned aside 37 shots, including 12 in the third period.

The Bruins, who set an NHL record by scoring 303 goals but had to settle for a second place finish behind Montreal in the East Division last season, got off to a fast start, capitalizing on two penalties.

With Jim Neilson in the penalty box, the Bruins' Fred Stanfield, a 25-goal scorer last year, tallied on a 30-foot shot after being set up by Johnny McKenzie and Bobby Orr at 1:05 in the first period.

Orr, the league's outstanding defenseman in the 1968-69 campaign who has missed much of training because of a knee injury, set up another goal. He fed Stanfield who let a shot go from the point. New York goalie Ed Giacomin made a fine save, but McKenzie jumped on the rebound and made it 2-0 at 8:04.

New York took the cue as Jean Ratelle poked the puck into a wide open net after Johnston saved on Vic Hadfield with Boston short-handed at 12:18. However, Johnston refused to budge the rest of the way and held off the Rangers.

Oakland's Laughton broke a scoreless tie at 2:10 of the final period, beating Chicago Goalie Denis DeJordy with the Hawks' Jim Pappin in the penalty box. Laughton connected again at 2:48. Both goals were set up by Bill Hicke and Brian Perry.

Starr-Dale Combination Teams Up To Stop Lions

DETROIT (AP)—Historically, Christopher Columbus discovered America 477 years ago Sunday.

Flanker Carroll Dale has been in the National Football League 10 years and the quarterbacks haven't stopped discovering him—especially against Detroit.

Dale, who doesn't drink, smoke or drop passes, caught seven of Bart Starr's aerials for 167 yards as Green Bay beat Detroit 28-17 on Columbus Day before the third-largest crowd in Lions' history—58,384.

Two of his receptions were for touchdowns—one a 40-yarder to beat cornerback Lem Barney in the first quarter and another a four-yard pass in the third.

The game wasn't all the Lions lost, as quarterback Bill Munson fractured a bone in his right hand in the third quarter and may be out of action for five games or more.

"My three best games have been against Detroit," said the slightly balding Dale, a former Los Angeles Ram who led Green Bay in scoring last year with 48 points.

"I don't know what it is about Detroit, but in 1963 when I was with the Rams I think I caught seven for 213 yards," he said in the crowded Packers dressing room. "Then last year in one game I think I got six for 207 yards,"

"He's kind of a model as far as conditioning is concerned," said Packer Coach Phil Bengston of Dale. "He's never been out of shape in his life. He's never done anything to get out of shape. He doesn't drink or smoke. And he's a good outdoorsman too."

Starr didn't waste any time finding Dale open, hitting him on 11- and 27-yard pass plays during Green Bay's first touchdown drive in the first quarter. Travis Williams capped a 44-yard drive with a two-yard run with 10 minutes of the game gone.

Although Starr was thrown for 47 yards in losses while trying to pass, he had little trouble most of the time.

"You can't have a good passing game without good protection—protection makes the big difference," he said. "But you have to give credit to the Lions. They have a fine front four."

The field was sloppy as rain poured down for the first half of the game.

"I don't think the rain had any effect on the game," Bengston said. "I think Starr would have thrown about as much anyway."

On the ground the Packers gained 121 yards, with Williams and rookie Dave Hampton each getting 38 of them. For Detroit, Mel Farr rushed for 91 yards in 14 carries, including one 52-yard romp that set up Detroit's first touchdown at the 18-yard line of Green Bay.

Farr scored the TD on a three-yard run four plays later. He also scored on a three-yarder in the third quarter. A 24-yard field goal by Errol Mann in the second quarter accounted for Detroit's second score and narrowed the Lions' deficit to 14-10 at the half.

A 50 - yard pass play from Starr to Hampton put the Packers on Detroit's one late in the final period and then Hampton went over for Green Bay's final touchdown to put the game out of reach with 2½ minutes left.

The Lions offense seemed to be able to move the ball fairly well, but it didn't have the ball often. However, when Greg Landry took over at quarterback in the fourth quarter he couldn't engineer a scoring drive.

"They had the ball too long," said Lions Coach Joe Schmidt. "To score you have to get the ball."

The loss put Detroit's record at 2-2 while the Packers upped their record to 3-1.

Tom Shiverski caught touchdown passes of 45, 25 and 50 yards from quarterback Russ Pirlot and Joe Shiverski's touchdiwn came on 45-yard scoring strike from Pirlot. Joe Shiverski also caught a pass from Pirlot for two points and Pirlot chipped in to the scoring with two two point conversion runs.

Pembine scored first in the game on a 10-yard pass from Bob White to Mike Huempfner. Their second touchdown came on a seven-yard pass from White to Terry Burdsall and the final one was scored when White connected with Huempfner again from ten yards out. Pembine's only two point conversion was a pass from White to Burdsall after the first touchdown.

Olson carried the ball 18 times for 111 yards in the game and Dan Veeser chipped in with 92 yards in 10 carries. As a team, the Broncos rushed for 241 yards and passed for 305, as Pirlot hit on 13 of 29 attempts. They intercepted six times.

The Broncos finished the season with a 6-0 mark, scoring 254 points and holding their opponents to 54. Coach Tom DeBakker credited his offensive and defensive line for a lot of the Bark River sucess this season. Playing in the line were Tom Shiverski, Don Stohl, Tony Westlake, Tim Fournier and Joe Shiverski.

Trojans Edge Stanford In Last Seconds 26-24

By The Associated Press

Ron Ayala cried Saturday night—and he won. Can you imagine how Stanford felt?

The cause of Ayala's tears of joy was the 34-yard field goal he kicked as time ran out that gave fourth - ranked Southern Cal a 26-24 victory over 16th-ranked Stanford, a key triumph on the road to the Rose Bowl.

One week earlier Stanford lost to Purdue 36-35 on a two-point conversion pass in the waning moments.

Stanford wasn't the only team singing the blues over the weekend. Mississippi stunned sixth-ranked Georgia 25-17, Michigan shocked ninth-ranked Purdue 30-21 and lowly Vanderbilt pulled the upset of the year thus far, a 14-10 victory over 13th-ranked Alabama.

But not all was disaster for the nation's gridiron elite. Top-ranked Ohio State, ineligible for a return trip to the Rose Bowl—how about the Super Bowl?—hammered No. 19 Michigan State 54-21 and runner-up Texas held off eighth-ranked Oklahoma 27-17.

Arkansas, ranked third, fought past stubborn Baylor 21-7 and fifth-ranked Penn State put No. 17 West Virginia through its meatgrinder defense 20-0.

Rounding out the Top Ten, seventh-ranked Missouri topped Nebraska 17-7 on Terry McMillan's two touchdown passes and Tennessee's brilliant linebacking team of Jack Reynolds and Steve Kiner played havoc with Georgia Tech as the 10th-ranked Volunteers rolled to a 26-8 triumph.

Southern Cal's Ayala came through with his winning field goal after Jimmy Jones led the Trojans from their own 15 to the Stanford 17 on eight plays in 53 seconds.

Winning coaches usually are tossed into the showers by their players, but Ole Miss reversed the procedure. Quarterback Archie Manning, sidelined late in the first half, was revived under an ice cold shower during the intermission and came back to lead the Rebels past Georgia.

Michigan's Don Moorhead outshone Purdue's fabled Mike Phipps by completing 15 of 25 passes for 247 yards in the Wolverines' important Big Ten triumph.

As usual, Rex Kern was the architect of Ohio State's lopsided victory, passing for three touchdowns and scoring twice. Ground-minded Texas, which threw only 27 passes in its first three games, went to the air 18 times to beat Oklahoma. Cotton Speyrer caught eight passes for 160 yards.

Bill Burnett scored all three touchdowns for Arkansas but the Razorbacks got some bad news when pass-catching ace Chuck Dicus suffered a slight shoulder separation that will keep him out of the next few games. Penn State's stifled West Virginia's potent attack with three first-half interceptions.

UCLA, ranked 11th, crushed Washington 46-14 with Dennis Dummit passing for three touchdowns and Greg Jones scoring three. Florida, No. 12, needed a late two-point conversion pass from super soph John Reaves to super soph Carlos Alvarez to nip Tulane 18-17.

Notre Dame, ranked 15th, blitzed Army 45-0, handing the Cadets their worst defeat of the famed series. No. 18 Wyoming walloped Texas-El Paso 37-9 and Auburn, tied with Nebraska for 20th, crushed Clemson 51-0.

Bruins Triumph In NHL Opener

BOSTON (AP) — The Boston Bruins admit they're not quite as hot as steaming Boston Garden, but they're warm enough to be off to a winning start in the National Hockey League.

"It was tough out there, on both teams, but it's good to get off to a winning start," Coach Harry Sinden said Sunday night after the Bruins opened with a 2-1 decision over the New York Rangers.

In the only other action, Mike Laughton scored two goals 38 seconds apart early in the third period and the Oakland Seals held on to beat the Chicago Black Hawks 2-1.

The combination of warm local weather and a sellout crowd of 14,831 in the Garden took its toll on the Bruins, but they managed to make two early power play goals stand up against the Rangers.

New York came on strong in the third period, but veteran goalie Eddie Johnston turned in a fine performance and thwarted every effort by the Rangers to pull out at least a tie in the final 20 minutes.

"Eddie looked good out there—he played well, very well," Sinden said in praising Johnston, who turned aside 37 shots, including 12 in the third period.

The Bruins, who set an NHL record by scoring 303 goals but had to settle for a second place finish behind Montreal in the East Division last season, got off to a fast start, capitalizing on two penalties.

With Jim Neilson in the penalty box, the Bruins' Fred Stanfield, a 25-goal scorer last year, tallied on a 30-foot shot after being set up by Johnny McKenzie and Bobby Orr at 1:05 in the first period.

Orr, the league's outstanding defenseman in the 1968-69 campaign who has missed much of training because of a knee injury, set up another goal. He fed Stanfield who let a shot go from the point. New York goalie Ed Giacomin made a fine save, but McKenzie jumped on the rebound and made it 2-0 at 8:04.

New York took the cue as Jean Ratelle poked the puck into a wide open net after Johnston saved on Vic Hadfield with Boston short-handed at 12:12. However, Johnston refused to budge the rest of the way and held off the Rangers.

Oakland's Laughton broke a scoreless tie at 2:10 of the final period, beating Chicago Goalie Denis DeJordy with the Hawks' Jim Pappin in the penalty box. Laughton connected again at 2:48. Both goals were set up by Bill Hicke and Brian Perry.

Starr-Dale Combination Teams Up To Stop Lions

DETROIT (AP)—Historically, Christopher Columbus discovered America 477 years ago Sunday.

Flanker Carroll Dale has been in the National Football League 10 years and the quarterbacks haven't stopped discovering him—especially against Detroit.

Dale, who doesn't drink, smoke or drop passes, caught seven of Bart Starr's aerials for 167 yards as Green Bay beat Detroit 28-17 on Columbus Day before the third-largest crowd in Lions' history—58,384.

Two of his receptions were for touchdowns—one a 40-yarder to beat cornerback Lem Barney in the first quarter and another a four-yard pass in the third.

The game wasn't all the Lions lost, as quarterback Bill Munson fractured a bone in his right hand in the third quarter and may be out of action for five games or more.

"My three best games have been against Detroit," said the slightly balding Dale, a former Los Angeles Ram who led Green Bay in scoring last year with 48 points.

"I don't know what it is about Detroit, but in 1963 when I was with the Rams I think I caught seven for 213 yards," he said in the crowded Packers dressing room. "Then last year in one game I think I got six for 207 yards."

"He's kind of a model as far as conditioning is concerned," said Packer Coach Phil Bengston of Dale. "He's never been out of shape in his life. He's never done anything to get out of shape. He doesn't drink or smoke. And he's a good outdoorsman too."

Starr didn't waste any time finding Dale open, hitting him on 11- and 27-yard pass plays during Green Bay's first touchdown drive in the first quarter. Travis Williams capped a 44-yard drive with a two-yard run with 10 minutes of the game gone.

Although Starr was thrown for 47 yards in losses while trying to pass, he had little trouble most of the time.

"You can't have a good passing game without good protection—protection makes the big difference," he said. "But you have to give credit to the Lions. They have a fine front four."

The field was sloppy as rain poured down for the first half of the game.

"I don't think the rain had any effect on the game," Bengston said. "I think Starr would have thrown about as much anyway."

On the ground the Packers gained 121 yards, with Williams and rookie Dave Hampton each getting 38 of them. For Detroit, Mel Farr rushed for 91 yards in 14 carries, including one 52-yard romp that set up Detroit's first touchdown at the 18-yard line of Green Bay.

Farr scored the TD on a three-yard run four plays later. He also scored on a three-yarder in the third quarter. A 24-yard field goal by Errol Mann in the second quarter accounted for Detroit's second score and narrowed the Lions' deficit to 14-10 at the half.

A 50 - yard pass play from Starr to Hampton put the Packers on Detroit's one late in the final period and then Hampton went over for Green Bay's final touchdown to put the game out of reach with 2½ minutes left.

The Lions offense seemed to be able to move the ball fairly well, but it didn't have the ball often. However, when Greg Landry took over at quarterback in the fourth quarter he couldn't engineer a scoring drive.

"They had the ball too long," said Lions Coach Joe Schmidt. "To score you have to get the ball."

The loss put Detroit's record at 2-2 while the Packers upped their record to 3-1.

Public Hearing On Tax Proposals Slated Tuesday

The House Tax Committee will hold a public hearing at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the Schoolcraft County Courthouse to bear citizen reaction to the taxation aspects of Governor William Milliken's proposed educational reforms.

Rep. George Montgomery (D-Detroit), chairman of the committee, will chair the hearing. Rep. Charles Varnum (R-Manistique) and three other committeemen also will be present.

The governor proposed boosting state tax revenues some $545 million by 1971. Proposed is a 1.5 per cent personal income tax raise to 4.1 per cent; a 2.1 per cent increase in the 5.6 per cent tax on corporate income and a 4 per cent boost in the financial institutions tax; a five cent increase in the cigarette tax, and elimination of the property tax credit. A state property tax also is proposed.

The governor said his proposals would bring an additional $183 million over the $848.6 million spent this year for school aid. Included is a $25 million allocation for parechiaid.

Divers Recover Body In Quarry

The body of a 34-year-old Gulliver man was recovered by State Police skin divers from a quarry in Mueller Township at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

State Police said Roy Junior Betterley, Rte. 1, Gulliver, was found in 15 to 20 feet of water in the Calspar Quarry, north of County Rd. 443, by Tpr. Andrew VerPlank of Marquette and Clp. Donald Parolari of St. Ignace. The victim's car also was submerged in the quarry and troopers said tracks indicated Betterley apparently drove the car into the water.

The transmission was in low gear and the accelerator pedal was free, officers said.

Coroner Robert Broullire pronounced Betterley dead from drowning at the scene.

Betterley had been missing from his home since Oct. 8. The car was sighted in the quarry by his father-in-law, John Shaffer of Gulliver, who reported to State Police at 3:08 p.m. Saturday.

After skin divers recovered the body, the 1965 model car was pulled from the quarry by a wrecker.

The body was taken to the Beaulieu Funeral Home in Newberry where services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Burial will be in Newberry Cemetery.

Roy Junior Betterley was born Dec. 22, 1935, in Detroit, and attended Newberry Area schools.

Survivors include his wife, Dianna; one daughter, Ruby Ann, and two sons, John and Roy, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Betterley of Newberry, and four brothers, Gilbert and Roger of Newberry and Gerald and Gail of Flint.

Visitation at the funeral home will begin at 4 p.m. today.

City Council will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in council chambers of city hall for their regular meeting. Council agenda lists consideration of bids for a police car and Department of Public Works truck plus action on demolition of a building on Deer St. owned by Lloyd Ayotte.

Ticketed by state police on Friday for traffic violations were James Charrette, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Lyle J. Martineau, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. and Chris S. Chopper, Albion, all for speeding. Harry Evans, Ludington, was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Under investigation by state police is the breaking and entering of a coin-operated telephone paystation on U.S. 2 adjacent to the Minor Service Station in Cooks. Troopers said the top of the telephone was pried off and the machine damaged beyond repair. It is uncertain if any money is missing. An attempt was also made to dismantle a pay telephone in the village of Thompson, officers said.

Armory Construction Expected By Spring

A construction project that has been in the planning stage for nearly 10 years is about to get off the ground. When? Spring, 1970.

Federal funds for the proposed National Guard Armory at Gladstone are expected by the end of this year according to Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke, adjutant general.

This money, amounting to $283,000, had been frozen in recent years, delaying the project. The freeze was attributed to the Vietnam crisis.

When the Federal funds are received, they will go with $150,000 in state money and $67,000 in local funds to build the $500,000 armory.

As the timetable now stands, preliminary plans are now being completed. Final preliminary plans will go to the National Guard Bureau for approval this month and construction bids will be taken this winter. Actual construction will begin in the spring.

The proposed armory will be located south of the city on Marble Avenue, next to Marble Athletic Field. Situated on a hill, the armory will overlook scenic Little Bay de Noc.

The 24,000 square foot building will have an 8,000 square foot drill hall (an enlargement over the standard size armory drill hall), a kitchen that is twice the size of most armory kitchens, and a supply room for each company section which is unique in today's armories. The parking lot will provide space for 164 vehicles.

This will be the first permanent home for a Gladstone based National Guard unit since the reorganization immediately following World War II. From that post-war period to the present the unit had always been housed in rented quarters in Escanaba and Gladstone.

Last winter the unit (Co. C, 107th Engineer Battalion) made what it hopes to be the last move to rented quarters. It moved from the Rialto Building in Gladstone to the former Delta Nursing Home in Wells Township.

WTIQ Purchased By David Kelly

[illegible] Kelly assumed sole ownership of radio station WTIQ this week, following Federal Communications Commission approval of the transfer. Kelly was previously a partner in the firm with Edmund Selleck.

WTIQ radio, which operates on 1490 kHz. at a power of 1,000 watts began serving the Manistique are on Feb. 11, 1965.

In announcing his purchase of WTIQ, Kelly said no major program or policy changes are anticipated at the station. "We have a fine staff and will continue to provide the community and our clients with what we consider to be the best local service available in the Upper Peninsula."

Kelly returned to Manistique recently to complete the station purchase following a six-month leave of absence during which time he was employed with WEAU-TV and WAXX Raido in Eau Claire, Wis. He lives with his wife, Sharon, and two daughters, Kerry and Kristine, on Glenwood Drive.

Divers Recover Body In Quarry

The body of a 34-year-old Gulliver man was recovered by State Police skin divers from a quarry in Mueller Township at 5:45 p.m. Saturday.

State Police said Roy Junior Betterley, Rte. 1, Gulliver, was found in 15 to 20 feet of water in the Calspar Quarry, north of County Rd. 443, by Tpr. Andrew VerPlank of Marquette and Cpl. Donald Parolari of St. Ignace. The victim's car also was submerged in the quarry and troopers said tracks indicated Betterley apparently drove the car into the water.

The transmission was in low gear and the accelerator pedal was free, officers said.

Coroner Robert Brouillire pronounced Betterley dead from drowning at the scene.

Betterley had been missing from his home since Oct. 8. The car was sighted in the quarry by his father-in-law, John Shaffer of Gulliver, who reported to State Police at 3:08 p.m. Saturday.

After skin divers recovered the body, the 1965 model car was pulled from the quarry by a wrecker.

The body was taken to the Beaulieu Funeral Home in Newberry where services will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday. Burial will be in Newberry Cemetery.

Roy Junior Betterley was born Dec. 22, 1935, in Detroit, and attended Newberry Area schools.

Survivors include his wife, Dianna; one daughter, Ruby Ann, and two sons, John and Roy, all at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Osborne Betterley of Newberry, and four brothers, Gilbert and Roger of Newberry and Gerald and Gail of Flint.

Visitation at the funeral home will begin at 4 p.m. today.

City Council will meet tonight at 7:30 p.m. in council chambers of city hall for their regular meeting. Council agenda lists consideration of bids for a police car and Department of Public Works truck plus action on demolition of a building on Deer St. owned by Lloyd Ayotte.

Ticketed by state police on Friday for traffic violations were James Charrette, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Lyle J. Martineau, Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. and Chris S. Chopper, Albion, all for speeding. Harry Evans, Ludington, was cited for failure to yield right of way.

Under investigation by state police is the breaking and entering of a coin-operated telephone paystation on U.S. 2 adjacent to the Minor Service Station in Cooks. Troopers said the top of the telephone was pried off and the machine damaged beyond repair. It is uncertain if any money is missing. An attempt was also made to dismantle a pay telephone in the village of Thompson, officers said.

GLADSTONE

Armory Construction Expected By Spring

A construction project that has been in the planning stage for nearly 10 years is about to get off the ground. When? Spring, 1970.

Federal funds for the proposed National Guard Armory at Gladstone are expected by the end of this year according to Maj. Gen. Clarence C. Schnipke, adjutant general.

This money, amounting to $283,000, had been frozen in recent years, delaying the project. The freeze was attributed to the Vietnam crisis.

When the Federal funds are received, they will go with $150,000 in state money and $67,000 in local funds to build the $500,000 armory.

As the timetable now stands, preliminary plans are now being completed. Final preliminary plans will go to the National Guard Bureau for approval this month and construction bids will be taken this winter. Actual construction will begin in the spring.

The proposed armory will be located south of the city on Marble Avenue, next to Marble Athletic Field. Situated on a hill, the armory will overlook scenic Little Bay de Noc.

The 24,000 square foot building will have an 8,000 square foot drill hall (an enlargement over the standard size armory drill hall), a kitchen that is twice the size of most armory kitchens, and a supply room for each company section which is unique in today's armories. The parking lot will provide space for 164 vehicles.

This will be the first permanent home for a Gladstone based National Guard unit since the reorganization immediately following World War II. From that post-war period to the present the unit had always been housed in rented quarters in Escanaba and Gladstone.

Last winter the unit (Co. C, 107th Engineer Battalion) made what it hopes to be the last move to rented quarters. It moved from the Rialto Building in Gladstone to the former Delta Nursing Home in Wells Township.

Briefly Told

The Ladies Society of the B. of L. F. & E. will meet Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Robert Wilbee, 1320 Wisconsin Ave. All members are asked to be in attendance.

SPORTSMEN

The nation's largest franchise organization has a limited number of new opportunities for the sportsminded man or woman to get into the field that they enjoy the most.

We need an ambitious individual who would like to reap the rewards of the ever-increasing recreation explosion — a person who is aspiring to earnings well over $1,000 per month.

This is one of the most amazing, but fun businesses you'll ever have an opportunity to look into.

You do need at least $1,847.50 to $3,847.50 cash to start.

(TO ENROLL ENTIRE FAMILY FIRST MONTH)

ACT NOW — YOU MUST MAIL ENROLLMENT FORM BELOW BY MIDNIGHT, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 16, OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED

Here are the questions you'd normally ask your insurance man. But we answered them instead . . . so you would be able to insure yourself, right from this page. (You'll be amazed how much it saves you.)

1 When can I collect up to $10,400.00?

Every time you are confined to the hospital you collect $100.00 a week to a maximum of $10,400.00 cash. Not just once, but for every new confinement! And you collect cash not just for yourself but for every covered member of your family — including spouse and children!

2 How can I collect up to $10,010.00 extra cash—if I'm 65 or over?

If you are 65 or over, we pay you $70.00-a-week extra cash for the first 13 weeks and $100.00 weekly while continuously hospitalized afterwards, in addition to Medicare benefits. This is extra. You collect for each illness or injury—each time you go to the hospital. Right up to a maximum benefit of $10,010.00 extra cash!

3 When do I collect up to $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?

We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if it happens as long as 90 days after the accident. This is all extra money. You collect it on top of any other benefits we pay you. Not just for yourself but for every covered member of your family!

4 What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?

Don't worry. You still collect to the maximum of $10,400.00. And if you've already resumed full normal activities for just 180 days—we call it a "new confinement". Which means you can collect all over again, up to another maximum of $10,400.00!

5 If I collect more money than my medical bills cost—do I keep the extra cash?

You certainly do! We pay you $100.00 cash every week—even if your bills add up to just part of that amount! So it's possible to come out of the hospital with extra cash — AND IT'S ALL 100% TAX FREE!

6 If I already have some health insurance—will you pay me anyway?

Of course! Never mind what you collect from Blue Cross, or Major Medical, or Workmen's Compensation, or any insurance you may have with other companies. (Even for the same illness!) We still pay you $100.00-a-week extra cash income to the maximum of $10,400.00 cash. So if other insurance has taken care of some—or even all—of your medical bills . . . you still have that extra cash income from Presidential.

7 Do you pay me cash for my children, too?

Yes! And not just once but every time they are hospitalized, too! When you have Coverage for Children you receive $600.00-a-week extra cash to a maximum of $6,240.00 for each dependent child between the ages of 1 month and 19 years.

8 Will "future" children be protected, too?

They surely will! And at no extra cost. When you have Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits), newborn children are automatically covered as soon as they are one month old.

9 Will you pay me $100.00-a-week cash—even for maternity care?

Yes, even when pregnancy requires hospitalization. Many health plans DON'T cover maternity expense. But under this Plan with Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you collect $100.00 a week for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents must be enrolled in the Plan for the entire pregnancy.)

10 Are there times I might collect as much as $20,800.00 . . . as much as $41,600.00?

Yes, there are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you but for every covered member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once . . . or even both of you more than once . . . or if a child gets sick or has an accident — you could end up collecting $20,800.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. Presidential gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT: If you and your covered spouse are in an accident and both of you have to go to the hospital at the same time, Presidential pays double cash amounts. You collect not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. Your spouse collects not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. That's $400.00-a-week extra cash. Yes, $400.00 you can count on week after week—for as long as both of you remain in the hospital . . . for 104 weeks (and to a maximum of $41,600.00 worth of benefits!) if necessary.

11 Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please?

Certainly! You can even put them in the bank to replace savings spent while you were laid up in the hospital without income. It's your money — and all the cash comes direct to you, not to the doctor or hospital. (Unless, of course, you ask us to.)

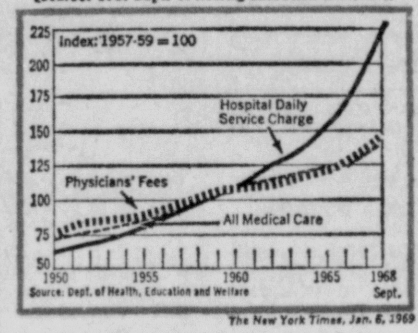
Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

(Source: U.S. Dept. of Health, Education & Welfare)



The New York Times, Jan. 6, 1969

United States Government figures reveal your present health protection . . . may no longer protect you against today's rising medical costs! Don't leave your loved ones defenseless! Act at once to add coverage that provides to a maximum of $10,400.00 health protection for only 25¢ for the first month for you and your entire family.

12 What do others have to say about Presidential?

"Let me say the full payment as per the policy was most gratifying. There was doubt in our minds for some time especially where we started with only a first payment of 25¢, but that doubt now has been completely erased. The settlement definitely was in full payment for the time in the hospital and our sincere thanks for the check."

LETHA SCHRECKENGAST,
Cedar Rapids, Iowa

"Just a few words to thank you for the prompt manner in which you settled my claim. I certainly will recommend Presidential Life Ins. to my friends."

MRS. SYLVIA LEVIN,
Los Angeles, California

13 Can I stop paying premiums during an extra long hospitalization—yet still remain fully covered?

Yes, indeed! All premiums that come due after you—the person to whom the Policy is issued—are in the hospital just 8 weeks or more . . . do not have to be paid by you! We pay all premiums that come due for you and all covered Family Members as long as you are hospitalized. You simply go right on collecting your full $100.00-a-week extra cash just as if you were paying the premiums yourself.

14 How can you give me so much—for so little?

Because you deal direct with the company — direct with Presidential itself! No middleman needed! Costly "processing charges" are eliminated. So is "red tape". You handle each simple step yourself — in your own home . . . in your own good time . . . by making up your own mind. And of course, dealing by mail is confidential. No one need know your personal affairs — except you!

15 Doesn't enrolling by mail take away the "personal" touch?

Certainly not! We give you more personal service, not less. But instead of getting it when you sign up—YOU GET IT WHEN YOU HAVE A CLAIM! That's where it really means something. And that's where Presidential gives you plenty of service.

16 All right, now that you mention it—how do I go about submitting a claim?

As a Presidential policyowner, you're entitled to contact FAST CLAIM HEADQUARTERS direct. No frantic attempts to locate your broker. No anxious waiting. If you have a claim for illness or injury, don't hesitate—CONTACT US DIRECT! Even if you only have a question! Don't worry about "inconveniencing" or "annoying" anyone. WE ARE ALWAYS READY AND HAPPY TO GIVE YOU THE PROMPT, COURTEOUS AND DIRECT ATTENTION YOU ARE ENTITLED TO AS OUR POLICYOWNER!

17 How else do you save me money by cutting "red tape"?

No long complicated applications or embarrassing personal "investigations"! The short Enrollment Form on this page tells us all we need to know. Notice it doesn't ask for a medical examination. Or set an age limit (As long as you have not been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital or life insurance for reasons of health, we don't care if you're over 100!). Most important, we enroll many persons simultaneously! Not one Policy at a time, the old-fashioned way, but thousands at once—using all the economies of mass printing and latest computer techniques. That's how we can give you so much for only 25¢.

18 Now tell me what's the "catch"—what doesn't my Policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy pays during hospital confinement for EVERYTHING except conditions caused by: war or act of war; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your protection — but even this "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for two years. Everything else is definitely covered. The last item, by the way, is a real help if you already have a health problem. It means that even if you were sick before you took out this Policy—you will be covered for any recurrences of that condition after the Policy has been in effect for only two years.

19 If I'm hospitalized less than a week—do you still pay in full?

Of course we do! Regardless of whether you are in the hospital for as little as one day—or as long as a week, month, year or more — you always collect the full amount you are entitled to!

20 Does this Plan pay in any hospital?

You are covered for care in the hospital of your choice except, of course, a U.S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

21 Is there any "waiting period" before I can start collecting?

Sickness has no "waiting period"—so neither does Presidential! You start collecting as soon as you enter the hospital.

22 Will my protection be cancelled for any reason?

No—positively not! Only you can cancel! This Plan is GUARANTEED—RENEWABLE-FOR-LIFE! That means regardless of how much or how often you collect . . . or how old you become . . . we can never cancel your valuable protection.

23 Why do I need this $100.00-a-week cash protection?

Because U.S. Government figures show that in the past few years alone . . . medical costs have DOUBLED! Yet few people have anywhere near enough protection to meet these soaring doctor and hospital bills. How much would a long hospital stay cost you? Or a loved one? How would you ever pay for costly X-rays, doctor bills, medicines and drugs not covered by your present insurance? Would you be able to afford the quiet and dignity of a private room and a private nurse? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones. Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? And who would pay for rent, food, clothing, and household expenses—all the normal bills that keep coming in at home even though you are in the hospital without an income? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows whose turn it will be next—yours or mine. But we both know that once the doctor says it is your turn to enter the hospital, it is too late to buy coverage at any price. That's why this protection was designed to give you the "extra help" you need — when you need it.

NO AGE LIMIT — NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION
NO SALESMAN WILL CALL

PAYS a maximum of $10,400.00 cash for each hospital stay!

PAYS in addition to any other companies' coverage you have —even Medicare

PAYS $100.00-a-week extra cash starting your first day in hospital!

PAYS a maximum of $6,240.00 extra cash for every covered child!

PAYS $100.00-a-week extra cash for pregnancy!

PAYS a maximum of $41,600.00 if an accident puts you and your spouse in the hospital at the same time!

PAYS a maximum of $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of limbs or eyesight!

PAYS cash for every new confinement of every covered family member!

PAYS all cash direct to you (NOT to doctor or hospital)!

PAYS all cash 100% tax-free — to spend as you wish!

GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE. At last, a hospital plan that guarantees never to cancel your protection.

24 When may I apply for this protection?

The question is not "when may" but "when must." YOU ABSOLUTELY MUST APPLY BY THE DATE SHOWN ON THE ENROLLMENT FORM ON THIS PAGE. YOUR 25¢ AND COMPLETED FORM MUST BE POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN THAT DATE OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED.

25 When will my Policy arrive?

Right away! We mail your Policy as soon as we accept your Enrollment Form and 25¢. Examine it in the privacy of your own home. It's a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover — THERE IS NO "FINE PRINT"! If you wish, show it to someone you trust—perhaps your lawyer, acountant or banker. Better still, show it to your own insurance man—even though he may very well be working for another insurance company. If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests at heart. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere — at any price.

26 What if I change my mind—can I get my money back?

You certainly can! Even after you mail your Enrollment Form . . . even after you examine your Policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish . . . even after all this, you are still free to change your mind. Simply return the Policy within 15 days after you receive it, and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind, you will be protected by $100.00-a-week extra cash benefits from the Effective Date on the Policy —even if you finally decide to return the Policy and get your quarter back. But we don't think you'll want your quarter back. We think, instead, you'll want to continue your valuable protection at Presidential's amazing low rates.

27 How much does this protection cost after the first month?

Here's a rate chart that shows you the exact monthly cost to cover yourself your spouse, and any adult dependents. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue only one policy of this type per person. Each adult, 16 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Renewal Premium
16-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-59	only $4.95
60-69	only $5.95
70-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

Only $2 more covers all your dependent, unmarried children . . . from the age of 1 month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add $1 more to that, and you're completely covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month— at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

28 What should I know about your company?

Dunne's Insurance Report, the world's largest reporting service, gives Presidential a rating of "A+ EXCELLENT." There is no higher rating a company can attain.

29 How do I enroll?

If what you have read on this page makes good honest sense to you . . . if you find yourself agreeing with thousands of other Americans who welcome this sensible way to save money by "insuring themselves" — then by all means act on your own good instincts and mail the Enrollment Form with 25¢ now! Please act without delay. NO SALESMAN WILL CALL. And you'll have plenty of time after you mail the Enrollment Form to change your mind. (There's a money-back guarantee with no obligation.) Please mail it NOW — because once accident or illness strikes—it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any price. Remember, the sooner you mail your form, the sooner your protection will start. So act today—before anything unexpected happens.

Here are the questions you'd normally ask your insurance man. But we answered them instead . . . so you would be able to insure yourself, right from this page. (You'll be amazed how much it saves you.)

1 When can I collect up to $10,400.00?

Every time you are confined to the hospital you collect $100.00 a week to a maximum of $10,400.00 cash. Not just once, but for every new confinement! And you collect cash not just for yourself but for every covered member of your family — including spouse and children!

2 How can I collect up to $10,010.00 extra cash—if I'm 65 or over?

If you are 65 or over, we pay you $70.00-a-week extra cash for the first 13 weeks and $100.00 weekly while continuously hospitalized afterwards, in addition to Medicare benefits. This is extra. You collect for each illness or injury—each time you go to the hospital. Right up to a maximum benefit of $10,010.00 extra cash!

3 When do I collect up to $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?

We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if it happens as long as 90 days after the accident. This is all extra money. You collect it on top of any other benefits we pay you. Not just for yourself but for every covered member of your family!

4 What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?

Don't worry. You still collect to the maximum of $10,400.00. And if you've already resumed full normal activities for just 180 days—we call it a "new confinement". Which means you can collect all over again, up to another maximum of $10,400.00!

5 If I collect more money than my medical bills cost—do I keep the extra cash?

You certainly do! We pay you $100.00 cash every week—even if your bills add up to just part of that amount! So it's possible to come out of the hospital with extra cash — AND IT'S ALL 100% TAX FREE!

6 If I already have some health insurance—will you pay me anyway?

Of course! Never mind what you collect from Blue Cross, or Major Medical, or Workmen's Compensation, or any insurance you may have with other companies. (Even for the same illness!) We still pay you $100.00-a-week extra cash income to the maximum of $10,400.00 cash. So if other insurance has taken care of some—or even all—of your medical bills . . . you still have that extra cash income from Presidential.

7 Do you pay me cash for my children, too?

Yes! And not just once but every time they are hospitalized, too! When you have Coverage for Children you receive $600.00-a-week extra cash to a maximum of $6,240.00 for each dependent child between the ages of 1 month and 19 years.

8 Will "future" children be protected, too?

They surely will! And at no extra cost. When you have Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits), newborn children are automatically covered as soon as they are one month old.

9 Will you pay me $100.00-a-week cash—even for maternity care?

Yes, even when pregnancy requires hospitalization. Many health plans DON'T cover maternity expense. But under this Plan with Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits, you collect $100.00 a week for each pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents must be enrolled in the Plan for the entire pregnancy.)

10 Are there times I might collect as much as $20,800.00 . . . as much as $41,600.00?

Yes, there are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you but for every covered member of your family. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once . . . or even both of you more than once . . . or if a child gets sick or has an accident — you could end up collecting $20,800.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. Presidential gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT: If you and your covered spouse are in an accident and both of you have to go to the hospital at the same time, Presidential pays double cash amounts. You collect not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. Your spouse collects not $100.00, but $200.00 a week. That's $400.00-a-week extra cash. Yes, $400.00 you can count on week after week—for as long as both of you remain in the hospital . . . for 104 weeks (and to a maximum of $41,600.00 worth of benefits!) if necessary.

11 Can I spend my cash benefits any way I please?

Certainly! You can even put them in the bank to replace savings spent while you were laid up in the hospital without income. It's your money — and all the cash comes direct to you, not to the doctor or hospital. (Unless, of course, you ask us to.)

PAYS all cash 100% tax-free — to spend as you wish!

GUARANTEED RENEWABLE FOR LIFE. At last, a hospital plan that guarantees never to cancel your protection.

24 When may I apply for this protection?

The question is not "when may" but "when must." YOU ABSOLUTELY MUST APPLY BY THE DATE SHOWN ON THE ENROLLMENT FORM ON THIS PAGE. YOUR 25¢ AND COMPLETED FORM MUST BE POSTMARKED NO LATER THAN THAT DATE OR IT CANNOT BE ACCEPTED.

25 When will my Policy arrive?

Right away! We mail your Policy as soon as we accept your Enrollment Form and 25¢. Examine it in the privacy of your own home. It's a very short document and you'll be pleasantly surprised to discover — THERE IS NO "FINE PRINT"! If you wish, show it to someone you trust—perhaps your lawyer, acountant or banker. Better still, show it to your own insurance man—even though he may very well be working for another insurance company. If he is a personal friend, he has your best interests at heart. So you can believe him when he tells you there is no better bargain available anywhere — at any price.

26 What if I change my mind—can I get my money back?

You certainly can! Even after you mail your Enrollment Form . . . even after you examine your Policy in your own home and talk it over with anyone you wish . . . even after all this, you are still free to change your mind. Simply return the Policy within 15 days after you receive it, and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind, you will be protected by $100.00-a-week extra cash benefits from the Effective Date on the Policy —even if you finally decide to return the Policy and get your quarter back. But we don't think you'll want your quarter back. We think, instead, you'll want to continue your valuable protection at Presidential's amazing low rates.

27 How much does this protection cost after the first month?

Here's a rate chart that shows you the exact monthly cost to cover yourself your spouse, and any adult dependents. Naturally, at these low rates, we can issue only one policy of this type per person. Each adult, 18 or over, pays the rate shown for his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Renewal Premium
18-44	only $3.45
45-49	only $3.95
50-54	only $4.45
55-59	only $4.95
60-69	only $5.95
70-74	only $6.95
75 and over	only $8.95

Only $2 more covers all your dependent, unmarried children . . . from the age of 1 month through 18 years. And then, if you wish, just add $1 more to that, and you're completely covered for Maternity Benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown here (for your age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

28 What should I know about your company?

Dunne's Insurance Report, the world's largest reporting service, gives Presidential a rating of "A+ EXCELLENT." There is no higher rating a company can attain.

29 How do I enroll?
